THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Every day across the state, people are in touch with the University of Illinois. In the public schools, students and teachers are sharing science information on the College of Education's computerized Science Network; professional engineers are studying advanced techniques through satellite and videotaped instruction offered by the College of Engineering; police officers and fire fighters are putting into practice the skills they learned at the University's Police Training and Fire Service institutes; and legislators and business executives are consulting University experts on issues ranging from consumer safety to capital expansion.

Too often we limit our understanding of the University to "four years in college." Acquiring knowledge is a lifelong process, and much of the teaching and learning takes place off campus. Through the Cooperative Extension Service, for example, the University manages programs in agriculture, urban and rural revitalization, youth development, and more—taking knowledge into homes and work places throughout the state and serving an estimated 700,000 citizens annually. Through the Office of Continuing Education and Public Service, the University offers regular academic courses off campus and via correspondence, and maintains professional development programs with business and industry, social agencies, schools, professional societies, and government officials.

Along with teaching and public service, the University of Illinois focuses on research. Here the traditional sciences and humanities contribute both new discoveries and new interpretations of existing knowledge. One stunning research breakthrough occasionally leads to other discoveries, such as when the theory of superconductivity and the discovery of transistors led to magnetic resonance imaging—technologies pioneered by University professors and now used widely for medical diagnoses and an array of other practical applications. More often the research contributes pieces to a larger puzzle. One answer opens the door to new questions, and less dramatic discoveries accrue over a period of time. A five-year comprehensive study in the 1980s, for example, collected an enormous amount of detailed data from Soviet émigrés about the Soviet Union; the information is expected to yield results well into the 1990s. As another example, the countless small research advances at the University's College of Agriculture helped place the United States among the world's leading food exporters.

Where it is possible campus facilities serve both academic and public uses. A major center for the arts, the campus attracts dozens of nationally and internationally renowned artists each year to its widely acclaimed Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Designed by alumnus Max Abramovitz, and architect of New York City's Lincoln Center, the facility has four indoor theaters and an outdoor amphitheater. Together, they host more than 300 performances each year, including those by major symphony orchestras, classical and modern ballet companies and individual artists, such as Luciano Pavarotti, Jean-Pierre Rampal and Isaac Stern.

The University also supports three major museums: the Krannert Museum, second only to the Art Institute of Chicago among Illinois Public art museums; the World Heritage Museum; and the Museum of Natural History.

The University's Willard Airport complex houses the Institute of Aviation and offers air connections from central Illinois to locations throughout the country. And facilities such as residence halls and sports arenas find off-season uses hosting conferences, high school marching bands, and civic events.

Central to all of the University's work is the library, a prized campus resource and one of the best library systems in the world. Its size of more than 14 million items and ready access to holdings through the computerized catalog attract scholars from all over the world. Several dozen specialized collections offer students and professors in-depth research support and contain a number of items that are simply not available elsewhere. Only Harvard and Yale have larger collections.

Taken together, the professors and students at the University of Illinois are an impressive knowledge resource. Undergraduates bring fresh perspectives the University as they begin looking at facts and exploring possibilities. About 26,000 highly qualified undergraduates enroll in 10 colleges at Illinois. The divisions include the College of Agriculture, College of Applied Life Studies, College of Commerce and Business Administration, College of Communications, College of Education, College of Engineering, College of Fine and Applied Arts, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Institute of Aviation and School of Social Work.

In a recent freshman class, students in the middle 50 percent had ACT scores between 24 and 28.

In addition to their own in-depth studies, graduate students often help teach and advise undergraduates on their concerns, even as they work with more established researchers to deepen their own knowledge.

And professors at Illinois, among the most respected scholars in the world, bring the results of their ongoing research into the classroom and make their results known to a wide audience through consulting, lectures, and publishing.

A measure of the Illinois faculty's excellence is the number of professors honored by prestigious institutions. More than 70 faculty members belong to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Science, or the National Academy of Engineering. Together the students and professors participate in the ancient exercise of transferring knowledge—and at a world-class university like Illinois, they're helping to define the boundaries of knowledge itself.

The Illini Union looks out over the Quad and Foellinger Auditorium.

Illinois graduates excel in every professional field from sciences to business to politics to the arts. Among Illinois' graduates are film critic and television star Roger Ebert, astronaut Steve Nagel, Walt Disney Studios president Rich Frank, former labor secretary Lynn Martin and Pittsburgh Pirates president Mark Sauer.

Since its founding in 1867, the University of Illinois has been teaching students to transfer advanced knowledge to a new generation; undertaking research to explore the outer edges of human knowledge; and performing public service so that everyone enjoys the results of current scholarship and new discoveries. Over the years, an enormous number of people have played some part in the University of Illinois. That would please the educational and political leaders of the last century, who envisioned a new kind of university founded on the democratic principle that everyone should benefit from access to higher education and from the University's resources.

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has earned a reputation as an institution of international stature. Its distinguished faculty, outstanding resources, breadth of academic programs and research disciplines and large and diverse student body constitute an educational community ideally suited for scholarship and research.

Located in east-central Illinois in the two cities of Urbana-Champaign (population 110,000), the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is the state of Illinois' flagship public university.

The Illini Union, at one end of the Quad, contains a bowling alley, pool tables, video games, a computer room, cafeteria and several meeting rooms.

CAMPUS LIFE

Learning and participating are important outside, as well as inside, the classroom. And at the University of Illinois, the opportunities are as limitless in extracurricular arenas as they are in academic arenas.

HOUSING

First-rate residence halls with good food, the nation's largest fraternity and sorority system, independent housing and a wide range of apartments provide broad choices of where and how to live.

ACTIVITIES

More than 700 student organizations provide an outlet for every interest, from the philanthropies of Volunteer Illini Projects to the rock music of student radio station WPGU. There are more than 40 student organizations for minority interests.

SPORTS AND RECREATION

The Intramural-Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes on any campus, with four gymnasiums, 23 handball/racquetball courts, weight and exercise equipment, indoor and outdoor pools, tennis courts and more. The U of I has one of the most comprehensive intramural sports programs in the nation. If the great outdoors is more to your liking, the university's 1,500-acre Allerton Park includes sculpture gardens, formal gardens and natural woodlands.

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

The domed Assembly Hall seats more than 16,000 for rock concerts, ice shows, circuses, Broadway musicals and, of course, Illinois basketball. Beautifully restored Foellinger Auditorium on the Quad seats 1,750 for concerts, films and speakers. And the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, holds four theaters for plays, dance and concerts by such famed names as the Chicago Symphony and Itzhak Perlman.

Bill Cosby is just one of the many entertainers who have appeared at the Assembly Hall.

OFF CAMPUS

Champaign and Urbana, with a population of 110,000, offer shopping, restaurants, movie theaters, night spots and many other big-city amenities. Yet, they retain a Midwestern college-town atmosphere.

The Intramural and Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes of its type on any college campus.

ILLINOIS' COMMITMENT TO SUCCESS

The goal of each sports program within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Illinois is to strive toward success.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has taken a comprehensive approach to the success of the student-athlete. The PACE (Personal Achievement in Career and Education) program is designed to meet the total needs of the student-athlete. Among the needs which must be served are: 1) the student's objectives as a scholar; 2) the student's requirements as an athlete, and 3) the student's personal goals as an individual.

This comprehensive balance of academic excellence, athletic achievement and personal well-being is stressed daily by the administrative staff and coaches. Inevitably, a student-athlete's playing days will end, but with the help of UI's unique program, each Fighting Illini athlete will be fully prepared for career and personal challenges ahead.

Among the elements stressed by the academic services department to assure student-athlete success are counseling and tutorial services, a monitoring program and a state-of-the-art computer laboratory.

Athletically, the University of Illinois has long supported a broad-based sports program. Its coaching staff and facilities are among the nation's best. The UI's support units include excellent staffs for recruiting, equipment, facility maintenance, fund raising, publicity and promotion. Its sports medicine staff not only assists student-athletes in strength training and conditioning, but also in personal health maintenance.

As important as the UI's commitment is to the student-athlete's performance in the classroom and on the field, it also considers the individual's spiritual and emotional needs, and, his/her career objectives. Fighting Illini student-athletes are afforded the opportunity to attend a variety of seminars during their collegiate experience, helping them enhance their post-athletic lives. Among the seminars offered are those in career placement, financial planning, time and stress management, sexual harassment, drug and alcohol education and player/agent relations.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics also sponsors a student athletic advisory board, which is made up of representatives from all 17 Fighting Illini intercollegiate athletic teams.

The strong relationships built within the vast Illinois alumni networking system provide excellent opportunities for all student-athletes, whether it be for summer jobs, internships or, ultimately, in career placement after graduation. Once the individual's career is established, the DIA asks for his/her participation in a follow-up program that allows current student-athletes to benefit from their predecessors' experiences. Former student-athletes are asked to return to campus for seminars and discussions that serve to provide guidance and understanding for future graduates.

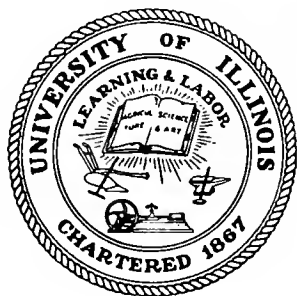

While at the University of Illinois, student-athletes are encouraged to participate in the DIA's community-outreach program. They might serve as informal instructors in the classroom, or assist teachers on the playground and on field trips. Numerous other community-outreach programs are already in place for UI's student-athletes, including a speaker's bureau.

This commitment to success is not a one-time event for UI student-athletes, but rather an on-going practice.

Forward Tom Michael spends time working in the athletic study hall.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Gloria Jackson Bacon
Chicago

Kenneth R. Boyle
Chatham

Judith Ann Calder
Glencoe

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois exercises final authority over the administration and governance of the University, within limits fixed by the Illinois Constitution and state law.

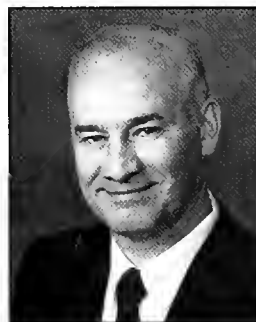

Trustees are elected statewide by the citizens of Illinois in November general elections. The nine elected members serve six-year staggered terms; three terms expire and are filled every two years. Board members serve without pay.

The governor of Illinois is an exofficio member of the board. Two students, one from each campus, serve single-year terms; student trustee votes are advisory only. The student trustees for 1993-94 are: Patrick Riley (Chicago) and Julia C. Huff (Urbana-Champaign).

The president of the board is elected annually, in January, from among the elected trustees. The current president is Judith Calder.

ADMINISTRATION

President Stanley O. Ikenberry

Stanley O. Ikenberry was appointed President of the University of Illinois in 1979. Since then he has advanced the University's triple mission of teaching, research and public service in the pursuit of the goal of making the University of Illinois the best public University in America. His leadership at Illinois is marked by an exceedingly strong commitment to the human resources of the University and to the humanizing value of the University for society.

Ikenberry has responsibility for all aspects of University operations, including campuses at Urbana-Champaign and Chicago, an enrollment of about 60,000 students, and an annual operating budget of more than $1.5 billion.

Ikenberry received his doctorate in higher education research from Michigan State University in 1960. He taught at Michigan State and at West Virginia University before joining the Center for the Study of Higher Education at Pennsylvania State University in 1969. He had risen to senior vice president when he was named president of the University of Illinois. He holds honorary degrees from Michigan State University, Millikin University, Illinois College and Rush University. He is also an honorary alumnus of Penn State.

A holder of several corporate and civic board memberships, he is past chairman of the American Council on Education and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He is vice chair of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and vice chair of the executive committee of the Association of American Universities. Ikenberry led the Big Ten Presidents Council from 1987-90 and was the Big Ten representative to the National Collegiate Athletic Association President's Commission.

Ikenberry lives with his wife, Judith, in the President's House in Urbana. The Ikenberrys have three sons.

Chancellor Michael T. Aiken

Michael T. Aiken became the sixth chancellor of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign July 1, 1993. Aiken is an internationally recognized sociologist who has specialized in the analysis of organizations and issues of community power and social change.

Reared in Mississippi, Aiken is a 1954 graduate of the University of Mississippi. He received his master's degree and Ph.D in sociology from the University of Michigan. From 1963 to 1984, he held faculty and administrative posts at the University of Wisconsin, with time away at Columbia University, two Belgian universities, and Washington University in St. Louis.

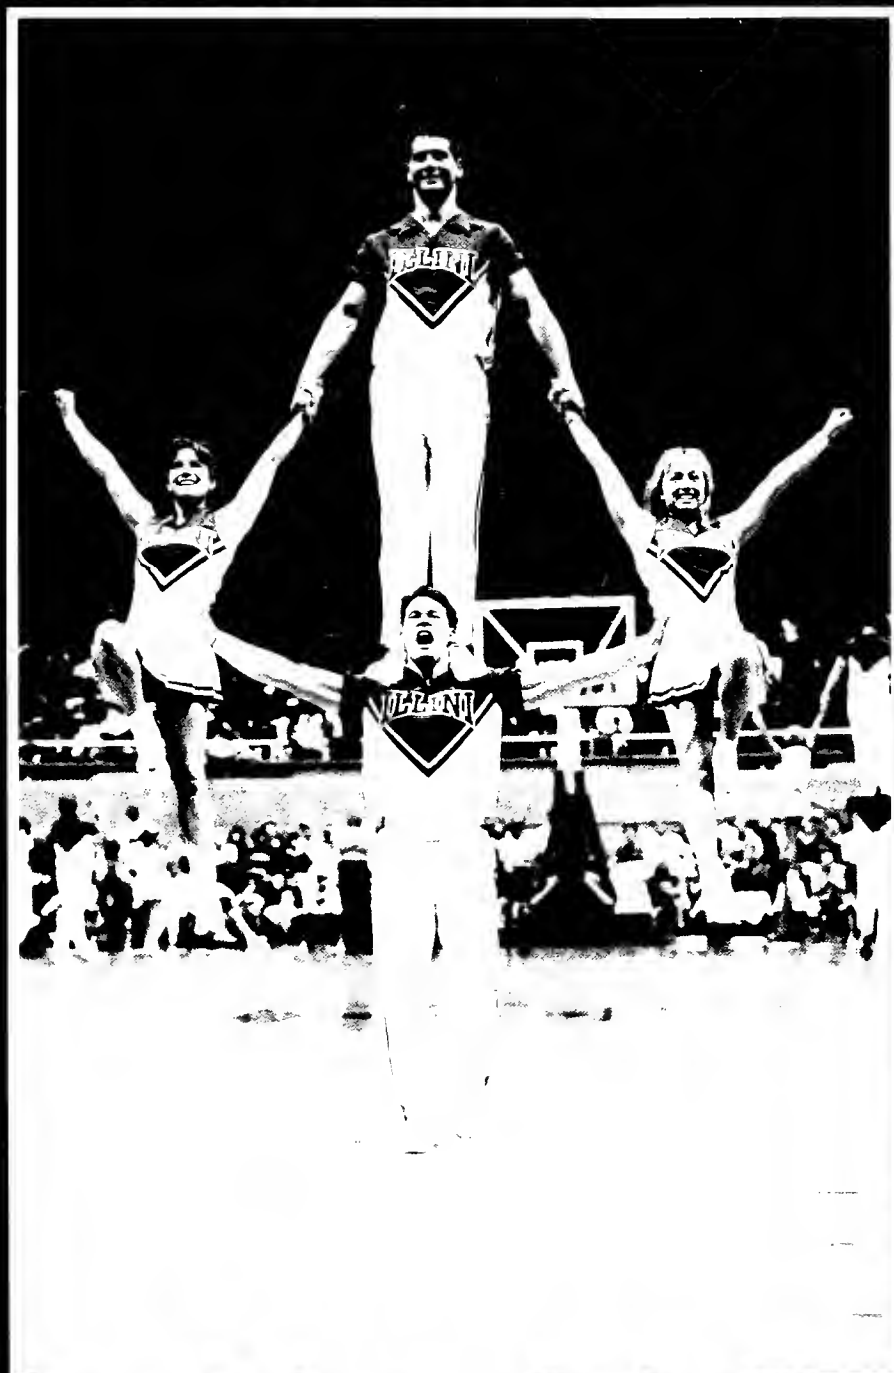

Before coming to Illinois, he was provost at the University of Pennsylvania, where he also had served as a faculty member in sociology, chairman in sociology, and dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

He is widely published and has been active in professional organizations, including the Midwest Sociological Society, American Sociological Association, International Sociological Association and the Council for European Studies.

Aiken's wife, Catherine Comet, is the musical director of the Grand Rapids, Mich., Symphony Orchestra. The couple has a 16-year-old daughter.

DIVISION OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The forerunner of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA), the University of Illinois Athletic Association, was chartered in 1892 as a not-for-profit corporation by the state of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring the UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The DIA officially began operations July 1, 1989.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final say regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and approval of major appointments. Those decisions rest with the University of Illinois Board of Trustees.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 18 members, 15 of whom are voting members (eight faculty, four alumni and two students and one trustee) and three non-voting (ex-officio) members. The three non-voting members are from the University administration.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics receives neither state tax dollars nor student fees. The University of Illinois is able to fully fund the NCAA-maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in its 17 sport programs, as well as maintain top-notch facilities and coaching staffs, with revenues from three major sources. Those sources are: gate receipts from football and men's basketball, television and radio rights for those two sports, and donations to the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund.

The Assembly Hall, Memorial Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center, Illinois Field, and the Outdoor Track and Field Stadium are on the south end of campus.

The FISF contributions provide the 350 scholarships in nine men's and eight women's sports at an average annual cost of $9,848 for in-state tuition and $14,100 for out-of-state tuition.

Athletic Facilities

In 1993, the DIA completed work on an $18 million renovation of Memorial Stadium, which began after the 1991 home football season.

Football is not the only athletic program receiving benefits from new and improved facilities. The most recent addition to the University of Illinois athletic physical plant is the Atkins Tennis Center, which opened in November 1991.

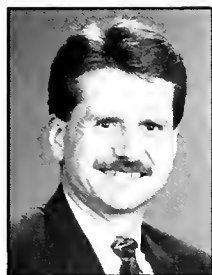

The baseball and track teams will begin their seventh seasons next spring in their respective facilities.

Illinois Field is a first-rate, 1,500-seat baseball facility and is targeted for a future expansion to accommodate 5,000 spectators.

The nationally acclaimed track teams are primed for another year of competition in their $2.2 million outdoor stadium, with future plans for a pressbox and seating for up to 12,000. The Armory, the indoor track and field facility, underwent $1.5 million of renovations in 1992. A new track was installed, as was permanent seating.

The men's basketball team plays its games at the 16,000-seat Assembly Hall, just south of Memorial Stadium, while the women play at both the Assembly Hall and Huff Hall. Huff Hall also is the home of Illinois volleyball and wrestling and is in the midst of a step-by-step renewal process designed to upgrade it as a practice and competition site.

THE ASSEMBLY HALL

There is just one facility that could host not only Fighting Illini Basketball, but also the Ice Capades, Jay Leno, Whitney Houston, Huey Lewis and the News, Stevie Wonder, M.C. Hammer, Ray Charles, Amy Grant, Broadway plays and Bill Cosby. That place is the Assembly Hall, which celebrated the 30th anniversary of its first basketball game last March.

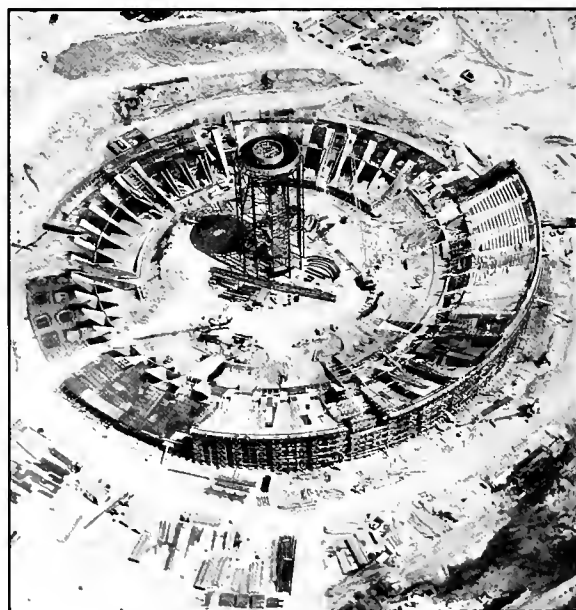

One of the world's most unique arenas, the Assembly Hall has won world-wide acclaim for its architectural design—a design that has been used as a model for more than 125 buildings around the globe. The Assembly Hall was built between 1959 and 1963 at a cost of $8.35 million. The structure consists of two concrete bowls placed face to face; the 400-foot diameter of the dome makes it the largest of its kind in the world.

Its circular seating arrangement makes the Assembly Hall an ideal place to watch an event; it gives each of the spectators (potentially 16,321 for basketball) an excellent, unobstructed view of the exciting action on the court. That capacity has been stretched to overflowing on 45 occasions. The all-time attendance mark was set March 1, 1987, when 16,793 Fighting Illini fans enjoyed a victory over eventual national champion Indiana. Prior to its first game in the Assembly Hall—March 4, 1963—the Fighting Illini played at Huff Hall.

Illinois has enjoyed great success in the Assembly Hall. In 31 seasons the team has won 76 percent of the games it has played (311-96 record). In fact, in a recent two-year period, the Fighting Illini went on a streak of 31 wins there.

In 1992-93, Illinois averaged more than 12,000 fans per home game for the 14th consecutive season; 213,949 fans passed through the turnstiles. In 1970-71, the

The Assembly Hall was constructed between 1959-63 at a cost of $8.35 million and celebrated its 30th anniversary last year.

Assembly Hall accommodated an NCAA record-setting 177,408 spectators (since broken), when all 11 home games were sellouts.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS RON GUENTHER

Ronald E. (Ron) Guenther, a former student-athlete and administrator at the University of Illinois, was named as the Fighting Illini's eighth Director of Athletics on May 14, 1992. He replaced former AD and head football coach John Mackovic who left the UI in December of 1991 to become head football coach at the University of Texas.

"I am and always will be an Illini," Guenther says. "Because I've earned two degrees here, I want Illinois to have the best program with the highest degree of integrity that we can put in place. The University of Illinois should be the model for the nation."

Guenther's first year as director was sprinkled with numerous success stories:

- Ten different Illinois squads improved their finish in the Big Ten championships standings.
- In the classroom during the 1992-93 school year, nearly 100 Illini athletes posted "B" averages or better to earn Academic All-Big Ten honors.
- The initiation of a corporate sponsorship program for the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA).

Guenther assumed the directorship of the DIA following nearly two years with the UI Foundation, where he served from September of 1990 through June of 1992. Guenther's title with the Foundation was Director of Major Gifts.

He was a partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago area investments and marketing firm from March of 1989 until he returned to the University.

From June of 1988 to March of 1989, Guenther was UI's Interim Director of Athletics for External Operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps. He was responsible for negotiating Illinois' bid to the 1988 All American Bowl in Birmingham, Ala.

Guenther spent the previous three years as associate athletic director for development, coordinating UI's Campaign for Excellence in Athletics. That campaign provided the impetus towards upgrading the University's athletic plant for the first time in nearly 60 years. Among the facilities that were targeted and ultimately completed were stadia for baseball and track and field, the Atkins Tennis Center, plus construction of the current football office/training complex. Guenther was instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling $15 million.

From May of 1983 to June of 1985, he served as Illinois' assistant athletic director for Chicago operations.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as NCC's vice president of development and public affairs. Guenther helped design and implement NCC's successful $15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, he helped the Cardinals compile a record of 23-12-2, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther coached at Boston College from 1971-74, developing nine National Football League players during his tenure as offensive line coach.

From 1968-71, he was a teacher and coach in football, wrestling and track for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

At Illinois, under Head Coach Pete Elliott, Guenther was an all-star offensive guard for the Fighting Illini football team. Among the honors he won during his senior season in 1966 were team Most Valuable Player honors, second-team All-Big Ten laurels, Academic All-Big Ten honors and the George Huff Award for academic proficiency at the UI.

Guenther, born October 3, 1945, earned two degrees from the University of Illinois, a bachelor of science degree in physical education in 1967 and a master of science degree in administration in 1968.

HEAD COACH LOU HENSON

Lou Henson, the 1993 Big Ten Coach of the Year, is one of the most respected and successful coaches in college basketball. The 61-year-old Okay, Okla., native enters his 32nd season of college coaching as the sixth-winningest (609 victories) active NCAA Division I coach.

Henson's 600th win came last season, when the Illini defeated Penn State, 82-66, Jan. 21 at the Assembly Hall. The victory made him only the 16th coach in NCAA Division I history to achieve that feat and helped him earn nomination to the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame last summer.

After guiding Illinois to its most successful basketball season ever (record 31 wins and NCAA Final Four appearance) in 1989, Henson is one of just nine coaches to have taken teams from two different schools to that late March-early April extravaganza.

In addition, Henson has proven he can win year in and year out, regardless of the perceived talent level, and regardless of outside expectations. For example, prior to the 1990-91 season, most college basketball observers had picked the Fighting Illini to finish eighth in the Big Ten, but Henson and his staff guided their team to a tie for third place in the league race. And last season, the team repeated the feat under similar circumstances.

Henson's success has not been limited to his stay in Champaign-Urbana. He has a proven track record wherever he has lent his expertise. His teams have either tied or set school records for victories (in a season) seven times. It is no accident that Henson has fielded postseason tournament caliber teams 19 times, including 13 of the last 14 years, and that his collegiate teams have averaged 20 wins per season.

Henson's basketball career began in his home town. After taking his skills to Connors (Okla.) Junior College and New Mexico State (from where he graduated in 1955), he moved to a less familiar vantage point, the sidelines. He ventured immediately into coaching, spending six seasons at Las Cruces High School in New Mexico, where he served as junior varsity coach for two years, before being promoted to head coach. While at LCHS, Henson compiled 145 wins against just 23 losses, capturing three consecutive state championships along the way.

Hardin-Simmons gave Henson his first chance to coach at the collegiate level, and he seized the opportunity by putting together 20-victory seasons on two occasions. Those 20-win seasons sandwiched a 17-win campaign, and each was built around a forward out of Syracuse, N.Y., named Dick Nagy, who now is a 14-year veteran on Henson's coaching staff at Illinois.

Henson's fourth and final season at Hardin-Simmons ended at 20-6. That same year (1966), New Mexico State was finishing at 4-22. The Aggies called upon Henson to rebuild their program, and the next season he produced a 15-11 slate and took the team on the first of six trips to the NCAA tournament.

Of those appearances, the 1970 season was the most fruitful; New Mexico State, led by All-America guard Jimmy Collins, who also serves now as an Illinois assistant coach, finished the season with 27 wins and three losses. The final loss was to eventual-champion, UCLA, in the semifinals of the NCAA tournament. It was the third consecutive time the Bruins had knocked off Henson's Aggies.

New Mexico went on to win its final game against St. Bonaventure, and finished third in the tournament. Members of that 1970 quintet included three players who made names for themselves in the NBA: Sam Lacey (Kansas City Kings), Charlie Criss (Atlanta Hawks) and Collins (Chicago Bulls).

On top of the four 20-win seasons at New Mexico State, Henson won 19 games twice and had only one losing season. Over his 31-year career, Henson has had just four losing seasons. Within two years of the first three of them, he had either won 20 games or led his team to a

Despite the three years of disappointment John Wooden's teams handed Henson at tournament time, it was Wooden's retirement that paved the way for Henson's arrival in Champaign. UCLA decided to replace Wooden with then-Illinois coach Gene Bartow. Henson was chosen to fill the vacancy left by Bartow, and rebuild a team that finished 8-18 the previous year. He was the third coach in as many years for Illinois.

Henson's combined record for

Under Lou Henson, the Fighting Illini:

- made their first NCAA Final Four appearance (in 1989) since 1952.
- won 20 or more games for nine consecutive seasons, 1982-1991.
- made 11-consecutive postseason appearances (1980-90), nine of which were in the NCAA tournament.
- made him the 16th coach in NCAA history to have won 600 games in a career; No. 600 came Jan. 21, 1993, at the Assembly Hall against Penn State.
- have produced a 174-42 (.806) non-conference record.
- put together 11 of Illinois' 17 20-win basketball seasons, and 11 consecutive seasons with 10 or more Big Ten wins.
- have won an average of 23 games per season over the last 10 years.
- have sent several current players to the NBA. Those currently on NBA rosters are Eddie Johnson (Charlotte Hornets), Derek Harper (Dallas Mavericks), Ken Norman (Milwaukee Bucks), Nick Anderson (Orlando Magic), Kendall Gill (Seattle Supersonics), and Marcus Liberty (Denver Nuggets).
- made him the winningest coach in the history of Illinois basketball.
- made him 1993 Big Ten Coach of the Year.

his first three seasons at Illinois was just two games over .500. From then on, only once has he finished under .500.

Former assistant Tony Yates made recruiting inroads to Chicago, and Jimmy Collins has strengthened those ties. This has all provided the foundation for a program that is generally considered one of the best in the nation, year-in and year-out.

With the NIT final four appearance in 1980, a Big Ten co-championship in 1984 (after which he was voted ESPN's National Coach of the Year), 10 NCAA tournament appearances, including the Final Four trip to Seattle in 1989, the program has become renowned for its consistently strong teams.

Henson has always been a stickler for defense. His 1966 New Mexico State squad held its opponents to 39 percent shooting from the field. For six of the last nine seasons, his teams have been either first or second in the Big Ten in at least one of the two defensive statistical categories (field goal percentage or points allowed). Since he has led the Fighting Illini program, the opponents' combined field goal percentage is 44.4, while the Illini have shot 48.8.

Henson and his wife, Mary, live in Champaign and have three daughters, Lisa, Lori and Leigh Anne. Their son, Lou Jr., was killed in an automobile accident Nov. 20, 1992.

What They're Saying About Lou Henson

"Lou Henson has achieved virtually everything his profession has to offer . . . During one eight-season stretch, from 1984-91, Lou Henson ranked first among Big Ten coaches in number of wins in conference games alone. Based on the fact that there were high-profile coaches with more talent in the league during this period, the achievement is noteworthy indeed."

- Dave Dorr, St. Louis Post-Dispatch

"Turning programs around has always been Lou Henson's way of life."

- Presley Askew, former coach
New Mexico State University

"Lou Henson is one of the most respected and successful coaches in college basketball."

- Jerry Colangelo, president and CEO Phoenix Suns

"I have seen firsthand Lou Henson's ability to get the best out of his players both on the court and afterwards. He is more than simply a basketball coach. He is a great teacher who happens to coach basketball. And a teacher's influence never ends . . . Throughout his coaching career, he has done more with less than any other coach in the game."

- Jerry Schnay, Chicago Tribune

"Coach Henson is not only a winner, but a coach-technician and an excellent role model, not only for his students and other coaches, but for the University and community as well."

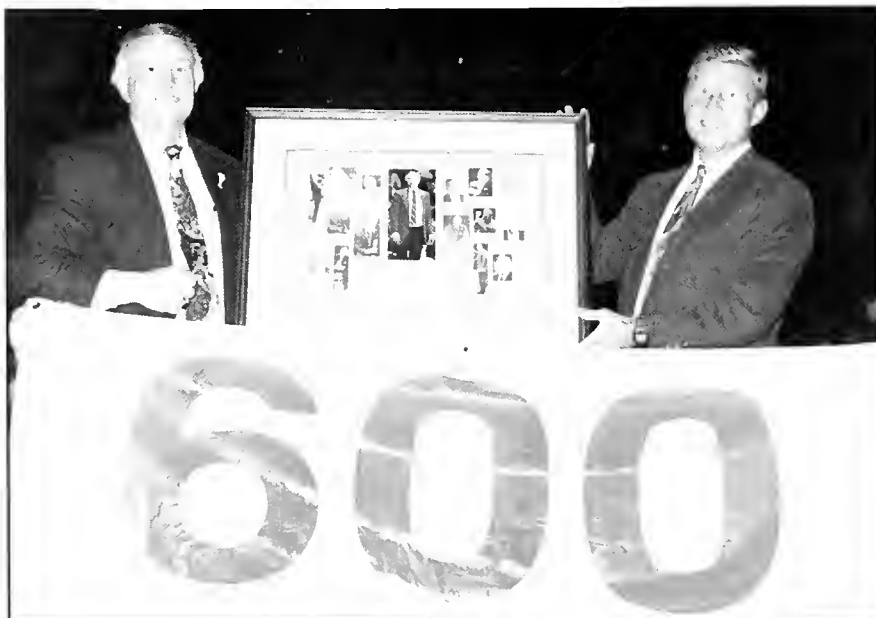

- Daniel J. Perrino,
Professor Emeritus, Univ. of Illinois

ILLINOIS BASKETBALL STAFF

Dick Nagy

Assistant Coach

From Hardin-Simmons to the NCAA Final Four, Dick Nagy has been with Lou Henson both as a player and as an assistant coach. In fact, since he rejoined Henson in 1979, the Fighting Illini have played in postseason tournaments 12 of 14 years and put together a string of 11 consecutive postseason appearances.

Nagy, a Syracuse, N.Y., native, began his long association with Henson when he was convinced by the future Illinois mentor to attend Hardin-Simmons. Nagy, who had been out of high school for three years and had played independent basketball in Syracuse, led the Cowboys to a pair of 20-6 records in two of the three seasons he and Henson were together. After Henson departed Hardin-Simmons for New Mexico State, Nagy captained his second Cowboys team, and then went on to serve as an assistant coach at the school for two more years while earning a master's degree.

Nagy later moved on to start the basketball program at Barton County Community College in Great Bend, Kan., in 1969. After the 1976 season, Nagy moved into private business before accepting the head coaching job at East Central Community College in Union, Mo.

In addition to his coaching (primarily with the inside players) and recruiting duties, Nagy is the coordinator of Illinois' highly-successful summer basketball camp.

He has two children, Robin and Scott, and a grandson, Matthew. Nagy and his wife, Terri, live in Champaign.

Jimmy Collins

Assistant Coach

A former first-round draft pick of the Chicago Bulls, Jimmy Collins rejoined Lou Henson in 1983 as a full-time assistant.

Collins was a star guard at New Mexico State under Henson; he averaged 20.1 points per game over his three-year career, leading the Aggies to an NCAA Final Four appearance in 1970. After college he spent two-and-a-half years with the Bulls and finished his playing career with the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association.

Collins was a probation officer in Chicago prior to coming to Illinois. He was also a volunteer coach at St. Thomas School in Chicago, and coordinated summer basketball leagues in the city. Collins has also coached in the pro-college league of Chicago, where he was named Coach of the Year in 1981.

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Collins received his bachelor's degree in journalism from NMSU. Following his pro career, he returned to the Las Cruces campus to serve as a graduate assistant. He returned to Chicago in 1976 to enter private business before joining the probation office in 1977.

His coaching responsibilities with Illinois, in addition to recruiting, lie largely with the development with the guards.

He and his wife, Hettie, have four children, Erica, Kenny, Semaj and Brandi, and live in Champaign.

Mark Coomes

Assistant Coach

In his second stint as an assistant under Lou Henson, Mark Coomes has spent a total of nine years with the Illinois mentor.

A native of Shannon, Ill., Coomes graduated from Western Illinois University in 1974. He went to New Mexico State as a graduate assistant under Henson from 1974-75, earning an M.A. in education management and development in 1975.

Following the 1975 season, Coomes followed Henson to Illinois as a part-time assistant, and stayed there until being named an assistant at Northern Illinois. He was at NIU from 1977-82 before being named head coach at Wabash Valley Community College in Mount Carmel, Ill. He compiled a record of 63-13 in two seasons there and was a two-time NJCAA Region XXIV Coach-of-the-Year.

In 1984, Coomes was named head coach and athletic director at the University of Southern Indiana and led his team to a conference co-championship and an NCAA berth. He returned to Illinois the following season to rejoin Henson.

Coomes' chief coaching responsibilities are in the areas of scouting, developing game plans, and monitoring the academic progress of the players. He also works in developing the perimeter players.

He has two children, Anthony and Andrea, and lives in Champaign.

DIVISION OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS STAFF

Rick Allen
Assistant Athletic Director/Compliance

Rick Allen has served as assistant athletic director since 1987. He is primarily responsible for Big Ten and NCAA rules education and compliance. He also directs summer employment for University athletes and assists with home event management in football and basketball.

Allen earned his undergraduate degree from Cornell College (Iowa) in 1979. He has been with the University of Illinois since 1980, when he worked with marketing/promotions and event management as a graduate intern. He received a master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in 1985.

A native of Onslow, Iowa, Allen and his wife, Julie, have one son and live in Champaign.

Dana Brenner
Associate Director of Athletics

As associate director of athletics, Dana Brenner has been assigned a wide variety of responsibilities, including supervision of the men's basketball, football, and baseball programs. He also oversees the staffs of facility management and the UI golf courses.

Brenner came to Illinois as assistant ticket manager in 1980. He had previously held a similar post at the Cal-State Fullerton. Brenner was promoted to assistant director in charge of events in 1984 before assuming his current role in 1989.

A Lompoc, Calif., native, Brenner graduated from the University of Pacific in 1976. He and his wife, Kathy, live in Champaign with their three daughters.

Rod Cardinal
Athletic Trainer

Rod Cardinal was appointed assistant athletic trainer at the University in July, 1973. In addition to being head basketball trainer, Cardinal also works with football and men's and women's tennis.

Prior to his appointment at Illinois, he served in a similar capacity at the U.S. Military Academy in West Point, N.Y.

A native of Blaine, Minn., Cardinal graduated from Southwest State University in 1971 with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education. He was a student trainer in high school for two years, and a student trainer in college for three years prior to his West Point position. He also played varsity basketball in college.

Cardinal earned a master's degree in 1977 from Illinois in physical education and sports medicine with an additional emphasis in educational administration.

Cardinal, along with his wife, Mary, and their three children reside in Tolono.

David L. Chicoine, Ph.D.
Faculty Representative

David L. Chicoine has served as faculty representative since 1989, and as a member of the Athletic Board since 1988. He is responsible for representing the University at NCAA conventions and dealing with regulations and reforms at the Big Ten level.

Chicoine has been a faculty member at the UI since 1979 and currently heads the Department of Agricultural Economics. Additionally, he is a professor in the Institute of Government and Public Affairs.

Chicoine and his wife, Marcia, live in Champaign.

Lynn Marie Cialoni
Academic Counselor

Lynn Marie Cialoni is in her fifth year as academic counselor at the University of Illinois. In addition to her duties with the basketball team, she also oversees the academic progress of the Fighting Illini football team.

Cialoni received her undergraduate degree in leisure program management from Illinois in 1984. She earned a master's in leisure administration from Illinois in 1987.

Cialoni lives in Champaign.

Terry Cole
Associate Director of Athletics

Terry Cole was named an associate director of athletics for student affairs in August 1993. He had been an assistant director for academic services since 1990.

He is responsible for the planning, development and coordination of academic support programs and services for Illinois athletes in all 17 varsity sports. Cole has worked in the academic services department since 1979, when he was named academic counselor.

He also supervises the training staff.

The East St. Louis, Ill., native received both his master's and undergraduate degrees from Illinois. He and his wife, Elyne, have two children, and live in Champaign.

Andy Dixon
Equipment Manager

Andy Dixon has been the head equipment manager at the UI since 1985. He is responsible for repair and maintenance of athletic equipment used by all Illinois athletes, as well as supervision of six storerooms and seven assistants.

Dixon was an all-state football player at Champaign Central High School, where he earned a scholarship to the University of Wyoming. Following his graduation from Wyoming, Dixon received a tryout with the Dallas Cowboys, before turning toward teaching.

After teaching and coaching for three years in Cheyenne, Wyo., and one year in the Las Vegas, Nev., high school systems, Dixon returned to Champaign to take a post at Illinois as assistant equipment manager. He held that position from July of 1981 to June of 1985.

Dixon and his wife, Cheryl, have two daughters, Whitney and Andrea, and reside in Champaign.

Dike Eddleman
Retired Executive Director/Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund

One of the greatest athletes in Illinois sports history, Dike Eddleman was the executive director of Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund from 1971-1992. He now serves the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as a part-time consultant.

A native of Centralia, Ill., Eddleman earned 11 letters in football, basketball and track while at Illinois. He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1949. Eddleman served as personnel director for Central Soya in Gibson City for 18 years prior to joining the Athletic Association in 1969.

Among Eddleman's many athletic achievements is a silver medal earned in the high jump at the 1948 Olympics. He was a member of the 1947 Rose Bowl team, set a Big Ten punting record of 43.4 yards per kick and was also a member of the 1959 Drake Relays Hall of Fame. In 1990 he was selected to the Illinois High School Association's all-time Basketball team. Eddleman is a member of the National High School Sports Hall of Fame and was the 1983 Varsity "I" Man of the Year. He was also selected to the Illinois All-Century Football Team in November of 1990.

Eddleman and his wife, Teddy, have four children and live in Champaign.

Steven Greene
*Director of Development
—Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund/
Chicago*

Beginning his third year as director of development is 1976 U of I graduate J. Steven Greene.

Greene recently moved to the DIA's Chicago-area office in Oakbrook to serve as director of operations for Chicagoland and Northern Illinois. He will be responsible primarily for fund-raising and public relations for the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund in the northern sector of the state, as well as solicit major gifts nationwide.

Greene spent 10 years as a United way fund-raiser and returned to the UI campus from Findlay, Ohio, where he served as chief professional officer for the United Way of Hancock County for four years.

A fullback for the Fighting Illini from 1972-75, Greene earned four letters under head coach Bob Blackman.

Greene's family includes his wife, Charlene, and four children.

Mildred B. Griggs, Ph.D.
Faculty Representative

Mildred B. Griggs, Ph.D., serves the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as faculty representative. She is responsible for representing Illinois at NCAA conventions and dealing with reforms and regulations at the Big Ten level.

Her on-campus duties deal specifically with football, men's and women's basketball and baseball. Griggs was named to the 13-member NCAA Council in January.

A native of Arkansas, Griggs received her undergraduate degree from Arkansas AM & N college. She Mike Hatfield is in his 13th year of service with the Illinois Division of Intercollegiate Athletics. He currently serves as Director of the Athletic Ticket Office. Previously, Hatfield had worked for eight years as academic counselor to the Fighting Illini football and men's basketball programs.

Hatfield, a native of Hoopeston, is a 1979 graduate of Eastern Illinois University, where he also earned his master's in 1980. As an undergraduate, Hatfield earned All-America honors in track and field in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

He and his wife, Carol, have two children, Angie and Nic, and reside in Champaign.

Warren Hood
Assistant to the Associate Director of Athletics

Warren Hood has been employed by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since 1988, when he began working in the marketing and promotions office.

He moved to the administration office in 1989, where he currently serves as an administrative assistant. He is responsible for football and basketball game management, Big Ten and NCAA championships and is the director of the Illinois summer camps, where he oversees the operation of 14 Division of Intercollegiate Athletics sports camps.

Hood, 28, earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Illinois. He and his wife, Denise, reside in Champaign.

Karol Kahrs
Associate Director of Athletics

Dr. Karol Kahrs, associate director of athletics, has served the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since 1974. She supervises UI sports programs in volleyball, women's basketball, men's and women's tennis, women's swimming, women's track and women's cross country, men's and women's golf and wrestling. Additionally, Kahrs oversees facilities scheduling and the Atkins Tennis Center.

Kahrs has been with the University since 1966, when she served as an instructor in the Department of Physical Education. She also served as director of the Women's Extracurricular Sports Association, working in both capacities until 1970.

Kahrs earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Georgia in 1962 and a master's degree in physical education from Ohio State University in 1965. She earned her doctorate from OSU in 1972.

Under Kahrs' direction and leadership, Illinois was one of the first major institutions to be reviewed by the Office of Civil Rights and found to be in compliance with Title IX in 1981. In 1974, Kahrs was placed in charge of the newly created seven-sport women's intercollegiate athletics program at Illinois. In 1988, she served as Director of Internal Affairs for the former Athletic Association and was instrumental in the Association merger into the University in 1989.

Kahrs enjoys a strong background in volleyball, having coached the Illinois team in the late 1960s and early 1970s. She also coaches the alumni team in the annual varsity-alumni match.

Kahrs serves on the Board of Visitors for the United State Sports Academy. She received the Distinguished Alumnus Award in Physical Education at Georgia in 1988. She lives in Champaign.

Kahrs was recognized by the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators in October of 1992 when she was named NACWAA Administrator of the Year for District V.

Al Martindale, ATC

Director of Sports Medicine

Al Martindale was named head athletic trainer at the University of Illinois in July of 1983. A native of Postville, Iowa, he is now in his 12th year as a head trainer at the Division I level.

Martindale spent six years at the University of Hawaii, including three as the head trainer, before accepting the Illinois post.

He received his degree in physical education from Upper Iowa University in 1973. From UIU he went to Indiana State, earning a master's degree in 1974. His next stop was Moline (Ill.) High School, where he spent three years before taking the position in Hawaii.

Martindale's responsibilities include the prevention and treatment of injuries to athletes in all 17 of Illinois' varsity sports. He also supervises five full-time assistants, one graduate assistant and more than two dozen student assistants.

Martindale and his wife, Lisa, have one daughter, and live in Champaign.

Tom Porter

Associate Director of Athletics

Tom Porter is in his eighth year as associate director of athletics.

He is responsible for supervision of promotions and marketing, the Varsity "I" Association, UI's summer camps, licensing and the athletic ticket office.

In 1973, Porter came to Illinois from Hersey High school in Arlington Heights, Ill., where he guided the wrestling team to two IHSA state titles.

He joined the UI football coaching staff as an assistant and also was the head wrestling coach from 1973 to 1978. Porter moved into administration in 1978 when he was named assistant director of athletics.

A native of Harvey, Ill., Porter received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana State University. He and his wife, Patty, have two sons and reside in Mahomet.

Jesse Ratliff

Equipment Manager

Jesse Ratliff is in his seventh year in the equipment department as an assistant to equipment manager Andy Dixon. Ratliff concentrates on supplying the players with required and requested equipment.

In addition to making sure the uniforms are prepared, he is present during the game to repair equipment. During the week, he is in charge of distributing day-to-day equipment.

Ratliff, along with his three children, resides in Urbana.

Dr. Stephen H.
Soboroff

Team Physician

Dr. Stephen H. Soboroff is medically and administratively responsible for the health care of all Illinois student-athletes. He directs the drug-education and drug-testing programs and provides consultation to the athletic training staff. Soboroff has served in this capacity since 1983.

Soboroff received his M.D., from the UIUC College of Medicine in 1969. He serves on the faculty in the University's School of Medicine and the Department of Kinesiology. His professional interests include sports medicine, internal medicine, occupational medicine and public health. He also enjoys long-distance running and has competed in several marathons.

Soboroff is single and lives in Champaign.

Gary Spezia

Career Counselor

Gary Spezia was appointed career counselor for the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics in October 1992. He previously worked as an academic advisor in the University's School of Life Sciences.

Spezia's work includes guiding student-athletes in the career decision-making process, assisting in job preparation skills and arranging for internships and job placement. He also is involved with professional sports counseling for those student-athletes who are considering professional careers in athletics.

In addition to his work as a career counselor, Spezia also serves as academic counselor for seven sports.

A native of Danville, Ill., Spezia attended Bemidji State University in Minnesota, where he was an all-conference basketball player. He received a bachelor's degree in biology from Eastern Illinois in 1985 and his master's degree in educational psychology and guidance from Eastern Illinois.

Spezia is single and lives in Champaign.

Tim Tracy
Business Manager

Tim Tracy has been the Division of Intercollegiate Athletic's business manager since 1986. He is responsible for the UI's courtesy car and insurance programs, in addition to managing the DIA business office and handling the financial reporting.

A native of Bement, Ill., Tracy is a 1982 graduate of Illinois College in Jacksonville. He previously held positions with Springfield (Ill.) Memorial Medical Center and at Mercy Hospital in Urbana.

He and his wife, Molly, reside in Bement.

Barb Ward
Food Administrator

Barb Ward is in her 30th year with the University and 19th year as the Food Administrator responsible for feeding nearly 600 athletes. Ward began as a cook in 1963 under Berdie Patterson and assumed her current role in 1972. She supervises four full-time assistants in meal planning and purchasing.

In addition to feeding the athletes, Ward prepares special meals for various function in the Varsity Room.

She and her husband, Oris, have raised eight children and live in Champaign.

Leo Ward,
C.S.C.S.
Strength Coach

Leo Ward is in his seventh year as strength and conditioning coach for the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Now in his 29th year of coaching and strength training, the Pittsburgh, Pa., native is responsible for designing strength, conditioning and rehabilitation training regimens for the Fighting Illini football, volleyball, gymnastics, women's basketball and men's tennis teams.

Ward is a 1964 graduate of Western New Mexico University where he competed in football and track. In 1970 he received a master's degree in education from Penn State University. While at Penn State he served as a graduate assistant for the Nittany Lions. Additionally, Ward has three years experience at Gettysburg College as a football/track and strength coach, and 18 years experience at the high school level.

Ward and his wife, Nancy, have two daughters, and reside in Champaign.

Ken Zimmerman
*Director of Development—
Fighting Illini
Scholarship Fund/
Champaign*

Ken Zimmerman Jr. joined the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics in March as a development officer for the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund. He supervises the DIA's Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund Champaign office.

Zimmerman, a former UI football letterman, returned to Champaign from the University of Colorado, where he was the school's assistant director of development for six years.

Following four years as football coach at Glenbard East High School in Lombard, Ill., and at Arveda West High School (Colo.), Zimmerman became involved in the ski industry for more than 10 years and in the real estate business for seven years.

Zimmerman earned varsity letters in football for the Fighting Illini in 1961 and '62, winning Most Valuable Player honors at Illinois his senior year under coach Pete Elliott. He captained the '62 Illini squad and was the team's leading rusher. Zimmerman also lettered twice in fencing (1962 and '63).

Zimmerman earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the University of Illinois in 1963 and 1965. His family includes son Brett (19) and daughter Darcy (17). Both children are nationally ranked down-hill skiers in Colorado.

CHIEF ILLINIWEK

One of the most dramatic and dignified traditions in college athletics is the performance of Chief Illiniwek at the University of Illinois. Since 1926, this symbol has stirred pride and respect in audiences at Memorial Stadium and the Assembly Hall. Illiniwek (pronounced "ill-EYE-nih-wek") was the name of the loose confederation of Algonquin tribes that once lived in the region. The French changed the ending to "ois" in naming what became the state of Illinois.

Illiniwek means "they are men," and former Illinois football Coach Robert Zuppke is believed to have suggested calling the UI symbol Chief Illiniwek. In 1926, Assistant Band Director Ray Dvorak conceived the idea of performing an American Indian dance during halftime of the Illinois vs. Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia. Lester Leutwiler, a student interested in Indian lore, was chosen for the role. Leutwiler's performance, done in a homemade costume, was received so well that he was asked to continue his dance through the 1928 season.

Webber Borchers, the second Chief Illiniwek, was the first to appear in authentic American Indian regalia. He initiated a campaign to raise money to replace his homemade outfit with an authentic one, but with the Depression on, he received just $15. However, a Champaign merchant stepped in to fund the rest and Borchers was off. He recalled: "In the summer of 1930 I went, at my own expense, to the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. I hitchhiked out, called an Indian agent and explained my mission. He and an Indian trader called in an older Sioux Indian woman. She and two younger women made the suit."

On Nov. 8, 1930 in New York's Yankee Stadium, Illinois faced Army in the seventh game of the season. It was there that Borchers made the first appearance of Chief Illiniwek in that outfit. Since then, five different authentic outfits have been used by Chief Illiniwek. The one used in performances now was purchased in 1983 from Sioux Chief Frank Fools Crow, and is topped by a head-dress of turkey feathers.

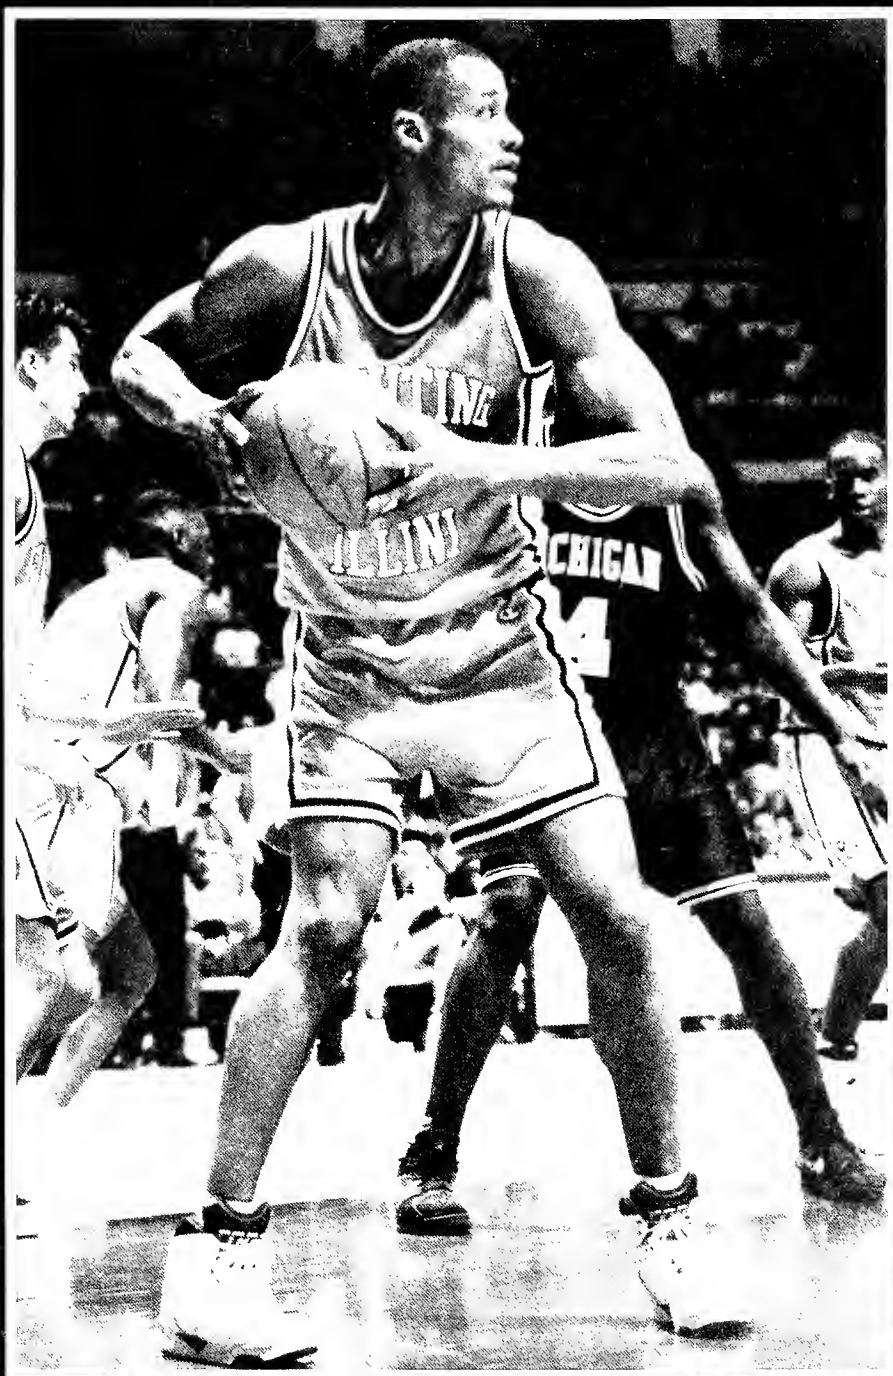

Chief Illiniwek appears at all men's basketball games, as well as football games and women's basketball games.

TALENTED, EXPERIENCED ILLINI WILL NOT BE SLEEPERS IN '93-'94

A year ago the University of Illinois was the surprise team in the Big Ten men's basketball race, finishing in a tie for third place after most "experts" predicted the Illini would end up somewhere around eighth.

Coach Lou Henson received his overdue designation as Big Ten Coach of the Year for molding a team with just one returning senior-scholarship athlete, and only nine scholarship players total, into an upper-division Big Ten finisher and an NCAA-tournament team.

Henson is singing a different tune this year, because he knows the Fighting Illini will not be able to sneak up on anyone in 1993-94. No longer does he call his optimism "cautious." He readily says Illinois will have a quality team this year.

"We'll be good," Henson said, "because we finally have not only some talent, but also some experience and depth. We haven't had that combination in awhile."

The Illini will be without four players who saw significant action last season.

Andy Kaufmann, who started most of the time at forward, was Illinois' second-leading scorer for the season and finished his career in the No. 4 spot on the all-time UI scoring list.

Reserve guards Brooks Taylor and Davin Harris have also departed, as has Rennie Clemons, who went academically ineligible for 1993-94, which would have been his senior season. Taylor logged 11.6 minutes, 1.1 points and 1.2 rebounds per game, while Harris averaged 1.6 points and 0.6 assists in 6.8 minutes per game.

But even without that group, the Illini will have a little more depth—10 scholarship players, as opposed to nine a year ago.

Additionally, Henson and his staff will have the No. 5-ranked recruiting class in the nation in the Assembly Hall this season.

Frontcourt

Two-time Illinois scoring leader and MVP Deon Thomas will be the focal point of the 1993-94 Fighting Illini. The 6-foot-9-inch, fifth-year senior is the Big Ten's top returning shooter (.606 in 1992-93), and should become Illinois' all-time leading career scorer in December. He enters the season 111 points behind current leader Eddie Johnson (1,692 points, 1977-81). Thomas also led the Illini in rebounding the last three years.

Forward/center Deon Thomas led the Fighting Illini in scoring and rebounding for the second consecutive year in 1992-93.

"I think the Big Ten will be more balanced this year than it has been in a long time. No team is head and shoulders above the rest, like Michigan and Indiana were last season. The Big Ten is probably seven to nine teams deep. Any of those teams could win it, and Illinois is one of those teams."

- Head Coach Lou Henson

Henson on Thomas: "Deon is the best scoring low-post man I've ever coached. We think he definitely has the potential to become an All-American this season. Not only has he shown that he can score, he's improved his strength, and he knows how to rebound and play defense. Deon has experience and savvy, and he'll have some help up front to take some of the pressure off. Also, he'll have the urgency of this being his senior year, the last chance to show the professional

"We'll have quality players at every position this year, not just starters, but backup players, too. Everyone has been very diligent in the preseason lifting running and playing basketball. I think since we all have an idea of how good we can be this year, we all have been more dedicated than ever about preparing for the season. We won't be satisfied with just getting back to the NCAA tournament; we think we can go a long way."

- Senior forward/center Deon Thomas teams what he can do. He is determined to step up his rebounding another notch, to concentrate on his ball handling and extend his shooting range. If he continues to work hard and improve as he has, there's no telling what he can accomplish this season."

Six-foot-6-inch junior Robert Bennett has proven that he can play both the center and power forward positions in the Big Ten and should be a factor at both spots this year. His quickness to the ball and excellent jumping ability make him an effective rebounder. He was the team's No. 2 man on the boards a year ago. His improved shooting touch from 15 feet and out has made him a better scorer.

Henson on Bennett: "Robert is an excellent offensive rebounder. He is a very quick jumper, he's explosive, he's strong defensively and he has a good jump shot. Robert came on strong at the end of his freshman year, and we knew at that time he was going to be an effective player for our team. He became a dependable player last season, and if he continues to become more consistent, I think he'll have quite a year. He has a great ability to get up and down the floor, and that's important, since we like to run with the ball."

Another of the reasons that Thomas should be able to shine at the power forward slot is the addition of center Shelly Clark, a junior transfer student from Indian Hills Community College in Iowa. The burly 6-9, 262-pound Chicago native was the top scorer and rebounder in the national junior college tournament last March in Hutchinson, Kan., and was named the national Junior College Player of the Year by Basketball Times. With Clark helping to patrol the lane, Thomas should be free not only to use his deft post moves, but also to flash to various medium-range spots to launch his soft jumpers.

Henson on Clark: "Illinois hasn't had an inside player as physical as Shelly since George Montgomery (1982-85). We're going to be counting heavily upon him to rebound at both ends, as well as to play defense. But he has other strengths. He's probably the best passer on our team among the inside players, and he can score effectively within the 15-foot range. We won't press him to score a lot of points, but I think he'll get his share; many of them will come on put-backs. At this point, it is anybody's guess who will start in the middle, but I have to think that Shelly will be right in the thick of that battle. He'll also play some at power forward."

The other newcomer on the front line is freshman Brett Robisch. Robisch is 6-10, but is slender and is likely to redshirt in 1993-94 so he can develop some strength. He is the son of 13-year NBA veteran Dave Robisch.

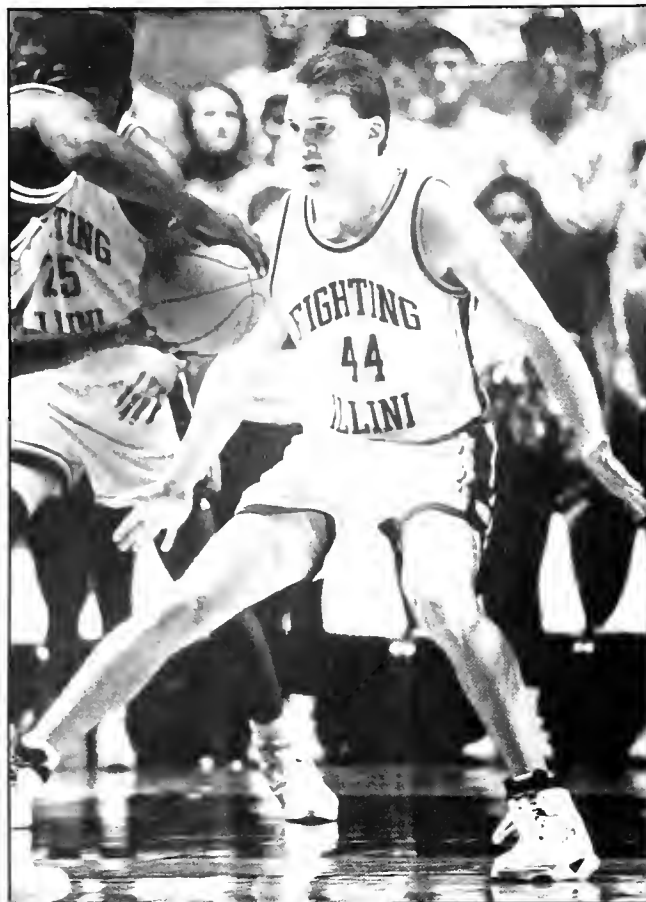

Henson on Robisch: "Brett has a good shooting touch and handles the ball well. He has been taught good fundamental basketball. I think his willingness to redshirt this season shows foresight on his part. This year of practice and weight training with the team will really pay off for him. We think he can play Big Ten basketball, or we would not have recruited him."

Steve Roth, a 6-10 walkon, will see occasional duty at the center position. He saw limited duty in 16 games as a freshman and 14 as a sophomore.

The small forward position stacks up as a very interesting one this season. Fifth-year senior Tom Michael, Sophomore guard Richard Keene will probably play both guard positions for the Illini this season.

As one of Illinois' best defenders, senior guard T. J. Wheeler often draws the toughest defensive assignments.

who led the Big Ten in three-point shooting in 1991-92, saw less playing time last year with Kaufmann in the lineup, but could see more minutes this year if his defense improves. The 6-8 journeyman could also play some at the power forward spot.

Henson on Michael: "Tom is one of our veterans. He knows what Big Ten basketball is all about, and he knows how to score from the outside. Tom improved his ball handling last year. He knows his limitations, but has used his strengths to help us and is always positive. He's a hard worker, and if he can broaden his skills further, he'll play even more."

Chris Gandy, like Michael, redshirted his freshman year. The 6-9 second-year freshman added about 15 pounds to his frame last season and became an explosive force as a power forward, so he may see some time at that position. But with his improved ball handling and three-point shooting ability, he may have a better chance to play on the wing. Gandy is also one of the best shot blockers on the team.

Henson on Gandy: "Chris made great strides last year, even though he couldn't play in the games for us. He is one of the hardest working players I have ever

"We have a good mix of new talent and some experienced players. I think we have good players at every position. We'll be versatile. If we need to run, we can run. If we need to pound it inside, we'll be able to do that, and our experienced players know how to play defense. It may take the younger guys a little while to learn to play defense, but you know Coach Henson, he'll get that done."

- Senior guard T.J. Wheeler coached. Last year he routinely came to practice 30 minutes early to work out on his own, and he frequently stayed after practice 30-45 minutes, too. He could probably have helped us win a couple more games last season, but we are extremely pleased that he has four years of eligibility remaining."

Another freshman who will be in the mix at the "three" spot is 6-6 Jerry Hester, a very mobile, athletic player, whose ball-handling ability makes him versatile enough to play the shooting guard position. Henson will bring him along slowly at the start, allowing Hester to make the transition to college basketball smoothly before he's counted upon to supply significant minutes and statistics.

Henson on Hester: "Jerry reminds me of some of the players we had here four and five years ago. We didn't have a lot of size on our 1989 Final Four team, but we did have several medium-sized, very athletic players. Jerry has excellent speed and quickness and can create on offense. He's not only a good three-point shooter, he also can put it on the floor and penetrate opposing defenses. As he gains experience, learns our system, rebounds and plays the kind of defense we want, he will be an outstanding player. It takes freshmen a while to adjust, but we think Jerry will fit in very well."

BACKCOURT

With the unexpected loss of veteran point guard Rennie Clemons due to academic difficulties, most of backcourt duties will fall into the hands of three players.

Two players from southern Illinois are expected to provide a one-two punch at the second guard spot. Senior T.J. Wheeler, at 6-4, provides a little more experience and rebounding ability, while 6-6 sophomore Richard Keene offers more size and strength, as well as exceptional passing. Both are accomplished three-point shooters, but both need to drive to the basket more often. Keene, though more comfortable at the two-guard spot, will have to help out with the point guard chores in Clemons' absence.

Henson on Wheeler: "T.J. led our team last year in free-throw shooting, and is one of our best defensive players. He has been very effective against some good perimeter scorers. And he's an excellent rebounding guard. He does need to improve his movement on offense, both with and without the ball. T.J. doesn't make a lot of mistakes. He's a steadying influence on our team."

Henson on Keene: "Richard came in a year ago with some very high expectations and the pressures that go with those expectations. When Rennie was injured at the beginning of the season, we had to play Richard at the point. We were really pleased with the job he did as a freshman. He really responded to the move to two-guard. By the time the middle of the Big Ten season rolled around, Richard was playing really well. He has a lot of ability, but needs to move up his game two or three notches this year. I think you'll see him take a big step this season."

Freshman Kiwane Garris would have been likely to open the season backing up Clemons at the point, had Clemons been eligible, but now could see several starting assignments. The 6-2 Garris was highly touted as a high school player at Chicago Westinghouse and played in several postseason all-star games. He possesses great ball-handling and passing skills and also can score, from both the outside and off of penetration. Consequently, he also could play some at the two-guard position as well.

Henson on Garris: "Kiwane is one of the primary reasons we're so pleased about this recruiting class. He is well-regarded nationally, and with good reason. He led his high school teams to excellent records; he's a winner. Kiwane is such a versatile athlete, he can shoot from outside, he can put the ball on the floor and he can find the open man. I think he's just about as good as we've had at completing the play, that is, taking the ball to the basket strong and making the right decision quickly.

The second-leading rebounder on the Illinois team, Robert Bennett can score from inside or outside.

A Quick Look At The Fighting Illini

The number of home games (including exhibitions) the Fighting Illini will play in 1993-94 prior to the Big Ten campaign.

10

The number of Academic All-America basketball players at Illinois since 1964. Tal Brody was the first Illini to earn the award in 1965, and Rob Judson and Steve Lanter were the last in 1979.

11

The Big Ten Conference really has 11 schools as members. Penn State became the 11th member and will be participating in its second season of Big Ten action in 1993-1994.

13

Lou Henson is the 13th head basketball coach at Illinois since the first varsity hoops team began on campus in 1906. The team was coached by Elwood Brown.

15

The Fighting Illini have made 15 trips to the NCAA tournament, including 10 entries since 1981.

17

The number of future NBA players that played in the 1989 NCAA Midwest Regional at Minneapolis. Illinois had five (Kendall Gill, Nick Anderson, Steve Bardo, Kenny Battle and Marcus Liberty), Syracuse four (Sherman Douglas, David Johnson, Billy Owens and Derrick Coleman), Louisville four (Kenny Payne, LaBradford Smith, Pervis Ellison and Felton Spencer) and Missouri four (Byron Irvin, Doug Smith, Anthony Peeler and Gary Leonard).

20

Illinois has 16 seasons with at least 20 victories, including 11 20-win seasons during Lou Henson's tenure.

30

Jeff Beckham of Bourbonnais, Ill., is the 30th University of Illinois student to portray Chief Illiniwek. The Chief has been a tradition on the UI campus since 1926.

31

The "Flying Illini" won a school-record 31 games in 1989 on their way to the NCAA Final Four. The Illinois record for consecutive wins at the Assembly Hall is also 31. The Fighting Illini won every home game from Jan. 15, 1984 to Jan. 4, 1986.

53

Dave Downey is the owner of Illinois' single-game scoring record (53 points). He did it against Indiana Feb. 16, 1963.

60

The number of minutes played by Bruce Douglas in the epic four-overtime game against Michigan Jan. 28, 1984.

76

Illinois has won 76 percent of its games played at the Assembly Hall and enters the 1993-94 season with an Assembly Hall record of 311-96.

119

The UI record number of three-point baskets Tom Michael has made in his Illinois career.

185

Back in 1868 the Illinois Industrial University first opened its doors to its two buildings. That's a far cry from the 185 major buildings—and counting—at the University of Illinois today.

609

The number of wins Lou Henson has accumulated in 31 years of coaching at the collegiate level.

1,692

Eddie Johnson, currently with the NBA's Charlotte Hornets, is the all-time Illinois scoring leader with 1,692 points, but probably not for long. Incoming senior Deon Thomas starts the year with 1,581 points, meaning with his average of around 20 points per game, he should break Johnson's record around the time Illinois plays in the Illini Pepsi Classic (Dec. 10-11) or the following game against Chicago State (Dec. 18).

1960

The year that Mannie Jackson, Jerry Colangelo and Dennis Swanson were all combined on the same Fighting Illini basketball squad. Jackson, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters, was the captain that season; Colangelo, owner and CEO of the NBA's Phoenix Suns, was a sophomore on the squad; and, Swanson, president of ABC Sports and Daytime and Children's Programming, was the senior manager of the squad.

110,000

The population of Champaign-Urbana, home of the University of Illinois since 1867. Urbana, located east of Wright Street, was the first city in Illinois to qualify as a Tree City, USA. Champaign, west of Wright Street, and the larger of the two cities, is the home of Olympic gold medalist speed skater Bonnie Blair. The Twin Cities are conveniently located at the intersections of three major interstate highways (57, 74 and 72), and are just a couple of hours by car away from the major metropolitan areas of Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis.

$8,350,000

The cost to build the University of Illinois Assembly Hall when it was finished in 1963. Illinois defeated Northwestern, 79-73, on March 4, 1963 in the first game played at the Hall. Former Northwestern basketball coach, and current Big Ten assistant commissioner, Rich Falk made the first basket in Assembly Hall history that night.

BENNETT FACT

Robert Bennett attended the same high school (Julian in Chicago) as former Illini football standout running back Howard Griffith.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Along with Deon Thomas and Shelly Clark, he should help form one of the top rotations in the Big Ten at the power forward and center positions . . . Strength training has brought his body weight up to 208 pounds, but he continues to be quick and mobile.

1992-93: Shot .544 from the field to boost his career shooting percentage to .515 . . . Notched three double-doubles, vs. Northwestern, Michigan State and Wisconsin . . . Registered career highs of 16 points (four times) and 14 rebounds (2/28 at Wisconsin) . . . Best game of the season was in Illinois' 81-71 Big Ten-opening victory at Northwestern (1/7) when he shot 73 percent from the field, scored 16 points, pulled down 10 rebounds and blocked two shots.

1991-92: After initial adjustment to college basketball, he finished the season especially strong, starting nine of the last 11 games and averaging 14.7 points and 7.3 rebounds in the last three contests . . . Best two games of the year where his final two when he scored 16 points on 7-for-8 shooting and pulled down seven rebounds at Ohio State (3/11), and when he scored 16 points and grabbed eight rebounds at Michigan (3/14) in the season finale.

HIGH SCHOOL

Averaged 23 points, 13 rebounds and three blocks per game as a senior . . . Was named MVP in the Blue-South Division of the Chicago Public League that year as well . . . Won the Slam Dunk competition at the 1990 Boston Shootout, in which top players from various major cities from around the country competed in a round-robin tournament . . . High school coach was Talmadge Milan.

PERSONAL

Majoring in advertising . . . Favorite player is Charles Barkley of the Phoenix Suns because of his great emotion and intensity on the court . . . Biggest thrill in sports was leading his Julian High School team to an undefeated conference record in the Chicago Public League Blue-South Division in 1991 . . . Aspires to a career in advertising and/or professional basketball . . . Son of Bruce Millner and Brenda Bennett.

FRESHMAN (REDSHIRT)

KANKAKEE, ILL.

(BRADLEY-BOURBONNAIS)

FORWARD

BORN: 12/20/73

GANDY FACT

Chris Gandy is the first Illinois basketball player to have redshirted since Tom Michael and Deon Thomas in 1989-90.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Will benefit from weight training and working out with the team last season . . . Moves up and down the floor well . . . A good jumper and rebounder, who is also effective as a three-point shooter . . . Will probably see action at both the small forward and power forward positions . . . His best chance to start is at the small-forward spot.

1992-93: Redshirt season . . . Represented Illinois on the Big Ten men's basketball all-star team which toured Germany and Belgium in August, 1993, averaging 4.6 points and 4.9 rebounds in those eight games, while shooting at a .548 clip from the field . . . His best effort was a nine point-nine rebound performance in the 84-79 tour-opening win over an Air Force team at Bittburg, Germany.

HIGH SCHOOL

Named to the Class AA all-state team his junior and senior seasons . . . Led Bradley-Bourbonnais to a quarterfinal berth in the IHSA state finals at the Assembly Hall his senior year. . . Averaged 22 points and nine rebounds per game as a senior. . . Was a 61-percent field goal shooter and a 71-percent free throw shooter . . . Put together a streak of 59 consecutive games in which he scored in double figures . . . Was listed among the nation's Top 100 recruits by talent scout Bob Gibbons . . . High school coach was Vern Sloan.

PERSONAL

Nickname is "Gandyman" . . . Admires David Robinson of the NBA's San Antonio Spurs because he is a dominant force, and former Illini Kendall Gill because of his "sweet" jump shot . . . Aspires to a career in business after college . . . Parents are Leo and Lula Hunt . . . Biggest thrill in sports is seeing someone "come down the middle of the lane with a thunderous dunk" . . . Enrolled in College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Field Goals: 6 (3/10/93 vs. Michigan)
Free Throws: 5 (1/27/93 vs. Wisconsin)
Rebounds: 5 (on four occasions)
Assists: 6 (3/3/93)

KEENE FACT

Keene's 57 three-point goals last season are the most ever by a UI freshman and the third-best ever by an Illini.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Will again see action at both guard positions . . . Action at point guard early in the season will largely be determined by how quickly Kiwane Garris adjusts to playing point guard at the college level . . . Will be counted upon to stretch opposing defenses with his three-point shooting ability . . . Should become more effective if he drives to the basket and gets to the free throw line more often; he attempted only 34 free throws last season.
 1992-93: One of the leading candidates for Big Ten Freshman of the Year, he was the conference's No. 4 three-point shooter (.415) . . . 57 three-point field goals rank sixth place on the all-time UI career list . . . Started off the season slowly at the point guard position (when Rennie Clemons was out with an injury), but came on strong at the second guard spot, securing a starting berth by the end of December . . . Missed just two starts after the Texas game . . . Posted season (and career) highs of 19 points vs. Michigan (3/10), five rebounds (twice) and six assists at Minnesota (3/3) . . . Scored 15 points, all on three-pointers, in Illinois' 78-77 win over Iowa Feb. 4 . . . Was named third team by Basketball Times on its all-freshman squad.

HIGH SCHOOL

McDonald's and Parade All-American . . . Played in two postseason all-star games, the McDonald's All-America game and the Kentucky Derby Festival Classic . . . Two-time all-state selection . . . Named to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch's All-St. Louis Area team twice and named its player of the year in 1992 . . . Three-time All-Southwestern Conference pick and voted the SWC Player of the Year as a senior . . . Averaged 18 points per game in his four seasons at CHS . . . Finished high school holding CHS career records for games played (111), three-pointers (265) and consecutive-free throws made (40) . . . Finished as Collinsville's No. 2 all-time scorer with 1,968 points . . . Tied an IHSA state-tournament record with six three-pointers in a game . . . Led his team to the quarterfinals of the 1992 IHSA Class A State Tournament at the Assembly Hall . . . Listed among the nation's Top 10 recruits by talent scout Bob Gibbons . . . High school coach was Bob Bone; assistant coach was former Illini Dennis Pace, who lettered from 1967-69.

PERSONAL

Enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences . . . Hobbies are golf and tennis . . . Parents are Howard and Sandra Keene . . . Father, Howard, played basketball at Louisiana State and at Southern Illinois-Carbondale and is now vice president of Rawlings Sporting Goods in St. Louis . . . Grandfather, Archie Milano, played football for the NFL's Detroit Lions . . . Nicknamed Elvis: "He likes to stroke the locks," said Bill Raftery of CBS sports.

HOFFMAN, ILL. (CARLYLE)

FORWARD

BORN: 3/1/71

Career Highs

Points: 21 (2/4/92 vs. Indiana and 11/28/92 vs. New Mexico State at Great Alaska Shootout)

Field Goals: 8 (11/25/90 vs. Old Dominion at San Juan Shootout)

Free Throws: 5 twice (1/15/92 at Iowa and 2/11/92 at Purdue)

Rebounds: 10 (1/15/92 at Iowa)

Assists: 4 (on five occasions)

Steals: 3 (11/25/90 vs. Old Dominion at San Juan Shootout)

Blocks: 3 (11/25/90 vs. Old Dominion at San Juan Shootout and 12/5/92 vs. Chicago State)

MICHAEL FACT

Tom Michael and Deon Thomas are the only fifth-year seniors on the Illini team. The two roomed together as freshmen when they redshirted in 1989-90.

AT ILLINOIS:

1993-94: Will likely see action off the bench at both forward positions . . . Will continue to be one of Henson's designated three-point shooters . . . Completed his undergraduate work last spring and is enrolled in graduate school, working on his master's degree in sports administration . . . Served an internship last summer was with the University of Illinois Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

1992-93: Earned Academic All-Big Ten honors . . . Top game was a 21-point outburst in the championship game of the Great Alaska Shootout vs. New Mexico State, during which he hit six three-pointers and tied his career high of 21 points . . . Playing time diminished significantly as the season went on, but still holds the Illinois career three-point shooting record (119-of-261/.456).

1991-92: Was the only player to start all 28 games . . . Led the Big Ten in three-point shooting with: 2.7 threes per game, a .577 percentage from three-point range in conference games and a .493 mark in all games . . . 577 shooting percentage in league games is the third-best percentage to ever lead the conference . . . 93 three-pointers in two seasons broke Kendall Gill's (1987-90) Illini career record of 82 . . . 493 shooting percentage from outside the arc edged Stephen Bardo's (1988-89) single-game record of .492 . . . Shot better from three-point range (75-of-152/.493) than from inside (41-of-107/.383) . . . Was a member of the Illini Classic all-tournament team . . . Earned honorable mention honors in the All-Big Ten balloting by the media . . . Best game of the season was a 21-point-eight-rebound effort vs. Indiana (2/4) . . . Pulled down a career-high 10 rebounds at Iowa (1/15) . . . Won a three-point shooting contest against the Lithuanian National team during Illinois' spring tour of Russia and the Baltic states. 1990-91: Played extensively at small and power forward positions, giving team punch off the bench, mostly with long-range shooting . . . Started out season in strong fashion, scoring in double figures in five of the first six games, including a (then) career-high 19 points in the season's third game, a win over Old Dominion in the San Juan Shootout . . . Was second on the team in three-point shooting percentage, converting 41 percent of his attempts . . . Appeared in all 31 games.

1989-90: Redshirt.

HIGH SCHOOL

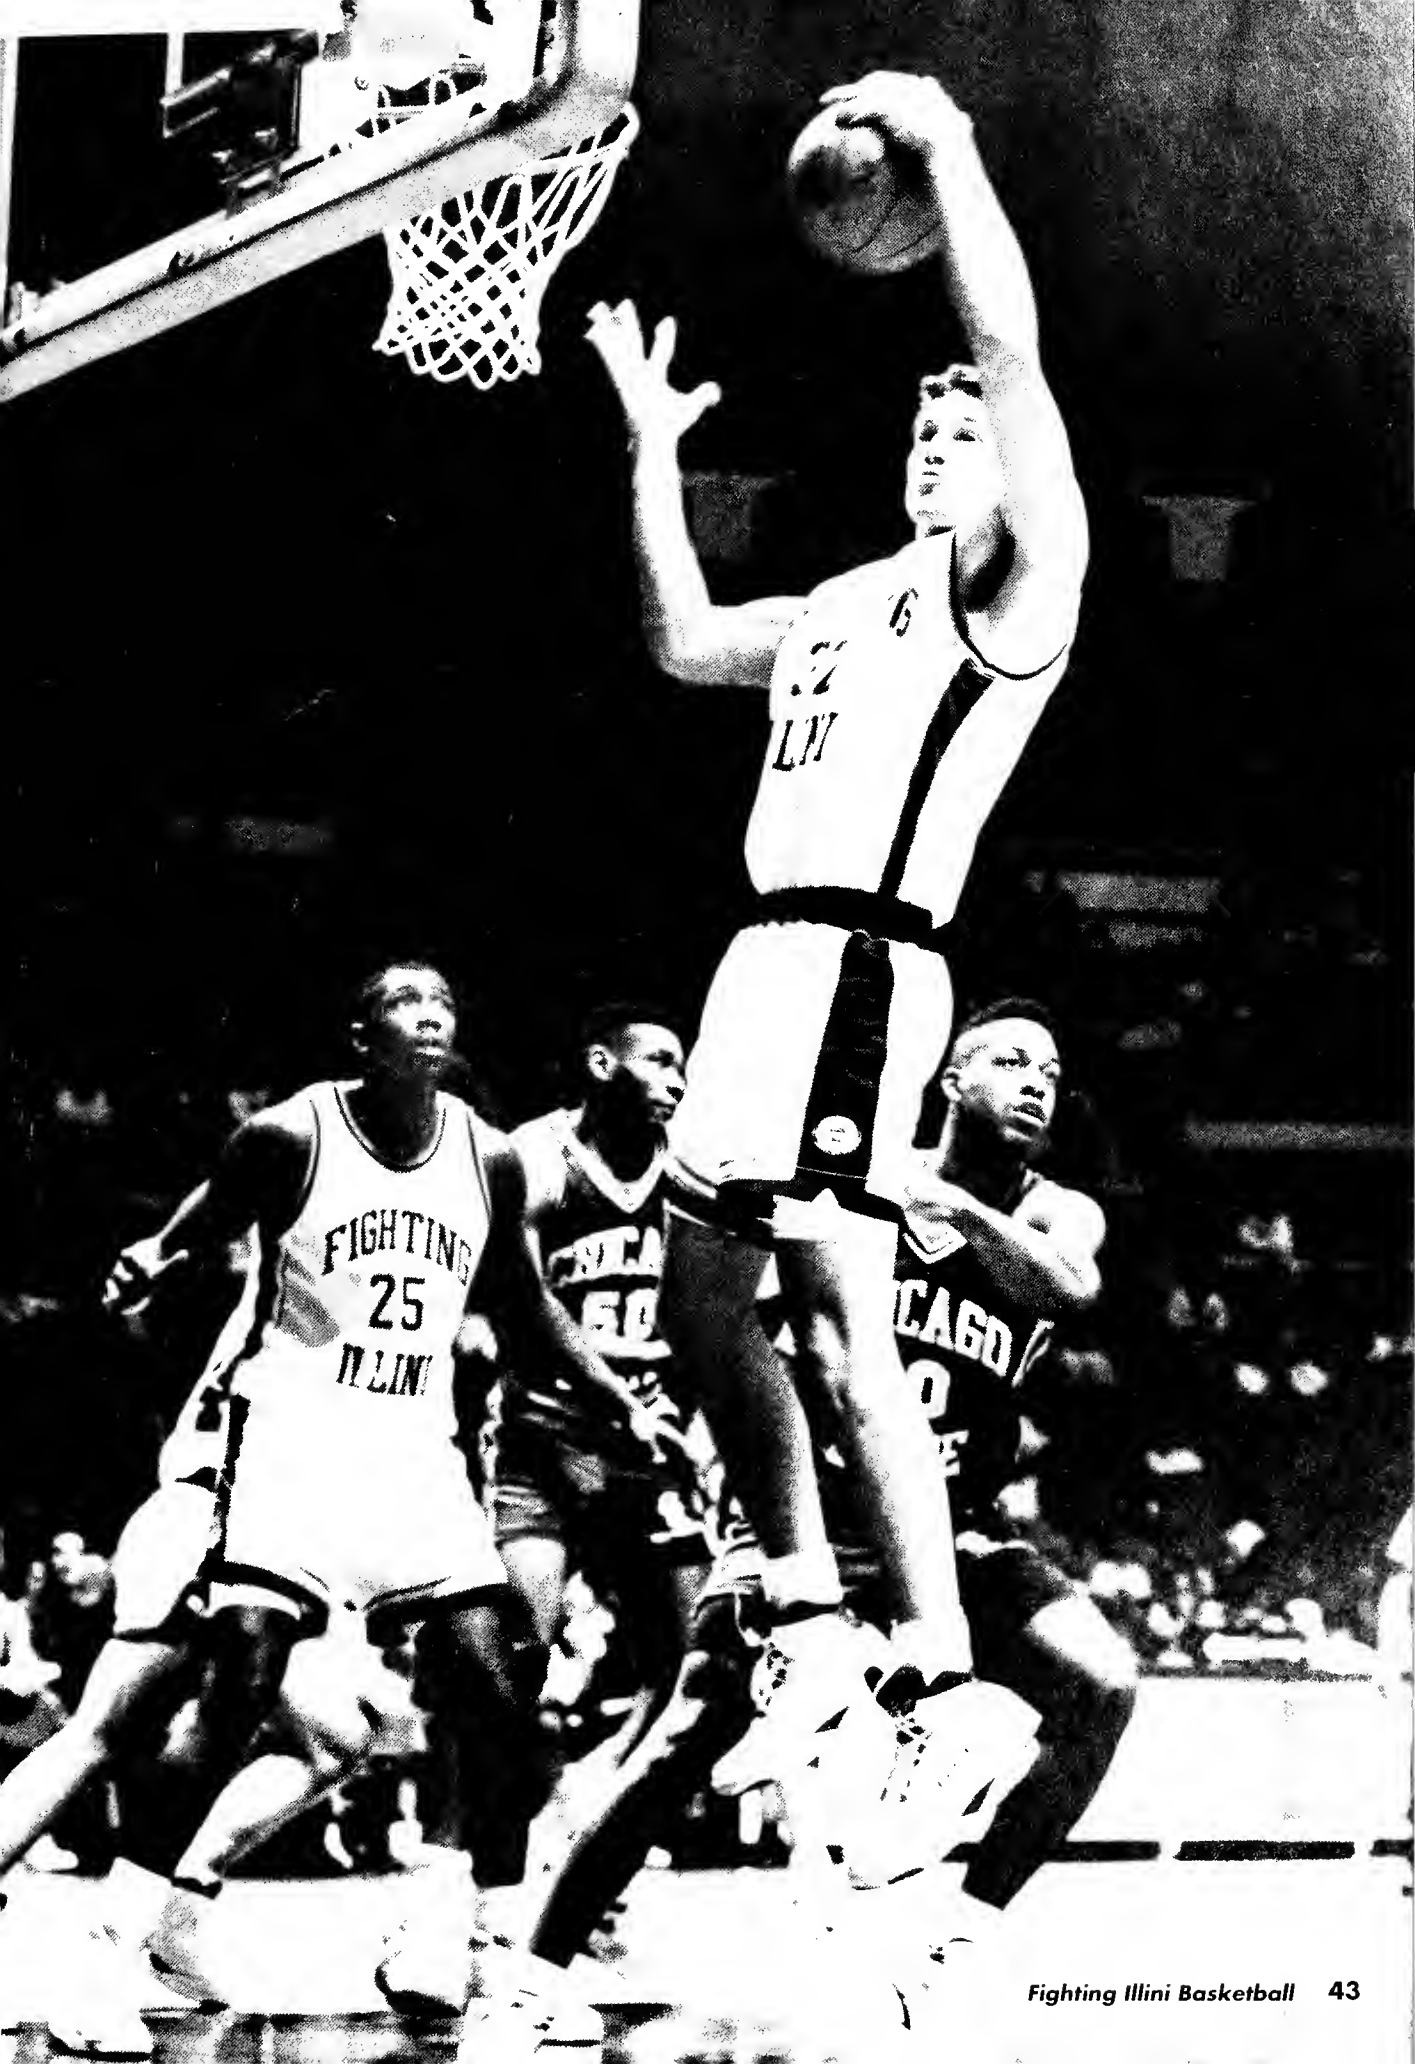

Averaged 25 points and 10 rebounds per game while leading the Indians to the 1989 Illinois Class A state championship . . . Was a first team all-state selection as a junior and senior and was the MVP of the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association Class A All-Star game . . . Was the MVP of the Cahokia Conference as a junior and a senior . . . The Belleville News-Democrat named him Metro East Class A Player of the Year as a junior and senior . . . High school coach was Brad Weathers.

PERSONAL

Married to Shana Michael and has one son, Nicholas . . . Parents are Bob and Sheila Michael . . . Worked at his parents' lumber company in past summers and participated in the Prairie State Games . . . Favorite athlete is former Los Angeles Lakers star Magic Johnson because he made himself successful on and off the basketball court . . . Enjoys playing golf and collecting basketball and baseball cards . . . Undergraduate major was speech communications . . . Biggest thrill in sports was winning the state championship as senior.

Assists: 5 (3/6/93 vs. Ohio State)

Steals: 3 (on three occasions)

Blocks: 7 (2/26/92 vs. Northwestern)

THOMAS FACT

Deon Thomas needs just 112 points to become Illinois' all-time career scoring leader. If he maintains his career average of 17.6 points per game, he could break Eddie Johnson's record when the Illini host Jackson State Dec. 20.

1993-94: With inside assistance from Robert Bennett and Shelly Clark, Thomas, an All-America candidate, could enjoy his best season yet . . . Selected by Basketball Weekly as a second-team preseason All-American . . . Will likely move out from the basket more this season than in the past . . . Should play even stronger this year, since his offseason training has boosted his body weight to 238 pounds . . . Could be Illinois' second three-time MVP (Dave Downey was selected in 1961, 1962 and 1963) . . . Should be the first Illinois player to ever score 2,000 points; needs 319 points to reach that plateau . . . will likely finish among the Top 15 on all-time Big Ten scoring list.

1992-93: A preseason All-Big Ten selection, Thomas was Illinois' most consistent scorer . . . Led the team with an 18.3 ppg average . . . Landed on the Great Alaska Shootout and Illini Classic all-tournament teams; was Illini Classic MVP for second year in a row . . . Also led the Illini in minutes played (1098), field goals (225), field-goal percentage (.606), free throws (137), free-throw attempts (212), rebounds (256/8.0 rpg) and blocked shots (42/1.3 bpg) . . . Finished the season as the No. 3 all-time scorer at Illinois . . . Second-team All-Big Ten selection by both the coaches and media . . . Was one of 36 players nominated for the 1993 Wooden Award, given to the top college basketball player in the nation . . . First team All-Midwest, as chosen by Basketball Weekly and Basketball Times and an All-District 4, as picked by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association . . . Notched nine double-doubles in 1992-93 to give him 18 for his career . . . In 1993, voted Fighting Illini MVP by his teammates for the second time.

1991-92: Became Illinois' No. 28 career scorer with a total of 994 points in his first two seasons, ending up just two points behind teammate Andy Kaufmann . . . Shot .500 or better from the field in 20 of his 28 games . . . Led Illinois in minutes played (945), field goal percentage (.585), field goals and free throws made (199), rebounds (193/6.9 rpg), blocked shots (44) and points (542) . . . Averaged 19.4 ppg overall and 19.1 per conference game; both marks were second in the Big Ten . . . Was also second in the Big Ten with a .585 season field-goal percentage . . . that .585 figure is the third-best single-season field goal percentage ever for an Illini . . . Went 14-of-18 from the free throw line at Purdue (2/11) to tie for fourth place in free throws made and second place for free throws attempted on the Illinois lists . . . Going into 1992-93, his career .582 (371-of-638) field goal percentage put him in third place behind Ken Norman (1984-87) and Kenny Battle (1987-89) on the all-time Illinois list . . . Had the Big Ten's top two performances of the year in both scoring and in field goals made . . . Scored 39 points (16 field goals) vs. Illinois-Chicago (1230) and 36 (14 field goals) vs. Northwestern (2/26).

1990-91: Played in all but one game and started 28 games . . . Scored in double figures in 26 of his 30 games and tallied double digits in rebounds on six occasions, including a 16-rebound explosion in Illinois' 84-75 victory at Memphis State, Dec. 29, a game in which he also scored 28 points . . . The 16 rebounds were the second highest single-game total by a Big Ten player during the year . . . Set the Illinois freshman scoring record, tallying 452 in his first campaign, to surpass the mark of 385 set by Efrem Winters in 1982-83 . . . Was a unanimous Illini Classic all-tournament at the Illini Classic . . . Posted double-doubles vs. Oregon State,

WHEELER FACT

Could be the Illini basketball program's first three-time Ralf Woods Award winner if he leads the team this year in free-throw percentage during Big Ten play.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Will be called upon to play extra minutes at the second-guard position if Richard Keene sees significant playing time at the point . . . Will be depended upon for rebounding, defense and accurate shooting from the free throw line and from the perimeter.

1992-93: One of Illinois' top defensive players, Wheeler was often called on to guard the opponents' best perimeter player . . . He and Brooks Taylor were voted by teammates to be the squad's top perimeter defensive players . . . Was top Illini guard in rebounding, averaging 3.4 per contest . . . Notched season highs of 15 points (twice), nine rebounds (2/25 vs. Purdue) and six assists (2/25 vs. Purdue) . . . Posted Illinois' best free-throw percentage of the season, .870 . . . Won the Ralf Woods

Award, given to the player with the best free-throw percentage in Big Ten games, for the second year in a row . . . After Richard Keene became the starter at shooting guard, Wheeler posted seven double-figure-scoring performances off the bench . . . Averaged 24.1 minutes per game, fifth on the team.

1991-92: Was the Big Ten's No. 2 free throw shooter with a .844 percentage in all games; in conference games, he ranked No. 3 with another .844 mark . . . His .844 season free throw shooting mark is the third best on the all-time Illinois list . . . Shot .378 from the three-point range, which was No. 5 in the Big Ten . . . Averaged 9.8 points per game and 3.2 assists per game (second on the team) during the Fighting Illini exhibition trip to Russia and the Baltic States in May, 1992.

1990-91: Played in 13 games, starting one, before being ruled academically ineligible for the second semester.

HIGH SCHOOL

Three-time Class A all-state selection . . . Averaged 32.7 points per game during his senior year . . . Finished his career ranked ninth in IHSA history with double-figure scoring in 90 of his 102 career games . . . His 214 career three-point goals ranks eighth in history . . . Averaged 25.5 points, 14.9 rebounds and 7.9 assists per game in his junior season, leading Christopher to a 25-5 record . . . Ranked as one of the nation's Top 100 high school seniors by talent scout Bob Gibbons . . . High school coach was Wes Choate.

PERSONAL

A multi-sport athlete in high school, he earned nine varsity letters . . . Parents are Tom and Lynda Wheeler . . . Enjoys fishing, golfing and listening to country music . . . Lists Christopher's impressive record during his junior year as his favorite sports memory . . . Favorite athlete is the Washington Bullets Rex Chapman . . . Dedicated sophomore season to late-best friend, Robert McGhee, who was killed in an auto accident . . . Grew up admiring former Illinois standout Stephen Bardo . . . Majoring in communications.

SHELLY CLARK

6-9, 262
JUNIOR
CHICAGO, ILL.
(SOUTH SHORE)
CENTER/FORWARD
BORN: 9/18/72

CLARK FACT

Though Shelly Clark attended Indian Hills Community College in Ottumwa, Iowa, he is from Chicago. He's part of a home-grown Illinois team; every player on the 1993-94 roster is from the Land of Lincoln.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Will see significant playing time from the outset and has an excellent chance of moving into the starting lineup right away . . . An impressive inside scorer and rebounder, he also sees himself as an "enforcer" in the middle . . . Possesses good quickness, as well as passes and moves the floor well for a player of his size . . . Has a soft shooting touch from up to 16 feet from the basket . . . His presence should take some defensive attention away from Deon Thomas.

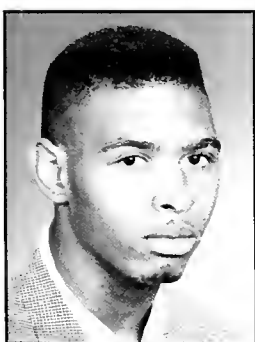

JUNIOR COLLEGE

Led his Indian Hills Community College team last season to a 34-4 record and a berth in the final four of the junior college national tournament at Hutchinson, Kan. . . Averaged 17.4 points and 12.9 rebounds per game last season for Indian Hills . . . Top scorer and rebounder in the 1993 junior college nationals with 96 points and 60 rebounds (in four games) . . . Named to the all-tournament team . . . 1993 Junior College Player of the Year, as chosen by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and by talent scout Van Coleman . . . Called a "man-among-boys" by one basketball publication . . . Holds Indian Hills' season (490) and career (902 in 72 games/12.5 rpg) records for rebounds . . . Indian Hills went 61-11 during his two-year career.

PERSONAL

Son of Burie Kitching and Shirley Clark . . . Burie is actually his first name, but he goes by his middle name, Shelly . . . Played high school basketball under Don Pittman at South Shore High School, which competes in the Red-South Division of Chicago's Public League . . . Nickname is "Camp" . . . Biggest thrill in sports was going to the junior college national tournament last season . . . Made the dean's list at Indian Hills . . . Enjoys drawing, singing and "cracking jokes" . . . Enrolled in the College of Agriculture . . . Is considering a career in law after his school and basketball days are over.

6-2, 176
FRESHMAN
CHICAGO, ILL.
(WESTINGHOUSE) GUARD
BORN: 9/24/74

GARRIS FACT

Kiwane Garriss played at Westinghouse High School in Chicago, the same school as Illinois' all-time leading career scorer and NBA veteran Eddie Johnson.

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: May be forced into action at point guard right away, due to academic loss of senior Rennie Clemons . . . Has excellent ballhandling, penetrating and three-point shooting skills . . . An "excellent finisher on the fast break," according to UI assistant coach Dick Nagy.

HIGH SCHOOL

Listed among the Top 30 prep All-Americans for 1993 by talent scout Van Coleman; scout Dave Bones had Garriss in his Top 40 . . . Three-time high school All-American and Public League MVP . . . A Parade Magazine All-American as a senior . . . Four-year letterwinner and MVP at Westinghouse High School (Public League, Red-East Division) in Chicago, where he played under Roy Condotti . . . Two-time all-state selection and a three-time Chicago Public League all-star . . . Led Westinghouse to a 27-4 record, an upset of Chicago King in the Public League championship game and a third-place finish in the 1992 IHSA Class AA state tournament . . . Scored 22.3 points, grabbed 5.1 rebounds and had 4.9 assists per game while leading Westinghouse to a 24-6 record as a senior . . . Scored 22 points to help Team Illinois defeat Team USA in the Nike/Chicago Sun-Times All-America game at the Rosemont Horizon last April.

PERSONAL

Son of Brenetta Garriss . . . Biggest sports thrill was defeating Chicago King High School for the city championship in 1992 . . . Nickname is "K.G.," which many called Kendall Gill when he played at Illinois . . . Admires Gill "because we have the same approach to the game" . . . Hopes to play in the NBA someday.

JERRY HESTER

40

The only letterwinner from Manual thus far is Dan Elwell (1916).

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Though he needs to add strength and weight Hester's athleticism is reminiscent of members of the 1988-89 Flying Illini, which went to the NCAA Final Four . . . Will compete for playing time at the small forward position, but is versatile enough to play at the second guard spot as well.

HIGH SCHOOL

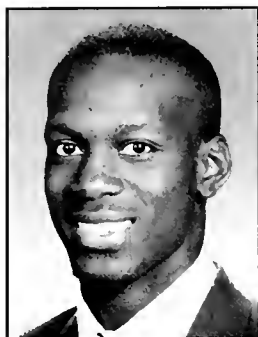

Listed among the nation's Top 60 recruits in 1993 by talent scout Van Coleman . . . Twice named to the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette all-state team . . . Averaged 18.7 points per game as a junior . . . Scored 21.3 points and grabbed 8.5 rebounds per game as a senior while shooting 55 percent from the field . . . A three-year starter, a two-time all-conference performer and a four-year letterman, he led Manual to the IHSA sectional final in 1993 . . . Also lettered three times in track . . .

Contributed 14 points to Team Illinois' victory over Team USA in the Nike/Chicago Sun-Times All-America game at the Rosemont Horizon last April . . . Earned MVP honors in the 1993 Illinois Basketball Coaches Association all-star game.

PERSONAL

Son of Jerry and Bonnie Hester . . . Biggest sports thrill has been playing on the 1991 Manual High School team which took second in the state his sophomore year . . . Enjoys watching television and listening to music . . . Major is undecided.

BRETT ROBISCH

AT ILLINOIS

1993-94: Has indicated a willingness to redshirt this season to gain size, strength and experience . . . Possesses a good shooting touch and handles the ball well, especially for a man of his size . . . Should provide the experienced front-line players with meaningful competition in practice.

HIGH SCHOOL

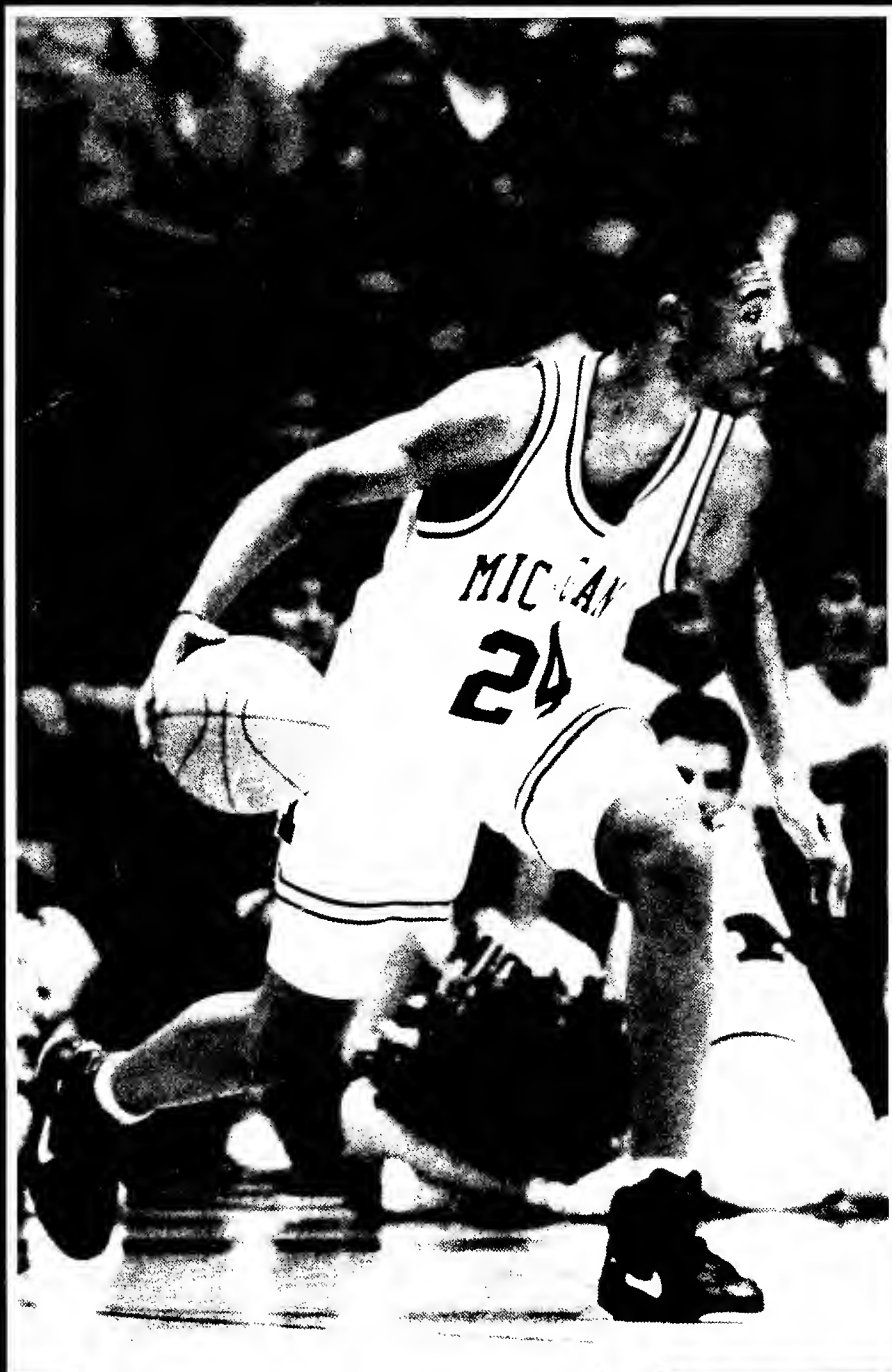

Shot 51 percent from the field and averaged 22 points and 11.6 rebounds per game as a senior, when he earned all-state honors from the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune, as well as Associated Press . . . Also was voted Springfield Male Athlete of the Year (1993), Class A Springfield Player of the Year (1993) and was a two-time all-Springfield selection, by the Springfield State Journal-Register . . . Earned special mention by the Champaign-

Urbana News-Gazette on its 1993 all-state team . . . Played in the 1993 Illinois Basketball Coaches Association All-Star game.

PERSONAL

Though they didn't play together, Brett and former Illini Rennie Clemons both played for Jim Drew at Calvary High School in Springfield . . . Was an honor roll student . . . Also enjoys playing baseball . . . Intends to attend graduate school after receiving his bachelor's degree at Illinois . . . Enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences . . . AU SCOUTING REPORT Outlook: If the American Eagles are to improve upon last season's sub-500 record, they will have to do so without the services of Brian Gilgeous, a three-time all-league player and the CAA Player of the Year in 1993. Coach Chris Knoche and his team will also miss Craig Sedmak, a three-year starter. Sedmak combined with Gilgeous to account for 37.5 points, 14.8 rebounds and 5.1 assists per game a year ago. Knoche doesn't expect any of his players to put up the kind of numbers those two players did but does hope for a balanced attack from his 1993-94 squad. The Eagles should be led by senior co-captains Erick Lawrence and Brian Palmer. Both forwards were modest scorers and rebounders last year. Other returning starters are Darryl Franklin and Tim Fudd, both of whom could be among the top players in the league this season. In addition, Michael Blackwell, a junior, is a competent outside shooter and may provide some of the firepower the Eagles need at guard.

CSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Joining the East Coast Conference earlier this year lays the groundwork for the Cougars to succeed as a legitimate NCAA Division I program. With the toughest schedule in school history, the Cougars now will have the opportunity to gain even greater exposure as they play host to several consistently successful teams. Leading the way for Chicago State will be senior Jason Hodges, who averaged 15.5 ppg during the 1992-93 season. Another key returnee is 5-foot-8-inch spark plug Ryan Malone, who was second on the team in both steals and assists in 1992-93. Also expected to contribute are a solid group of newcomers led by sophomore Coleco Buie and freshman Kory Billups. Buie, a non-qualifier in 1992-93, averaged 22 points per contest as a senior at Champaign (Ill.) Centennial. Billups put up big numbers for an outstanding Chicago Westinghouse squad last season.

Starters Returning/Lost: 3/2

UIC SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With two of the top players in the conference returning, the Flames seek to advance to the NCAA tournament in 1993-94. Leading the way will be senior point guard Kenny Williams. A two-time first team all-conference selection, Williams averaged 21.7 points per game in 1992-93. Equally impressive was junior forward Sherell Ford, who garnered second team all-conference and all-newcomer team honors last season while averaging 18.8 ppg and 8.4 rpg. Perhaps the biggest factor in the team's results will be the play of returning veterans Charles Brakes, Mario Bailey and Mike Lampley. Brakes averaged 7.1 points per game and pulled down 4.4 rebounds per contest last season. Bailey averaged 4.5 ppg, while playing 16.5 minutes per game. Lampley, an outstanding athlete, averaged 3.6 ppg in 1992-93.

IU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: There will be some big shoes for the Hoosiers to fill when they take the court in 1993-94. College Player of the Year Calbert Cheaney and classmate Greg Graham have moved on to the NBA. IU has also lost Chris Reynolds and Matt Nover to graduation. However, the return of starters Damon Bailey and Alan Henderson, along with the addition of one of the strongest recruiting classes in the nation, give Indiana cause for optimism. Bailey would appear to hold the key to the Hoosier fortunes, since historically, when Bailey plays well, the Indiana team does as well. Bailey averaged 10.1 ppg last season. Henderson is the only other returning double figure scorer for IU, netting 11.1 ppg while pulling down 8.1 rebounds per contest a season ago.

UI SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Rebuilding or reloading? Whatever you call it, coach Tom Davis has some big holes to fill. He will be without 63 percent of the scoring and 56 percent of the rebounding from a 1992-93 squad which finished with a 23-9 record and a lofty 13th-place ranking in the final Associated Press poll. Leading the way will be a senior small forward James Winters, who averaged 8.6 points and 5.5 rebounds per contest a season ago. Kevin Smith, the only other senior on the squad, returns to quarterback the team from his point guard position, where he finished among the league leaders in assists. Kenyon Murray, a 6-foot-5-inch swingman, started 10 games as a freshman and finished among the league leaders in steals.

JSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The 1993-94 Jackson State basketball team has a rough act to follow. Not only did the Tigers go 25-9 a year ago (the school's third-best overall record in its history), but they won the Southwestern Athletic Conference regular-season championship, strung together the nation's longest winning streak of 16 games and sent Lindsey Hunter to the NBA as a first-round pick. The cupboard is not bare for Coach Andy Stoglin. He has 11 lettermen and four of the five starters back from last year's team, including forward Godfrey Thompson, two-time SWAC Defensive Player of the Year, two-guard Ryan Lorthridge, who is billed as perhaps the best returning player in the SWAC, and senior point guard John Taylor, a three-year starter.

LU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: LaSalle should be a guard-dominated team in 1993-94, since its most experienced players are backcourt performers. Kareem Townes, who scored 22.5 points per game in the Explorers' 14-13 season a year ago, shares captain duties with Paul Burke, a 15.1 ppg scorer in 1992-93. Those junior guards are the lone double-figure scorers returning from last year's team, which finished third in its first campaign in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference. This 1993-94 squad has no seniors, and no where will the lack of experience and scoring punch show more than in the frontcourt. Terquin Mott has the most playing time in the frontcourt (21.5 mpg last season), and should split time between forward and center. The other two frontline players who should contribute the most are forward Romaine Haywood, who will play for the first time since sitting out last season due to NCAA Proposition 48 stipulations, and rookie Jasper Van Teeseling, from the Netherlands. Coach Speedy Morris' goal for the 1993-94 LaSalle team is to return to postseason play, which it missed last year after six consecutive trips.

MU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Coach Kevin O'Neill has eight returning lettermen, including four starters, from last year's 20-8 team which took third place in the Great Midwest Conference with a 6-4 mark and gained a berth in the NCAA tournament. Though 1992-93 leading scorer Ron Curry has completed his eligibility, three seniors will lead the way this season: forward-center Damon Key (second in scoring and rebounding last season), center Jim McIlvaine (No. 13 nationally in blocked shots last year - 2.8 bpg) and Marquette's all-time three-point shooter, Robb Logtermann. In addition, point guard Tony Miller, a junior, is a capable floor general. He led the nation's sophomores a year ago in assists with an average of 7.6 per game.

UM SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The Wolverines return four members of the "Fab Five," including one of the nation's top starting backcourts in Jimmy King and Jalen Rose. Rose is the leading returning scorer for Michigan, averaging 15.4 points per contest in 1992-93. He also averaged a team-high 3.9 assists per contest and will be looked at as the Wolverines "go to" guy in 1993-94. King averaged 10.8 points per game and had a team-high 57 steals a season ago. Jason Bossard, the lone senior on the squad, will be looked to for scoring punch off the bench in the backcourt. Up front, Michigan will be anchored by Juwan Howard and Ray Jackson. Howard, a second team All-Big Ten selection last season, is the Wolverines' leading returning rebounder, averaging 7.4 per contest in 1992-93. Jackson was Michigan's defensive stopper last season, and will be counted on share the offensive load in 1993-94.

MSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: After a season of near misses, the Spartans look to return to the Big Ten's upper division in 1993-94. Leading the way will be second team All-Big Ten selection Shawn Respert, a junior who averaged 20.1 points per contest a season ago. Eric Snow returns to the Spartan offense at point guard from where he averaged 5.2 (third in the Big Ten) assists per contest in 1992-93. The forwards, although largely untested, are a talented group. Anthony Miller, a 6-foot-9-inch senior, appears poised for a good final campaign after averaging 6.6 points and 5.2 rebounds per contest a season ago. If sophomore Daimon Bethca and talented freshmen Jon Garavaglia (1993 Michigan Mr. Basketball) and Steve Polonowski (redshirt) contribute, this could be a team to reckon with.

UM SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The Golden Gophers are hoping to parlay the 1993 N.I.T. tournament championship into a strong 1993-94 season. Leading the way will be backcourt stars Vashon Lenard and Arriel McDonald. Lenard, an All-Big Ten second team selection last season, averaged 17.1 points per game to lead Minnesota in 1992-93. He also was named the most valuable player of the N.I.T. McDonald, an outstanding play maker, led the Gophers in assists (4.4 per game) for the third-consecutive season in 1992-93, while scoring 11 points per contest. Up front, talented starters Randy Carter, Chad Kolander and Jayson Walton return. Carter averaged 11.4 points and 6.9 rebounds per game last season. Kolander, regarded as Minnesota's defensive stopper, averaged 5.9 points and 4.3 rebounds per game in 1992-93 while battling some of the Big Ten's best low-post players. Walton, one of the most improved players in the Big Ten last season, was second on the squad in both scoring (11.9) and rebounding (6.3) per game in 1992-93. For depth off the bench, veterans Townsend Orr and Ryan Wolf can contribute in the backcourt. Down low, Ernest Nzigamasabo and David Washington will battle redshirt freshman Trevor Winter and newcomer John Thomas for playing time.

MISSOURI SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Though Missouri went 5-9 and finished in seventh place in the Big 8 season last year, the team got hot and won the conference's postseason tournament. And although the Tigers are without Jeff Warren, their all-time career field-goal percentage leader (.614) who graduated, they may be in a position to pick up where they left off, since they have eight seniors returning and an impressive list of new recruits. Senior point guard Melvin Booker, who led Mizzou in scoring, assists and free-throw shooting last year, is back and will lead the way. Jevon Crudup, led the Tigers in rebounding a year ago and was a consensus honorable mention Big 8 performer, but will sit out the first semester because of violating team rules last summer. He is expected to be available for the Illinois game. Second guard Mark Atkins will be looked to for scoring punch, since he holds four MU three-point shooting records. And Chris Heller was the MVP of the Big 8 Tournament last March and returns at center. Missouri's second-division Big 8 finish last season was its first in nearly 10 years. Coach Norm Stewart hopes to bring his team back up to contending status in a league that is considered extremely balanced and one of the best in the nation.

MSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The 1993-94 Morehead State team provides third-year head coach Dick Fick with his deepest, most talented squad since taking over the Eagle basketball fortunes. Though only four lettermen return, all of them were starters a year ago. Swingmen Kelly Wells and Johnnie Williams, forward John Brannen and guard Marty Cline accounted for more than 60 percent of the team's minutes played and more than 58 percent of the points scored. Both Brannen and Cline were selected for the OVC all-newcomer team in 1992-93. The quartet will be augmented by three transfers from Tallahassee (Fla.) Junior College: Willie Perry, a scorer with great quickness; Tyrone Boardley, a rebounder and defender; and Mike Gillespie, probably a backup point guard. Dwayne Down, a transfer from Victory Valley (Calif.) College, will also be on the team, as will senior Keith Kinzler, another newcomer.

NU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Experience will likely be the key as the Wildcats, under first-year head coach Ricky Byrdsong at the controls, return four starters from last year's 8-19 squad. Leading the way will be senior guard Patrick Baldwin, an honorable mention All-Big Ten selection in 1992-93, averaged 12.6 ppg and led the Wildcats in steals and assists a season ago. Also back at guard for Northwestern is senior Todd Leslie, who was regarded as one of the top three-point shooters in the nation before being sidelined by a knee injury in 1992-93. Cedric Neloms, the Wildcats' leading scorer (16.8 ppg) a season ago, also returns at small forward and should team with honorable mention All-Big Ten selection Kevin Rankin, T.J. Rayford and Dewey Williams to give the Wildcats a solid front court.

OSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Coach Randy Ayers has all five starters returning from last season, which should bode well for the Buckeyes as they try to improve their 15-13 record. A pair of talented sophomores, Derek Anderson and Greg Simpson, excelled as freshmen a season ago and may lead the way. Simpson was chosen as Big Ten Freshman of the Year after averaging 9.6 points and 2.6 assists per game. Also returning for their final campaigns are Lawrence Funderburke and Jamie Skelton. Funderburke led the Buckeyes in scoring (16.3 ppg) and rebounding (6.8 rpg), while earning third team All-Big Ten accolades in 1992. Skelton, an All-Big Ten honorable mention selection last year, averaged 14.2 ppg and also handed out a team-high 79 assists. With a solid group of big men returning, the Buckeyes are looking to improve their inside scoring and defense. If they do, an NCAA tournament berth should be within reach.

PSU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: After an inaugural season trial by fire, the Nittany Lions hope to improve in 1993-94. The key to Coach Bruce Parkhill's conference fortunes will be in the hands of center John Amaechi, a 6-foot-10-inch junior from Manchester, England. Amaechi, a third team all-Big Ten selection in 1992-93, averaged 13.8 points and 7.6 rebounds per contest last season. The return of Matt Gaudio, who was sidelined by injuries, should pay off immediately for the Lions, because he averaged 8.6 points and 4.1 rebounds per game as a freshman in 1991-92. The backcourt looks to improve in 1993-94. Starters Michael Jennings and Greg Bartram are joined by high school All-American Dan Earl. Earl, from Medford Lakes, N.J., might step right in as point guard. If Earle can make the adjustment from high school to college ranks, Jennings should be set for a banner senior season at his natural position of off guard.

PU SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Versatility may be the key word for the Boilermakers in 1993-94, with 12 lettermen and eight players who have starting experience returning. Add Glenn Robinson, a candidate for national player of the year and successful 14th-year coach Gene Keady to the mix, and it's easy to see why expectations are high in West Lafayette. Robinson averaged 24.1 points per contest a season ago. Cuonzo Martin will look to add consistency to a game which showed flashes of brilliance last year. Matt Waddell and Porter Roberts return to the Boiler backcourt. Waddell, who has started 36 games in his career, averaged 7.1 ppg last year. The Boilermakers have formidable centers Kenny Williams and Cornelius McNary being joined in the pivot by 7-foot-2-inch Holland native Matt ten Dam.

UT-MARTIN SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: In their second year in Division I, the Pacers and Coach Cal Luther are hoping to make strides toward winning their first Ohio Valley Conference Crown. Leading the way for UT-Martin is point guard Dewayne "Pooh" Powell. Powell, a member of the OVC All-Newcomer quintet in 1992-93, averaged 11.6 points and 3.3 assists per contest last season. Chris Busyn, a native of Wilmette, Ill., is the only other returning starter for the Pacers. Busyn averaged 5.7 points and 3.7 rebounds per contest last season. Also being expected to contribute are a pair of former transfers, Sidney Benton and Felipe Phillips. Benton was second on the team in rebounding in 1992-93, and Phillips hit 43 percent of his three point attempts last season.

UT SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: After a disappointing 1992-93 campaign, the Longhorns hope to return to the fullcourt, fast-break style which propelled them to 20-victory seasons four years running. Senior B.J. Tyler (17.3 ppg) and junior Terrence Rencher (19.1 ppg) return to ignite the Texas attack. With returnees Tommy Penders and Tony Watson being pushed for playing time by junior college all-star Roderick Anderson, the Longhorns have what many consider to be one of the finest backcourts in the nation in place for 1993-94. Up front, Texas is hoping to regain the services of 6-foot-8-inch strong man Albert Burditt, a senior who was among the nation's leaders in blocked shots (4.2 per game) and rebounding (14.1) until being declared ineligible in January. A trio of transfers are also being relied upon to contribute this season. Rich McIver, who came to Austin from the University of Michigan, gives the Longhorns the type of physical inside presence which they have lacked in recent years. Small Forward Tremaine Wingfield (Louisville) is a tremendous athlete who can jump through the roof, and Carl Simpson (18.2 ppg at Lee College) is also in the hunt for playing time.

UW SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Optimism abounds as second-year head coach Stu Jackson and the Badgers prepare for the 1993-94 season. Four starters and 11 letterwinners return from a squad which posted a 14-14 record and flirted with an NCAA tournament bid. Add what is possibly the finest recruiting class in school history and it is easy to see why hopes are running high in Madison. Senior Tracy Webster, a third team all-Big Ten performer a year ago, returns to direct the Badgers from the point. Webster set school single season records for assists (179), and steals (66) while contributing 14.1 points per game. Junior Michael Finley led the Badgers in scoring (22.1), rebounding (5.8) and three-pointers (63) while receiving first team all-Big Ten accolades last season. Finley returns to lead the forward corps. With recruits Jalil Roberts and Rashard Griffith adding depth and rebounding muscle, the strides made last season should continue.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents Jan. 11, 1895, at the Palmer House in Chicago, was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings. Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart, president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action was to "restrict eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." This helped limit some problems of the times, especially the participation of professional athletes and "non-students" in the university's regular sporting events. That important legislation, along with others that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

Eleven months after the presidents' meeting, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met again at the Palmer House, and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives," or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference."

The seven universities were: the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin. Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946, and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1949.

After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, the Big Ten recently expanded to 11 members for the first time. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Ten, comprised of Big Ten university presidents, voted to confirm its earlier decision to integrate Pennsylvania State University into the conference. The Nittany Lions begin play in the Big Ten Conference in 1992-93.

At the turn of the century, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1906, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence. Freshmen and graduate students were not permitted to compete, training tables (or quarters) were forbidden, and coaches were to be appointed by university bodies "at modest salaries."

Football and baseball were the popular sports prior to 1900. The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track; it was held at the University of Chicago in 1906 and won by Michigan.

Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some, like football and basketball, became extremely popular, while others, like boxing, fell by the wayside. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 11 championships for men and 10 for women.

1992-93 SEASON-IN- REVIEW

The Illinois men's basketball prospects for 1992-93 were considerably greater than the previous year. After finishing a dismal 13-15 in 1991-92 and a disappointing eighth in the Big Ten, Lou Henson and his staff developed a club that would finish in the first division of the Big Ten and return to the NCAA tournament for the first time since the 1989-90 season.

Led by 1990-91 Illini season-leading scorer Andy Kaufmann and preseason All-Big Ten selection Deon Thomas, the Fighting Illini were destined to return to their accustomed place among the Big Ten's best.

In addition to Kaufmann and Thomas, the Illini returned four of their five starters from the previous year. Returning point guard Rennie Clemons, forward Tom Michael and guard T.J. Wheeler were joined by newcomers Chris Gandy and one of the most-heralded Illini recruits in recent memory, Richard Keene.

Just days after losing his son, Lou, Jr., in an automobile crash, Lou Henson led his squad into the Great Alaska Shootout to face Dayton in the season opener.

Led by Thomas' 25 points and 13 rebounds, the Fighting Illini defeated the Flyers, 86-78, in overtime to advance to the semifinal game against Vanderbilt. Kaufmann led the scoring attack against the Commodores, tallying 27 points on 12-of-14 shooting from the field as the Illini routed Vanderbilt, 93-77, and advanced to the championship game against New Mexico State.

Once again, Kaufmann led the Illini attack with 32 points and 11 rebounds and was named to the all-tournament team along with Thomas. However, Kaufmann's heroics fell short in the shootout championship game as the Aggies upended the Illini, 95-94.

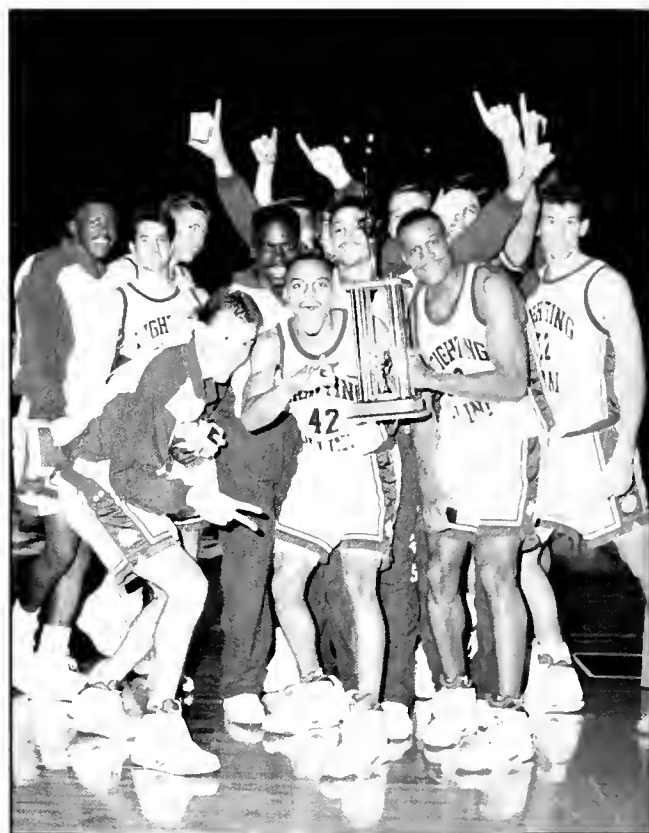

The Fighting Illini returned home and promptly won their next five games, all of which were played at the Assembly Hall.

Illinois escaped the upset-minded UIC Flames with a narrow 70-68 victory. Two days later, Keene was 4-of-6 from 3-point range and helped lead his team to an 88-61 win over Chicago State.

Illinois sustained its dominance of the Illini Classic with victories over Jackson State (85-81) and Princeton (58-50) to improve its record to 28-0 in Classic play. Kaufmann was named to the all-tournament team, and Thomas was the tourney MVP.

Illinois completed its five game win streak by knocking off Mercer, 77-58, behind Andy Kaufmann's 26-point performance.

The streaking Illini traveled to the St. Louis Arena to face Norm Stewart's Missouri Tigers Dec. 23 in the 12th annual Busch Braggin' Rights Series. The border battle featured four Tiger players in double figures and poor 19-of-57 shooting from the field for the Fighting Illini, as they lost, 66-65.

Despite 25 points each from Thomas and Kaufmann, the Illini ran into a chainsaw at Texas Dec. 26. The Longhorns toppled the Orange and Blue, 89-72.

Illinois returned home but continued its sluggish play against Marquette. The Warriors used a 39-30 rebounding edge to defeat the Fighting Illini, 61-58. The loss marked the first time Henson had lost three-consecutive games to non-Big Ten foes while coaching at Illinois.

The Fighting Illini opened Big Ten play with a pair of road wins, stealing games at Northwestern and at Michigan State.

The Fighting Illini returned home with a 2-0 Big Ten record to face conference-favorite Indiana. The Hoosiers hit on 26-of-32 free throws and All-American Calbert Cheaney scored 30 points as the Cream and Crimson handed the Illini a 83-79 loss and denied Henson his 600th career win.

Henson would not have to wait long as Illinois defeated Penn State, 82-66, three days later. The Illini made 24-of-24 free throws, a school and Assembly Hall record, in the contest. With the victory, Henson became the 16th coach in NCAA history to reach the 600-victory plateau.

Crisler Arena was the site of Illinois' next contest. The Wolverines defeated the Fighting Illini, 76-68, to hand Illinois its second Big Ten loss of the year and drop the team into a tie for third place with Wisconsin in the conference standings.

The Fighting Illini had a chance to break that tie the very next game when they hosted the Badgers. Thomas led the Illini with his eighth double-double of the season, scoring 23 points and grabbing 11 rebounds as Illinois held off Wisconsin, 80-72.

Illinois improved its conference record to 5-2 in an 86-76 victory over Ohio State.

The triumph was the first after five consecutive defeats at the hands of the Buckeyes and the first for the Illini at Columbus since 1989.

Illinois continued its winning ways against eighth-ranked Iowa. The victory over Iowa was an emotional one, with a 23-foot trey by Kaufmann at the buzzer the difference in the 78-77 victory.

With just a day-and-a-half between games, the Illini then hosted Northwestern. The Orange and Blue came out flat against the Wildcats but used a 25-3 run during a nine-minute stretch in the second half to help turn a 33-32 halftime deficit into an 82-67 victory.

The Illini picked up their fifth consecutive win when junior forward Tom Michael went 3-for-3 from three-point range and the team held off Michigan State, 83-80.

Illinois' progress seemed to come to a screeching halt when it stepped outside the conference to host Pittsburgh Feb. 13. The 17th-ranked Panthers snapped the five-game win streak by shooting 56 percent from the field and outrebounding the Illini, 35-27, in posting a 95-79 victory.

There was no relief in site for the Orange and Blue as it traveled to Bloomington, Ind., to face the Hoosiers, now ranked No. 1. Illinois trailed by as many as 23 points in the first half and eventually fell to Indiana, 93-72.

The Illini broke their two-game losing streak with a 74-66 win at Penn State, without Kaufmann, who elected not to make the trip after a disagreement with the coaching staff.

After returning home, Clemons scored 21 points and Kaufmann added 20 as Illinois edged Purdue, 78-70, in double overtime.

Illinois traveled north for its next two games and came back without a win. The Illini got 23 points from Kaufmann, but shot just 40 percent from the field in a 74-66 loss at Wisconsin. The Fighting Illini continued their poor offensive output, losing at Minnesota, 67-65.

Illinois returned to Champaign for its next two games. Thomas tallied 22 points and Keene was 4-for-4 from the arc as Illinois rolled to an 85-73 win over Ohio State to improve to 11-5 in the Big Ten.

Michigan's "super sophs" proved to be too much once again as the Wolverines, ranked No. 3 in the nation, outlasted Illinois in overtime, 98-97.

The final regular season game pitted the Illini against the Iowa Hawkeyes in Iowa City. A balanced Hawkeye scoring attack, led by Val Barnes with 16 points, and an aggressive defense spelled defeat for the Illini, who lost, 63-53.

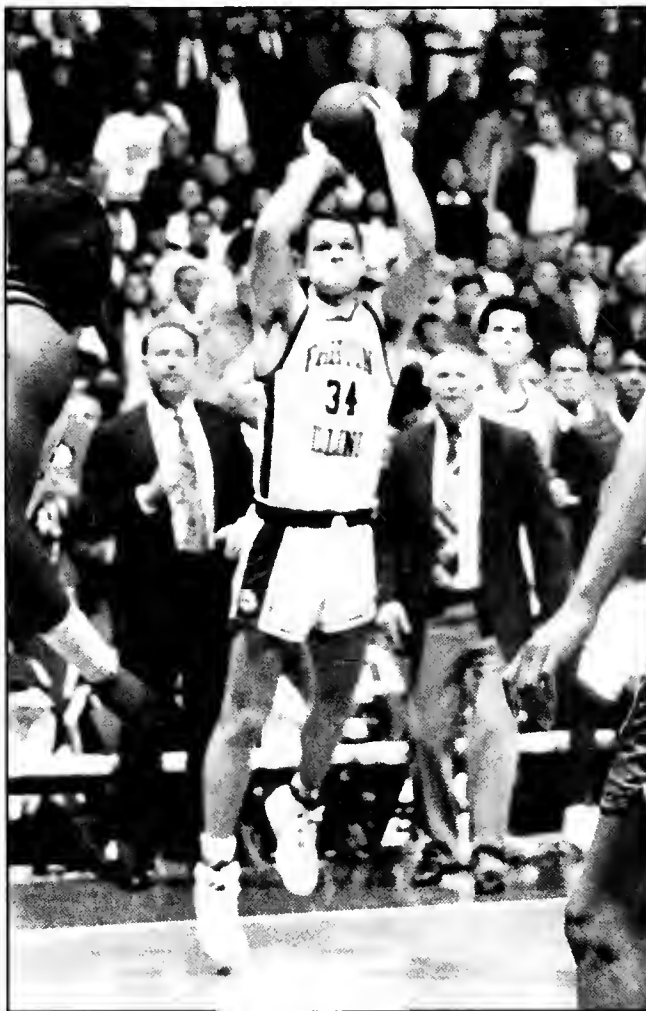

The loss dropped the Illini to 18-12 overall, 11-7 in the Big Ten and a tie for third with Iowa.

Illinois was rewarded for its successful season with an invitation to the NCAA tournament. The Illini received an at-large bid and a sixth-seed in the NCAA West Regional.

Illinois' first round opponent was 11th-seed Long Beach State. A 36-22 rebounding edge and a 20-point performance by Thomas propelled the Illini past the 49ers, 73-70. The win marked Illinois' first postseason victory since advancing to the Final Four in 1989.

Southeastern Conference champion and third-seeded Vanderbilt was Illinois' second-round opponent. The Commodores used 10 three-pointers and shot 57 percent from the field to vault past the Illini, 85-68, and avenge an early-season defeat at the Great Alaska Shootout.

The loss stood between Illinois and its 12th 20-win season under Henson, with the team's final record 19-13.

Andy Kaufmann's three-point shot as time expired sent Illinois to a 77-76 victory over eighth-ranked Iowa Feb. 4.

DAYTON VS. ILLINOIS

Nov. 25, 1992, Sullivan Arena, Anchorage, Alaska
(Great Alaska Shootout)

Illinois 86, Dayton 78 (OT)

Junior walk-on Davin Harris came off the bench to spark a second-half rally to lift Illinois to a come-from-behind overtime victory over the pesky Flyers. Harris ran the team from the point guard position during his 26 minutes of action in place of Rennie Clemons, who did not play in any of Illinois' three games at the Great Alaska Shootout. Clemons suffered a deep thigh bruise in preseason practice which kept him on the bench. Illinois was paced offensively by junior Deon Thomas' 18 points and 13 rebounds, while senior teammate Andy Kaufmann returned to the lineup after a year off to score 18 points and grab a team-leading 15 boards.

VANDERBILT VS. ILLINOIS

Nov. 27, 1992, Sullivan Arena, Anchorage, Alaska
(Great Alaska Shootout)

Illinois 93, Vanderbilt 77

Andy Kaufmann continued to show little ill effect from his year away from the Illini basketball team as he poured in 27 points against Vanderbilt. Kaufmann shot a blistering 12-14 from the field that included a three-pointer to go with a 2-2 effort from the free-throw line. As a team, Illinois shot nearly 64 percent from the field. Deon Thomas also was hot from the floor in scoring 21 points. Thomas connected on 9-10 shots from the paint and added 3-4 from the charity stripe. T.J. Wheeler (15) and Robert Bennett (11) also added double-figure scoring for Illinois.

ILLINOIS VS. NEW MEXICO STATE

Nov. 28, 1992, Sullivan Arena, Anchorage, Alaska
(Great Alaska Shootout)

New Mexico State 95, Illinois 94

The Illini rallied from an eight-point deficit at the half to take a four-point lead over a talented New Mexico State ball club, but could not shut the door on the Aggies in the championship game of the Great Alaska Shootout. Five-foot-7-inch Sam Crawford led NMSU with 31 points, and all five Aggie starters scored in double figures. Illinois head coach Lou Henson, who coached the Aggies before coming over to Champaign, saw his chances for a tournament championship dashed when T.J. Wheeler's last-second shot failed to hit its mark. Andy Kaufmann continued to attack the Illinois career-scoring record with 32 points against the Aggies. Deon Thomas chipped in 19 points behind classmate Tom Michael, who connected on 6-10 three pointers on his way to 21 points for the game. Kaufmann and Thomas earned all-tournament honors.

ILLINOIS-CHICAGO VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 3, 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Illinois 70, Illinois-Chicago 68

The University of Illinois-Chicago came in to visit the Illini with one of the best teams in the school's history — and it showed. UIC gave the Illini a scare as the Flames came up just short in a 70-68 Illini win. Deon Thomas led all scorers in the game with 19 followed by Andy Kaufmann (16) and junior T.J. Wheeler (12). UIC was the quicker team, forcing the Illini into 18 turnovers, but Illinois was able to overcome the miscues as well as Kaufmann's poor night from the field. In the end, it was UI's rebounding edge (45-32) that cost UIC the chance at the win.

CHICAGO STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 5, 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Illinois 88, Chicago State 61

Illinois head coach Lou Henson continued to experiment with his starting lineup against Chicago State. The Illini opened slowly but finished strong in handing the Cougars an 88-61 defeat. Illinois had five players score in double figures. Three of those five, Richard Keene, Robert Bennett and Andy Kaufmann, came off the bench. Keene began to show signs he was over early season jitters by connecting on 4-6 three-pointers, including a stretch where he pitched in three in less than three minutes. Bennett played in just the second half but tied starter Deon Thomas for the team lead in scoring with 16 points. The Cougars, who were in the midst of an eight-game road swing, were led by Jason Hodges' game-high 24 points.

JACKSON STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 11, 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.
(Illini Classic)

Illinois 85, Jackson State 81

Illinois extended its Illini Classic winning streak to 27 (with no defeats) in the first game of the 14th annual classic. Jackson State nearly pulled off the upset with a second-half comeback effort led by senior guard Lindsey Hunter, who scored 39 of his game-high 43 points in the second half. Illinois led 42-27 at the break, but the Tigers quickly closed the gap in outscoring the Illini 54-43 in the final 20 minutes. Illinois was led by Deon Thomas' 22 points and 11 rebounds. In all, five Illini players scored in double figures.

PRINCETON VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 12 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.
(Illini Classic)

Illinois 58, Princeton 50

The Fighting Illini continued their unbeaten streak in the Illini Classic by downing the well-coached and methodical Princeton Tigers, 58-51. Illinois has won every game (28) in the 14-year history of the classic. The contest with the Tigers was one of the more exciting as the perennial Ivy League power played smart and confidently in taking the game to the wire, before Illinois' Robert Bennett iced the game at the foul line with less than two seconds showing on the clock. Andy Kaufmann was near perfect offensively hitting 5-6 shots from the field, 2-3 from three-point range and 8-11 from the free throw line. Both Thomas and Kaufmann were named to the all-tournament team for their efforts.

MERCER VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 20 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Illinois 77, Mercer 58

Mercer jumped out to an early 13-3 lead against a cold-shooting Illini squad, but the Bears could not sustain the charge. Illinois came back to take a 35-25 halftime lead and never looked back in beating Mercer in the first meeting between the schools. Andy Kaufmann led the Illini with 26 points in front of 1,000 fans from his hometown on Jacksonville Day at the Assembly Hall. Three other Illini players turned in double-figure efforts with Deon Thomas pitching in 16. UI recored its 300th win at the Assembly Hall against just 91 defeats.

MISSOURI VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 23, 1992, St. Louis Arena, St. Louis, Mo.

Missouri 66, Illinois 65

The Illini shot just 33 percent from the field but still managed to remain close to the Tigers down the stretch in the annual Braggin' Rights matchup. Missouri spread the scoring around with four players recording double figures in the contest, led by Melvin Booker's 16 points. Illinois was able to keep close throughout by hitting 21-25 from the free-throw line for 84 percent.

MARQUETTE VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 29, 1992, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Marquette 61, Illinois 58

The Fighting Illini received only one point from their bench in losing to the Warriors by three in their final game of 1992. T.J. Wheeler came up with the only point in a reserve role as the Illini dropped their third-consecutive non-conference game. Andy Kaufmann (19), Deon Thomas (15) and Rennie Clemons (11) paced the Illini in scoring. The loss dropped Illinois to 7-4 during the first half of the 1992-93 season heading into the Big Ten portion of the schedule.

ILLINOIS VS. NORTHWESTERN

Jan. 7, 1993, Welsh Ryan Arena, Evanston, Ill.

Illinois 81, Northwestern 71

Illinois opened the Big Ten season with a road win over the Wildcats. Four Illini players notched 14 points or better led by Andy Kaufmann, who had 18. Robert Bennett followed with 16. The Illini defense held Northwestern center Kevin Rankin to just 4-11 shooting from the field despite Rankin being one of the best percentage shooters in the conference. As a team, Illinois shot 52 percent from the field for the game while the defense held the Wildcats to just 41 percent.

ILLINOIS VS. MICHIGAN STATE

Jan. 9, 1993, Breslin Center, East Lansing, Mich.

Illinois 52, Michigan State 39

The Illini started out the Big Ten season with their second-consecutive road win. The 39 points given up by the Illini were the fewest yielded to a Big Ten opponent since the Orange and Blue defeated Wisconsin, 57-36, in Champaign Jan. 24, 1948. Illinois' defense was solid in the win allowing the Spartans to shoot just 31 percent from the field and 13 percent from three-point range. On offense, the Illini struggled as well, hitting on just 39 percent from the field. Deon Thomas led UI with 13 points while Andy Kaufmann pitched in 10.

INDIANA VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 16, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Indiana 83, Illinois 79

A 30-point effort by Indiana's Calbert Cheaney, including a 14-16 mark from the free-throw line, kept Illinois from a home Big Ten upset of the Hoosiers. Cheaney finished with a game-high 30 points in a game that saw four players from each team score in double figures. Illinois was paced by Deon Thomas with 23 points and nine rebounds. Illini freshman guard Richard Keene contributed 14 points. Andy Kaufmann also added 14 points while T.J. Wheeler added 10.

PENN STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 21, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Henson collects Career Win No. 600

Illinois 82, Penn State 66

Illini head coach Lou Henson became only the 16th coach in NCAA history to attain 600 victories with the 82-66 defeat of Penn State. The game was the first Big Ten visit to the Assembly Hall by the Nittany Lions. On this night, everything seemed to be clicking for Illinois. As a team, the Illini connected on 24-of-24 free-throw shots to establish an Assembly Hall record. Illinois also had a season-low five turnovers in the contest. Combined, both teams turned the ball over just 13 times. Penn State's John Amaechi posted a career high of 29 points and five blocked shots. Illinois' Deon Thomas was not far behind Amaechi. Thomas scored 24 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and blocked four Nittany Lion shots.

ILLINOIS VS. MICHIGAN

Jan. 23, 1993, Crisler Arena, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MICHIGAN 76, ILLINOIS 68

Illinois' Andy Kaufmann scored a game-high 27 points, 21 of which came in the final 13:46 of the game, but it was not enough as the powerful Michigan Wolverines continued to flex their Big Ten muscles at home in downing the Illini, 76-68. Kaufmann snapped a string of contests in which he struggled from the field by hitting 10-24 shots, including 2-6 three-pointers. Deon Thomas followed Kaufmann in scoring with 18 points, while Robert Bennett tied Michigan's Chris Webber with a game-high nine rebounds. Michigan had three players in double figures: Jalen Rose with 25, Webber with 13 and Jimmy King with 12.

WISCONSIN VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 27, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 80, WISCONSIN 72

After scoring 12 points in 20 minutes, Illinois senior Andy Kaufmann was ejected from the game with Wisconsin after earning his second technical foul. Illinois used the emotion surrounding the event to hold off a pesky Badger squad for a 80-72 victory, which gave the Illini sole possession of third place in the Big Ten. The Badgers were led by sophomore Michael Finley, who scored a game-high 30 points before fouling out in the waning seconds of the contest. Illinois was paced by Deon Thomas' 23 points and game-high 11 rebounds.

Thomas scored eight consecutive points during one stretch late in the game to keep the Badgers at bay. The game marked the eighth of the season in which Thomas scored more than 10 points and collected more than 10 rebounds.

ILLINOIS VS. OHIO STATE

Jan. 30, 1993, St. John Arena, Columbus, Ohio

ILLINOIS 86, OHIO STATE 76

Ohio State jumped to an early 13-9 lead but the Illini responded with an 11-0 run, taking a 20-13 lead they never relinquished, in downing the Buckeyes, 86-76. It was Illinois' first win in Columbus in four years. Six Illinois players scored in double figures, led by Andy Kaufmann's 22. Robert Bennett had a team-high eight rebounds, and Rennie Clemons and Brooks Taylor each dished out five assists.

IOWA VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 4, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 78, IOWA 77

Illinois had not defeated an opponent ranked in the Top 10 in its last 12 tries until the Hawkeyes fell victim to a buzzer-beating three-pointer by Illini senior Andy Kaufmann. Kaufmann needed every tenth of the 1.5 seconds remaining when he received a three-quarter court pass from T.J. Wheeler, spun, planted and lofted the bomb from directly in front of the Illinois bench. The ball never touched iron as it fell through for the victory sending a throng of Illini fans and players atop Kaufmann in celebration. Lost in the excitement was Richard Keene's 15 points, all coming on three-pointers. His last trey came off a steal by Rennie Clemons, his 100th of his career, with 35 seconds left to tie the game at 75. Illinois finished the game with 11 three-pointers, including five by Keene and four by Kaufmann.

NORTHWESTERN VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 6, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 82, NORTHWESTERN 67

Following a sluggish first half performance, the Fighting Illini came out strong in the second 20 minutes to down Northwestern, 82-67. The Wildcats became the first opponent to lose 100 games to Illinois in the history of Illini basketball. UI is now 100-31 against the Wildcats. NU looked like it would not allow the Illini win No. 100 early as the Wildcats took a narrow 33-32 lead into the break. But Illinois responded with authority in the second frame, outscoring NU, 50-34, to secure the win. Deon Thomas paced the Illini with 20 points and nine rebounds.

MICHIGAN STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 10, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 83, MICHIGAN STATE 80

A balanced Illini scoring attack led to a narrow 83-80 Illinois win over the Spartans. Point guard Rennie Clemons paced Illinois with 18 points. He also contributed five rebounds and a game-high eight assists to go with just one turnover. Classmate Deon Thomas was the high scorer for Illinois with 21 points. Sophomore Robert Bennett continued his consistent play with 10 points and 10 rebounds. Michigan State suffered through foul trouble for much of the contest, and Illinois outscored the Spartans, 27-11, from the foul line.

PITTSBURGH VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 13, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

PITTSBURGH 95, ILLINOIS 79

The Big East Conference flexed its muscles when the University of Pittsburgh visited the Assembly Hall and trounced the Illini, 95-79, in a rare mid-season non-conference matchup. Led by Chris McNeal's 30 points and eight rebounds, the Panthers easily controlled the Illini in the 16-point win. Illinois was led by Deon Thomas' 26 points and six rebounds. Andy Kaufmann followed for the Illini with 15 points.

ILLINOIS VS. INDIANA

Feb. 17, 1993, Assembly Hall, Bloomington, Ind.

INDIANA 93, ILLINOIS 72

The Indiana Hoosiers kept their undefeated status in the Big Ten Conference intact with a decisive 93-72 win over Illinois. Indiana led 54-33 at the half and then cruised to the victory over the second 20 minutes. Illinois was led by Deon Thomas and T.J. Wheeler with 14 points apiece with Andy Kaufmann (12) and Richard Keene (11) close behind. Indiana senior Calbert Cheaney paced five Hoosiers in double figures with 29 points. The game was interrupted on four occasions because of technical fouls, two for each team. The Illinois bench and Brooks Taylor were whistled for the Illini, and Cheaney and Chris Reynolds were scolded for Indiana.

ILLINOIS VS. PENN STATE

Feb. 20, 1993, Recreation Hall, University Park, Pa.

ILLINOIS 74, PENN STATE 66

Illinois juniors Rennie Clemons and Deon Thomas stole the show on the road at Penn State combining for 48 of the Illini's 74 points in the win over the Nittany Lions, their second of the season. Clemons scored a season-high 22 points on 9-11 shooting from the field. The junior's impressive one-handed driving dunk over Penn State center John Amaechi epitomized the effort of the Illini throughout the contest. Thomas led all scorers with 26 points while holding Amaechi to just 12 and four rebounds. The Illini were without senior forward Andy Kaufmann, who after discussing academic troubles with Illinois head coach Lou Henson, decided to forego the trip to Penn State.

PURDUE VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 25, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 78, PURDUE 70 (2 OT)

With the addition of Penn State to the Big Ten docket, the Fighting Illini faced Purdue just once in the 1992-93 season. That was just fine with Illinois coach Lou Henson, whose team survived a hard-fought double-overtime game with the Boilers, winning, 78-70, on ESPN. Illinois' Deon Thomas put the Illini up 53-50 with 31 seconds left in regulation, but Purdue answered with a three-pointer by Matt Painter at the 17-second mark to send the contest into the first overtime. Purdue then took the upper hand 63-61 late in the first extra set when Ian Stanback banked in a layup with 4.1 seconds to go. Illinois responded with 0.4 seconds remaining when senior Andy Kaufmann knocked down a pair of clutch free throws to send the game into the second additional five-minute period. Six Illinois players scored in the final overtime to help the Illini outscore Purdue, 15-7, and claim the victory.

ILLINOIS VS. WISCONSIN

Feb. 28, 1993, UW Fieldhouse Madison, Wis.

WISCONSIN 74, ILLINOIS 66

The Illini entered the road game with the Badgers relatively confident an NCAA tournament bid was coming, but needing another Big Ten win to secure a berth. Wisconsin looked at the game as a "must win" situation to keep its hopes alive for an NCAA tournament bid. The Illini started strong, leading by as many as 11 (31-20) with 6:19 to play in the first half. Wisconsin rallied to take its first lead with 11:26 to go in the second 20 minutes before claiming an eight-point win. Deon Thomas scored 11 points and grabbed 11 rebounds for his ninth "double-double" of the year.

ILLINOIS VS. MINNESOTA

March 3, 1993, Williams Arena, Minneapolis, Minn.

MINNESOTA 67, ILLINOIS 65

The Golden Gophers thought they may have secured a spot in the NCAA tournament in their only meeting with Illinois in 1992-93 by downing the Illini, 67-65. Illinois was able to place four players in double figures, though neither of the team's two leading scorers, junior Deon Thomas and senior Andy Kaufmann, were much of a factor in the loss. Thomas scored a season-low 10 points while Kaufmann notched just two points to break a 57-game streak of double-figure scoring. The loss was Illinois' fourth in its last six contests.

OHIO STATE VS. ILLINOIS

March 6, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 85, OHIO STATE 73

Illinois trailed by as many as 12 points in the first half but rallied in time to take a 40-39 lead at the break following a fade-away three-pointer from the right wing by freshman Richard Keene. Illinois then took command, leading by as many as 19 after a Deon Thomas two-handed windmill slam with 4:46 to play in the game. Five Illini players scored in double figures, led by Thomas with 22, as Ohio State fell for the second time in the season to Illinois. Andy Kaufmann had one of his best games as an Illini with 18 points and four assists.

MICHIGAN VS. ILLINOIS

March 10, 1993, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

MICHIGAN 98, ILLINOIS 97 (OT)

For the first time in their last 11 tries, the Fighting Illini lost in overtime as Michigan escaped the Assembly Hall with a 98-97 win in Illinois' last home game of the season. The Illini ran up a 14-point lead midway through the first half but could not hang on. Senior Andy Kaufmann finished his home career with 27 points for the Illini, followed by a 24-point effort turned in by junior Deon Thomas and a career-high 19 from freshman Richard Keene, including several clutch three-point shots. The Wolverines were paced by Jalen Rose who had 23 points, including six in overtime. Chris Webber added 22 to go with 14 rebounds. Juwan Howard and Jimmy King were also in double figures with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

ILLINOIS VS. IOWA

March 13, 1993, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Iowa City, Iowa

IOWA 63, ILLINOIS 53

Iowa disposed of Illinois, 63-53, in the regular-season finale for both teams. Iowa shot just 37 percent from the field, but it was still better than the 35-percent effort turned in by the Illini. Each team had three players in double figures in scoring, but no one scored more than the 16 points by Iowa senior Val Barnes. Illinois was paced by the 13 points of Andy Kaufmann and the 12 by Richard Keene, all on three-point shots.

ILLINOIS VS. LONG BEACH STATE

March 18, 1993, Huntsman Center, Salt Lake City, Utah
(NCAA First Round)

ILLINOIS 75, LONG BEACH STATE 72

The Fighting Illini survived a scoreless first half by senior forward Andy Kaufmann and a 27-point performance by the 49ers' Lucious Harris to win their first postseason tournament game since the 89-86 NCAA regional final victory over Syracuse in Minneapolis March 26, 1989. The Illini, who shot just 43 percent from the field in the first half against Long Beach, trailed by as many as seven points before moving within one at the intermission. It was Illinois' 22-9 dominance under the boards in the first half that kept the game close. The Fighting Illini outshot LBSU 58 percent to 50 percent in the second period, but couldn't shake the 49ers. Finally, a steal by Richard Keene, two driving layups by Rennie Clemons and a missed trey by Long Beach's Harris at the buzzer sent Lou Henson's forces to a second-round matchup with Vanderbilt.

ILLINOIS VS. VANDERBILT

March 20, 1993, Huntsman Center, Salt Lake City, Utah
(NCAA Second Round)

VANDERBILT 85, ILLINOIS 68

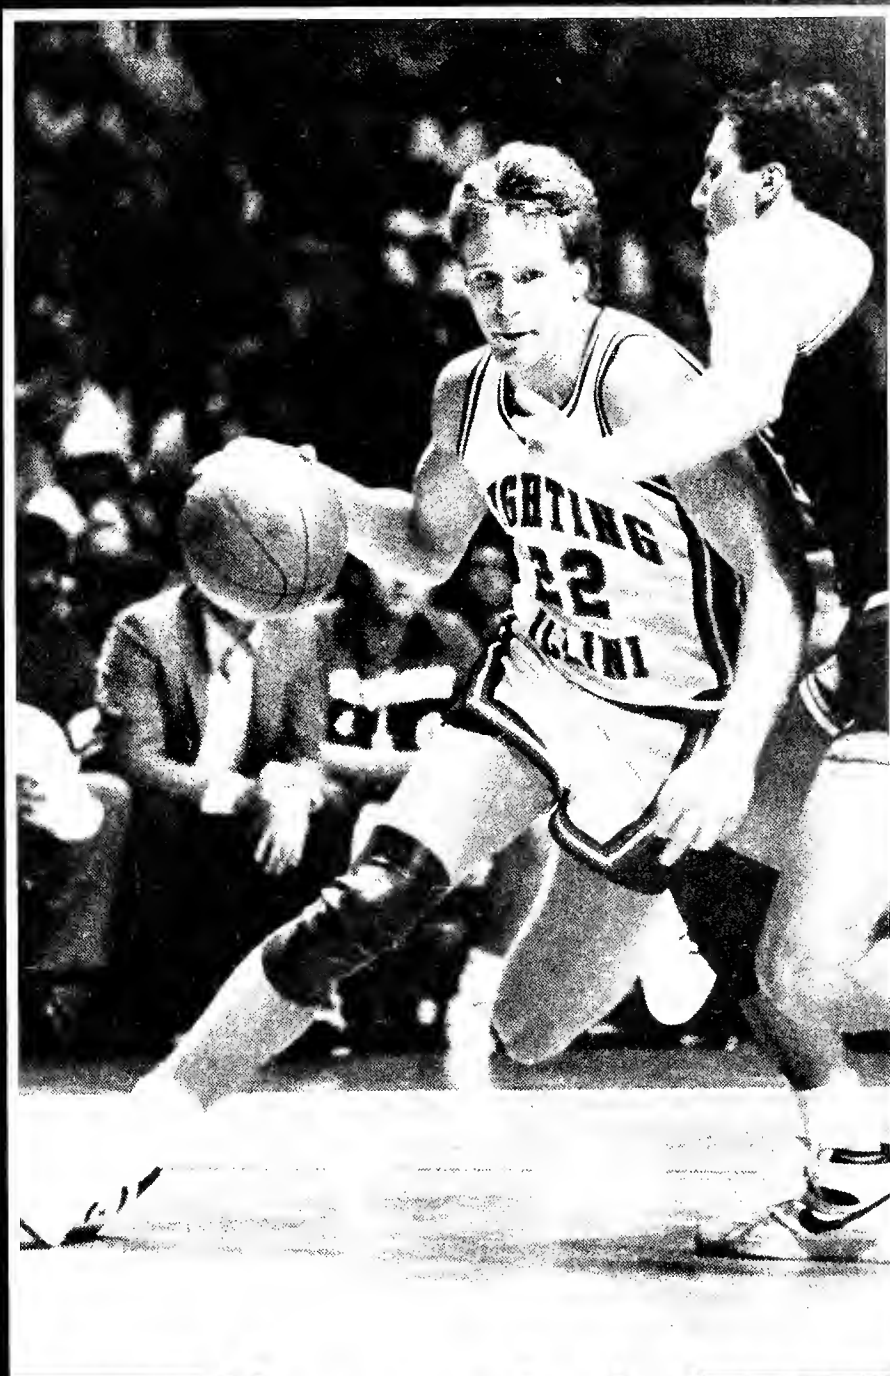

When these two teams first met in the second round of the Great Alaska Shootout in November, the Illini were without point guard Rennie Clemons, but outshot the Commodores, .636 to .484, and outrebounded them, 38-22, on the way to a 93-77 victory. But things were different by the time March rolled around. Vanderbilt had cruised to a 14-2 Southeastern Conference record, while the Fighting Illini struggled down the stretch of the regular season, losing three of their last four Big Ten games. Vanderbilt led the entire way in this contest, hitting 10 three-pointers and shooting 57 percent from the field, while holding the Illini to 46 percent shooting, including just 4-of-23 from beyond the three-point arc. Andy Kaufmann was held scoreless in the first half and managed a total of just five points in this his final game as a collegian.

ALL-TIME GAME-BY-GAME SCORES

(note: all Big Ten Conference games in bold; also Big Ten record in bold; Illinois score listed on left)

Elwood Brown

1 year
(6-8)

Leo Hana was put in charge of building the basketball program at Illinois after a women's program had existed for years. A team, led by its playing captain Roy Riley, beat Champaign High School Jan. 6, two weeks before Hana was able to replace Riley with a "professional" coach. Elwood Brown became Illinois' first basketball coach Jan. 20, 1906, and proceeded to turn in a commendable coaching job, especially since the squad lost two of its mainstays during the season. "The results of the season were on the whole satisfactory. In the future, there will not be such a lack of material as hampered the coach (Brown) this season," wrote the 1907 Illio.

F. L. Pinckney

1 year
(1-10)

Pinckney took over the coaching reins for a year in 1907. There was promise for a good season after the solid start the program had made in 1906. More than 100 men tried out for the team.

Pinckney found at least three freshman he thought would help the team and placed them on the varsity squad. However, the Western Conference Committee declared the three ineligible, leaving Pinckney with a much depleted team and Illinois with its worst record ever. The decision to make the freshmen ineligible gave Pinckney the same problem Brown faced the year before - turning out a winning team with limited talent.

Fletcher Lane

1 year
(20-6)

Fletcher Lane's all-time best winning percentage among Illinois coaches is misleading, since he only coached for one year. His 20-6 team of 1908 benefited from a long Southern trip in which the team beat several YMCA and club teams from Tennessee, Texas, Alabama, and Georgia. The club was billed as a closely-knit group, due in part to the long trip. The players, however, did not appear to appreciate Lane's coaching style. M.G. Dadant, the 1908 captain wrote, "Handicapped as they were by the lack of any competent coaching, the players went through the season in perfect harmony, each one relinquishing any personal feelings that the team might be better as a whole."

H. V. Juul

2 years
(12-10)

H. V. Juul became the first Illinois basketball coach to stay for more than one year. He also became the first former Fighting Illini player to head the Illinois basketball program and was captain of the 1907 squad. After leading Illinois to a 12-10 record over two years, he departed to become a professional baseball player, enjoying stints with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. Juul was the son of a former Illinois Congressman and, prior to his death in 1928, was a committeeman in the 35th Ward in Chicago as well as was campaign director for the Republican Party headquarters at the Morrisson Hotel in Chicago.

T. E. Thompson

2 years (14-14)

T. E. Thompson also had a two-year career as head basketball coach at Illinois, compiling a 14-14 record. Thompson claimed, at the time, to be the only player in Western Conference history to have played five years of collegiate basketball. He was at Northwestern for one year before playing at Illinois for four additional seasons. In addition to his duties as basketball coach at Illinois in 1911-12, he also served as Athletic Director George Huff's only assistant in the athletic department, doubling as the school's general manager of athletics and as ticket manager. After leaving the university, he founded The Thomas Thompson Company in Highland Park, Ill., a manufacturer of enamel products.

Ralph Jones

After arriving at Illinois from Purdue, Ralph Jones left an impressive legacy behind in Champaign. Besides coaching freshman football and baseball during his tenure at Illinois, he was credited by some with originating the fast break in basketball. After leading the Fighting Illini to one outright crown and the sharing of one other conference championship, Jones left to coach at Wabash and eventually Lake Forest Academy. In addition, Jones was head coach of the Chicago Bears from 1930-33, where, among other achievements, he was credited with the revival of the T-formation, and the use of a man in motion to throw the defense off.

Frank Winters2 years
(25-12)

While in his two-year stint as coach of the Illinois basketball team, Frank Winters was faced with having only a handful of veteran players available and was forced into installing an entirely new system of play. His 25-12 record in two years was a testament to the way Winters made negatives into positives. Upon arriving as head coach in the fall of 1920, he inherited a team whose best player, Chuck Carney, had just severely injured his knee in the last football game. Nonetheless, the team went on to an 11-7 record and improved to 14-5 in the 1922 campaign.

J. Craig Ruby14 years
(148-97)

J. Craig Ruby was known as one of the great basketball tacticians of his time. He and legendary Kansas coach Phog Allen actively campaigned together for higher baskets to offset the advantage of tall centers. Ruby alone advocated the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling, and wanted the hoop enlarged to 20 inches in diameter rather than the standard 18. Ruby's second season at Illinois produced a tie for the Big Ten championship in 1924, but it was not until 1935 that he could lead his team to tie for top conference honors again.

Douglas R. Mills

11 years
(1951-66)

Doug Mills was not only an extremely successful basketball coach at Illinois, but one of the University's most prolific and long-standing administrators. He began his association with Fighting Illini athletics as a standout in both football and basketball. He starred in the backfield for legendary football coach Robert Zuppke from 1927-29 and helped the Illini win the national championships in '29. He also lettered for J. Craig Ruby's basketball squads from 1928-30. Mills became the first Illinois head basketball coach to lead his squad to three Big Ten crowns. Also included in his 11-year coaching tenure was the formation of the legendary "Whiz Kids" team of 1942 and '43. That team won back-to-back Big Ten crowns and captured the imagination of the entire nation with his high-speed brand of basketball. After retiring from the coaching ranks in 1947, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Harry Combes

20 years
(316-150)

Harry Combes only had to move across town after accepting the job as head coach at Illinois.

Prior to joining the Illini, he had been head coach at Champaign High School where he posted an astounding 254-46 record, including winning the state title in 1946. Once at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles in his first five seasons ('49, '51 and '52). It was also Combes who led the Fighting Illini to three third-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament in the four-year period from 1949-52.

The squad won 79 of the 100 games during those four years. Illinois' 1952 Final Four appearance was the first officially recognized Final Four and the only Final Four appearance Illinois made until 1989. Until Lou Henson broke the record in 1990, Combes' 316 wins were the most wins ever by an Illinois head basketball coach. His 20 years as Illinois mentor still ranks as the longest coaching tenure in Illinois basketball history.

Harv Schmidt

7 years
(89-77)

Harv Schmidt, a former all-time great player at Illinois, returned to his alma mater in 1968 after serving as an assistant at New Mexico for three years. Within three years of his arrival, he had brought Illinois back to among the elite programs in the Big Ten. The beginning of his tenure marked what possibly was the high-water mark in fan enthusiasm. Illinois led the nation in attendance in 1970, averaging 16,128 per home contest, as students routinely camped out for tickets outside the newly opened, state-of-the-art Assembly Hall.

Gene Bartow

1 year
(8-18)

Brought to Illinois to continue the magical rebuilding jobs he had undertaken at Valparaiso and Memphis State, Gene Bartow was counted on by Athletic Director Cecil Coleman to restore the successful level of play fans had become accustomed to in the past few decades. However, Bartow's stay in Champaign was short-lived, lasting only one year and producing an 8-18 record. The lure away from Illinois was a strong one for Bartow; he was hired away by UCLA to replace legendary Bruin coach John Wooden.

Lou Henson

(369-188)

Lou Henson, the all-time winningest coach in Illinois basketball history, currently ranks No. 6 on the all-time active coaching list for wins with 609. Upon arriving in Champaign, he resurrected the Illinois program to where it once stood and in the ensuing years, brought Illinois basketball to heights never attained before. Illinois has become a national power under Henson, being selected to the NCAA tournament ten times in all, including eight times during the 1980s. The highlight of the postseason competition came in 1989 when the spectacular Flying Illini team won a school-record 31 contests and was narrowly defeated by Michigan in a national semifinal game in Seattle. Henson's Illini were also seeded among the top four in their regional for six consecutive years (1984-89) for the second-longest such streak (next to North Carolina) ever. Illinois finished in the upper division in the Big Ten nine consecutive seasons (1983-91), and had 11 straight years of producing a plus-.500 Big Ten record from 1981 to 1991, the fifth-longest streak of that kind in Big Ten history.

THE HISTORY OF ILLINOIS BASKETBALL

When representatives of the University of Illinois met Dec. 2, 1905, along with officials of six other schools, not only was the Big Ten Conference formed, Illinois basketball was also born.

Since then, the Fighting Illini program has grown to national prominence, gaining a place among the country's elite basketball programs. In the ensuing 87 seasons, Illinois has been at the forefront of the Big Ten conference, as well as the national college basketball world. In those 88 seasons, Illinois has produced a 1244-688 record, one of the top-20 win totals in the nation. Its .576 all-time winning percentage in Big Ten games is among the best in the conference.

The job of head basketball coach at Illinois has been a model of consistency throughout the 88 years. Only 13 men have served in the position, and there have only been six head coaches since 1923.

The inaugural 1906 team was coached by Elwood Brown and finished 6-8, 2-6 in conference. The first game in Illinois' basketball history was a 71-4 romp over Champaign High School in Urbana. Brown left after one season and was replaced by F.L. Pinckney. That 1907 season would turn out to be the worst season in Illinois basketball history. Pinckney guided the Fighting Illini to a 1-10 record, with a 0-8 conference record. The one victory marks the least wins ever by an Illinois team, and the winless conference record has also never been repeated. Among the lowlights was a 42-3 loss to Minnesota, marking the fewest points ever scored by an Illinois basketball team.

With no place to go but up, the Illinois program welcomed its third head coach in three years when Fletcher Lane took over and guided Illinois to its biggest one-year turnaround in history. He posted a 20-6 record, 4-4 in conference play. Lane also left Illinois after his first and only season. He departed as the Fighting Illini's all-time leader in winning percentage at .769.

Herb V. Juul took over for Lane and became the first Illinois coach to stay in Champaign for more than one year. His two-year record was 13-10 overall, and 10-10 in conference, good for fourth-place finishes both years.

T.E. Thompson took over for Juul in 1911 and also stayed two seasons, finishing his career 14-14 overall, 10-13 in conference, good for fourth and fifth places respectively.

The next eight years, from 1913-20, marked the first prolonged period of success in Illinois basketball history. Much of the success was due to head coach Ralph Jones,

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois' first and only team to go undefeated. Ralph Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

who had only one losing season during his eight years as head coach. He finished with an 85-34 record.

Illinois' best conference record to that point occurred in 1914, when the Fighting Illini went 7-3 in the Big Ten and 9-4 overall. That year set the stage for the 1915 season, arguably the best Illinois team ever.

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois' first and only team to go undefeated. Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

The arrival of the Woods brothers in 1915 had a lot to do with the success of this era. Guard Ray was named first team All-America all three years he competed (1915-17), and brother Ralf, a forward, led the team in scoring in both 1916 and 1917. His brilliance at the foul line led to the establishment of the Ralf Woods Award, which is still given annually to the Fighting Illini player with the best free-throw percentage.

Led by the Woods brothers, the 1916 team fell short of capturing another conference championship. The squad lost only three games, but all were in within the conference. Illinois finished 13-3 overall, 9-3 in the conference. Two losses to Northwestern and a loss to eventual champion Wisconsin dropped Illinois into a second-place tie with the Wildcats. Among those two losses to Northwestern was Illinois' first-ever overtime game. Northwestern scored just two points in the overtime period to defeat Illinois, 23-21, Feb. 12, 1916, at what is now the Kenney Gym Annex.

The 1917 season would bring Jones his second and last Big 9 championship, this time tying with Minnesota for top honors. The 1917 team also featured a starting guard named George Halas. The professional football pioneer and Chicago Bear owner and head coach was known on the team for his gritty defense and would be named captain of the 1918 team before entering the armed forces January 18, 1918.

Frank Winters took over the head coaching duties in 1921 and would only stay at that post for two years. His 25-12 overall career record would yield two fourth-place ties in conference play.

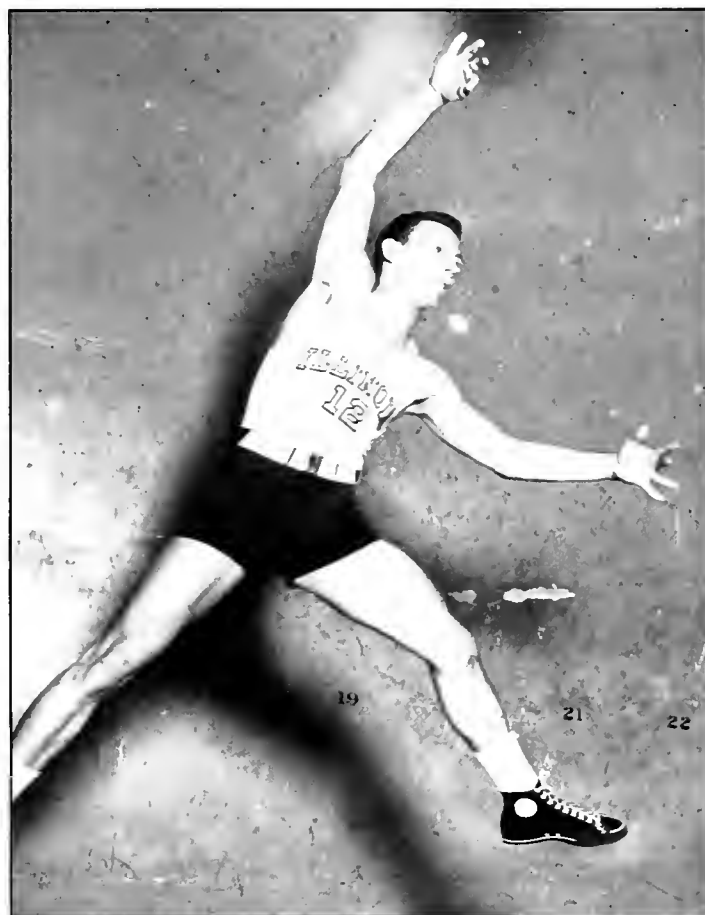

To replace Winters, Athletic Director George Huff looked to J. Craig Ruby, who had just completed his first year as head coach of Missouri. Known as one of the great tacticians of his time, Ruby favored a number of revolutionary rules change proposals, including advocating the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling.

Ruby's first three seasons at Illinois produced three very good teams, which went 30-18 overall and tied for the conference title in 1924. After Ruby's first three years at Illinois his coaching magic wore off for almost a decade. It wouldn't be until 1935 that the Fighting Illini would finish in the top three spots in the conference again.

The 1934 team set the stage for the 1935 championship team when it posted a 13-6 overall mark and 7-5 conference record, good for fourth place. The only non-conference loss that season was a stunning 22-21 opening-game loss to St. Louis at newly-opened Huff Gym.

The 1935 squad got off to a busy start. A season-opening double-header at Huff Gym before 6,205 fans Dec. 10 left Illinois at 1-1 to open the season. A young sophomore guard named Harry Combes scored the first points of the season and showed great speed. He would later become Illinois' head coach in 1948. The squad was only 5-3 after eight Big Ten games, but rallied to win its last four contests to tie Purdue and Wisconsin for the title.

In 1936, Ruby's last Illinois team was 13-6 overall and 7-5 (and tied for third) in the conference. Combes, Harry Combes starred for the Illini in 1935 and later went on to coach the team.

Jim Vopicka, and Robert Riegel combined to score more than half of Illinois' points that year.

The man chosen to replace Ruby was Douglas Mills. He became one of Illinois' most successful coaches and administrators as well. In his 11-year tenure as head coach, Mills became the first Fighting Illini head coach to win or share three Big Ten championships.

Mills' Illinois coaching career began in stellar fashion in 1937 with a tie for the Big Ten championship. With Combes, Riegel, and Vopicka back, Illinois had much of its firepower returning. Future major league baseball hall of famer Lou Boudreau made the biggest impact, however, leading the team in scoring.

The 1938 season proved to be a tough year with the departure of many stars. Boudreau was still the leader and was named first team All-America by Madison Square Garden. In the four years after the championship of '37, the best finish Illinois could muster would be third in 1939 and a tie for third-place in 1941.

In 1941, Art Mathisen arrived in Champaign in what would precede the magical years of 1942 and 1943. Mills also took over as athletic director that year.

Joining Mathisen in 1942 to form "The Whiz Kids" were Jack Smiley, Andy Phillip, Gene Vance, and Ken Menke. The teams of '42 and '43 captured the imagination of the entire nation, and to this day The Whiz Kids remain one of the most storied teams in Illinois history. The Kids dazzled crowds everywhere averaging 58 points per game, while most teams were averaging in the low 40s.

Illinois won back-to-back Big Ten crowns in '42 and '43. In 1943, the Fighting Illini went 12-0 in conference play, 17-1 overall. The lone loss was to Camp Grant at Rockford Dec. 21. Mills played mostly subs because he felt it would be better for the team to lose a game at some time.

The team was broken up March 1, 1943, when all five starters headed to active duty in the armed forces. All but Mathisen went on to play professionally, with Phillip becoming Illinois' only member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

Mills faced a major rebuilding job after the Whiz Kids departed. The 1944 team fell from the class of the Big Ten to 11-9 overall and 5-7 in the conference, good for sixth-place.

Mills' last season as head basketball coach coincided with four of The Whiz Kids' return from military service. The largest home crowd in Illinois history, 7,785, jammed into Huff Gym to see their return Dec. 6, 1946. The Whiz Kids only played the first half, building up a 49-13 lead on Cornell College. Two losses beginning the Big Ten race got Illinois into a hole out from which the team could never climb. The Fighting Illini won eight of their last 10 games, but could only climb to a second-place tie.

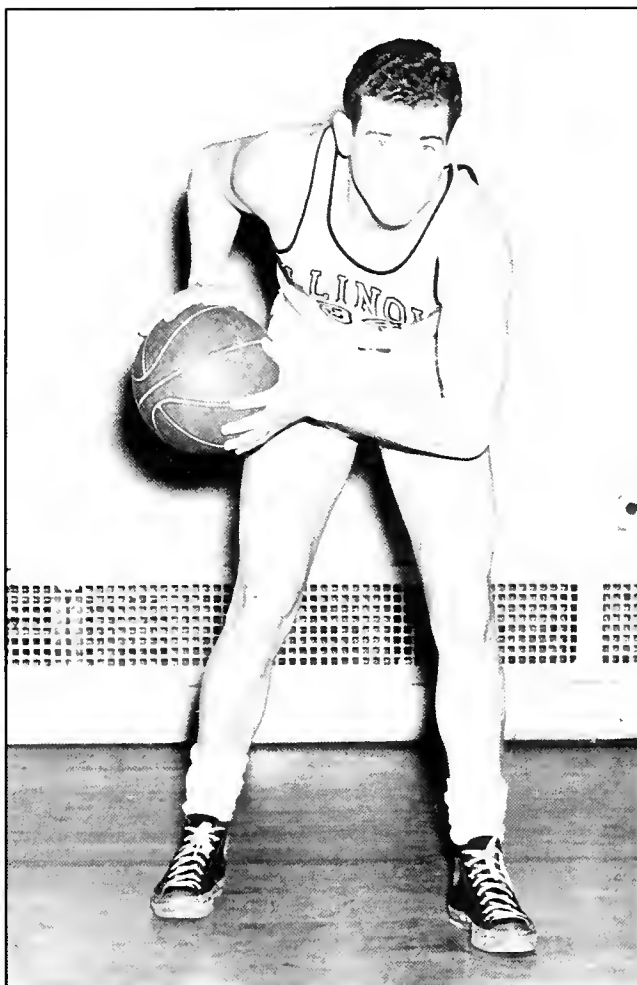

After retiring from coaching, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Illinois tabbed Harry Combes as Mills' replacement. Combes had been the head coach at Champaign High School. His success didn't end there. In his first nine seasons at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles and compiled an amazing record of 164-44 overall (.788) and 94-30 in the Big Ten (.758).

Combes' first team at Illinois, led by Dike Eddleman and Jack Burmaster, set a Big Ten scoring record with 1,530 points, en route to a 15-5 overall and 7-5 league finish.

The next four years would yield three Big Ten championships, and only 10 conference losses. In 1949, 1951, and 1952 Illinois would finish third in the NCAA, with the latter two clubs losing two-point decisions in the semifinals.

The 1949 team, led by Eddleman, Bill Erickson, and Walter Osterkorn, was Illinois' first 20-game winner since 1908, finishing 21-4. Illinois beat Yale, 71-67, to advance to a national semifinal showdown with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Wildcats thumped Illinois, 76-47, forcing Illinois to defeat Oregon State, 57-53, in Seattle for third place.

A record for games won in a season was established in 1951, when Illinois went 22-5, including a dominating 13-1 in Big Ten play. Senior Don Sunderlage scored the most points by an Illinois player in a single-season netting 471 points, a 17.4 average. Illinois lost its only conference game at Indiana Jan. 15, 64-53, temporarily putting Illinois into second place. The Fighting Illini would win their next 10 games to beat out Indiana in the final standings by one game.

Illinois again traveled to Madison Square Garden for the NCAA playoffs, beating Columbia, 79-71, and North Carolina State, 84-70, to set up another semifinal battle with Kentucky. In one of the most heart-breaking losses in Illinois basketball history, Kentucky nipped the Fighting Illini, 76-74, on a shot by Kentucky sub Shelby Linville with 12 seconds remaining in the game. Illinois once again rebounded for third place three days later, beating Oklahoma A&M, 61-46, in Minneapolis.

The biggest story of 1952 was the emergence of newcomer John Kerr, a center from Tilden Tech in Chicago. Kerr began his three-year reign atop the Illinois scoring lead with a sophomore-record 357 points. Illinois again swept to the Big Ten championship and equalled the school record for wins in a season, this time going 22-4.

The Fighting Illini headed to Chicago Stadium for the NCAA regionals, beating Dayton, 80-61, and Duquesne, 74-68, to advance to the semifinals again. This time, Illinois ran into an underdog St. John's club. The Redmen fought and clawed their way to a 61-59 win in the NCAA's first Final Four in Seattle. Once again, Illinois took third-place beating Santa Clara, 67-64, behind 26 points by Kerr.

The next four years characterized a series of near-misses for Illinois, which finished second in the Big Ten in '53, '55, and '56, and tied for third in '54.

Illinois' 10-4 conference mark in '54 was only good for a tie for third, but Kerr shattered Illinois' single-season scoring record by tallying 556 points in his senior year. He then departed on a 12-year pro career and became the first head coach of the Chicago Bulls in 1966.

The 1963 season produced Combes' fourth and last Big Ten championship and 20-win season, when it posted a 20-6, 11-3 record. Downey exploded for an Illinois single-game scoring record with 53 points in a road loss to Indiana, as well as set the Big Ten records for points and field goals in a game.

Illinois was a game back of first place with only two remaining when the Assembly Hall opened its doors for the first time March 4, 1963. Illinois beat Northwestern in an exciting 79-73 nail-biter before 16,137 frenzied fans to stay within a game of first-place Ohio State. Even after Illinois edged Iowa, 73-69, on the last game of the season, the Fighting Illini would need an overtime loss two hours later by the Buckeyes at the hands of Indiana to grab a share of the conference title.

Illinois then headed to East Lansing, Mich., for the NCAA playoffs. After beating Bowling Green, 70-67, Illinois was thumped by eventual national champion Loyola, 79-64.

The 1965 season began with one of the biggest up-sets in Illinois basketball history. The Fighting Illini crushed defending national champion UCLA, 110-83, setting many Assembly Hall records. Combes would later call the game, "one of the best an Illinois team has ever played."

Combes' last season in 1967 was one of incredible ups and downs, highlighted on the court by a stunning, 98-97, overtime win over No. 3 Kentucky in Lexington Dec. 8. That year also included the uncovering of the "slush fund" scandal. Three Illinois players were disqualified as a result of the incident that eventually cost Combes his job.

Star Rich Jones, junior center Ron Dunlap, and valuable sophomore sub Steve Kuberski were suspended by the University of Illinois in the wake of the Big Ten investigation into illegal payments to the players.

Harv Schmidt, who played for the Illini in the 1950s, returned to Illinois to become head coach in 1968. Schmidt had been an assistant at New Mexico the three previous years but had no collegiate head coaching experience. His seven year-tenure began with much more success than that with which it would end.

The 1968 team was still stinging from the previous year and posted only Illinois' sixth losing season in history, going 11-13 overall and 6-8 in the Big Ten to tie for seventh place. The team won four of its first conference games, but lost seven of its last nine.

With the team's top five scorers returning, the Fighting Illini were expected to be better in 1970, but even Schmidt was surprised at the huge improvement that occurred. The club jumped to a 19-5, 9-5 record finishing tied for second in the conference. The performance earned Schmidt third place in National Coach of the Year balloting.

The 1970 team still finished tied for third place in the Big Ten, but its record fell to 15-9. Illinois began the conference schedule 5-0 to move into sole possession of first place at the semester break. However, the team would lose the next the five games to wipe out any chance of a conference title. That season Illinois set an NCAA attendance record, selling out all 11 home games in advance for an average of 16,128 fans per game. Students frequently camped out for tickets, and Schmidt encouraged the louder students to sit near the floor to help make more noise.

After 1970, things went downhill for Schmidt. Crowds shrunk, the state's best high school players began going elsewhere, the team lost more than it had in the past, and eventually the NCAA would put Illinois on probation.

The 1971 team became Schmidt's second team in four years to finish below .500 at 11-13, 5-9. The most pleasant aspect of 1971 was the arrival of forward Nick Weatherspoon from Canton, Ohio, who stepped right into the starting lineup to lead the team in rebounds. "Spoon" would go on to lead the team in scoring and rebounding the next two years before playing eight seasons in the NBA.

Nick Weatherspoon led the Fighting Illini in scoring and rebounding in 1971 and 1972.

The 1974 season was a disaster. Illinois finished a dismal 5-18 overall and 2-12 in the Big Ten to tie for ninth place. Schmidt was fired in the midst of a record 11-game losing streak and wound up 89-77 overall in his seven years as head coach.

To replace Schmidt, Illinois looked to Memphis State head man Gene Bartow. He was building a reputation as a coach adept at building programs from the bottom up. Bartow came in promising big things, but only a year later he was gone, accepting the head coaching job at UCLA. In his only year at Illinois, he recorded an 8-18, 4-14 record, good for a tie for a ninth place in the Big Ten.

Illinois once again chose a coach known for turning losers into winners when it picked New Mexico State head coach Lou Henson. It took Henson a couple of years to establish his program in Champaign. The first three years were unspectacular, but paved the way for better teams to come.

The 1976 team finished 14-14 overall and 7-11 in the Big Ten. The '77 squad was 16-14, 8-10, and the 1978 team finished as Henson's only sub-.500 club (until 1991-92) at 13-14, 7-11. Despite the poor record, the 1978 team signaled the arrival of Eddie Johnson and Mark Smith, two players who would lead the team into the 1980s and pave the way for Illinois' return to national prominence.

In 1979, Illinois still finished seventh in the Big Ten but went 19-11, including an ascension to No. 2 in the nation after starting the year 15-0. Although the Fighting Illini went 4-11 from that point on, they still led the nation in defensive field goal percentage (.404).

With everyone back for 1980, Illinois recorded Henson's first 20-win season at 22-13 to tie the school record for wins in a season. Illinois made its first post-season appearance since 1963, finishing third in the NIT.

Illinois took another step on its ladder toward the national spotlight in 1981 when it appeared in its first NCAA Tournament since 1963. The Fighting Illini led the Big Ten in scoring for the second consecutive season and were again led by Johnson and Smith. Guards Craig Tucker and Derek Harper arrived to add backcourt punch, and Harper was named first-team Freshman All-America by ESPN and NBC.

In 1981, Illinois recorded its highest conference finish since 1973, finishing with a 12-6 Big Ten mark and a 21-8 overall record. That team was the best shooting team in Fighting Illini history with a .509 field goal percentage. The squad received a first-round bye in the NCAA Tournament and beat Wyoming, 67-65, in Los Angeles to advance to the regionals in Salt Lake City, where the Illini lost to Kansas State, 57-52.

In 1983, Harper led the Big Ten in assists and steals, setting a school record for thefts with 67. By finishing 18-11 and getting another invitation to the NIT, it marked the first time in history that the Fighting Illini appeared in postseason play for three consecutive years. In smashing Long Island, 126-78, in the first round, Illinois set the mark for most points ever scored in a college postseason game. Dayton, however, beat Illinois, 61-58, for Henson's fourth non-conference loss at Assembly Hall in seven years.

One of Illinois' best groups of incoming talent ever arrived in 1983. Guards Bruce Douglas and Doug Altenberger, and forwards Scott Mcnents and Efrim Winters joined sophomores George Montgomery and Anthony Welch to form the nucleus for a team that would win 95 games during the next four seasons.

The Fighting Illini became the 25th team to win 1,000 games in the second game of the year, beating Texas A&M in the Great Alaskan Shootout, 72-70. Harper fell one vote short of being named a unanimous All-Big Ten selection, before leaving school early for the NBA draft and becoming a first-round draft pick of the Dallas Mavericks. Douglas set school records for assists (189) and steals (78) in a season, as Illinois finished 21-11 and was beaten by Utah in the first round of the NCAA tournament, 52-49.

The only non-conference blemish of the '84 season was a thrilling 56-54 Christmas Eve loss to No. 1-ranked Kentucky at the Assembly Hall.

En route to a Big Ten title tie with Purdue, Illinois had four overtime games, one of which—a 75-66 win over Michigan—lasted an astounding four overtimes. The next game, a double-overtime win at Iowa, was Henson's 400th as a college coach.

Illinois headed to Milwaukee to beat Villanova in the NCAA tournament, 64-56. The Fighting Illini came from behind to defeat Maryland, 72-70, in the regional semifinals to set up a showdown with host Kentucky in the regional final. Illinois never led, but was within striking distance when a controversial foul called on Douglas put Wildcat guard Dickie Beal on the line to win the game, 54-50.

In 1985, Basketball Times picked Illinois No. 1 nationally in its preseason poll, but the Fighting Illini were upset twice in non-conference play. Illinois would head to Atlanta for the NCAA tournament after finishing second in the Big Ten with a 26-9, 12-6 record. Two wins over Northeastern (76-57) and Georgia (74-58) brought about a regional semifinal tilt with Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets used a 25-10 burst to begin the second half and beat Illinois, 61-53.

Illinois' 1988-89 team set a school record for victories in a season with 31 and advanced to the NCAA Final Four.

Junior-college transfer Ken Norman highlighted the '86 season, setting an Illinois all-time field goal percentage of .641. The Fighting Illini once again led the Big Ten in scoring defense, allowing opponents only 61.6 ppg. Again, Illinois went to the NCAA tournament, this time thrashing Fairfield, 75-51, in Charlotte, N.C., to set up a game with Alabama. The Crimson Tide built a nine-point lead at halftime and was able to hold off Illinois, 58-56, led 18 points from junior guard Tony Wysinger.

With four four-year starters gone, Illinois had to replenish its troops and did so with an outstanding group of newcomers. Guards Steve Bardo, Kendall Gill, and Larry Smith joined forward Nick Anderson in a highly-touted recruiting class. The '87 team finished 23-8 overall and 13-5 in the Big Ten, good for fourth-place. Seeded third in the NCAA's Southeast Region, Illinois was beaten in arguably the school's most shocking upset ever, losing to unknown Austin Peay, 68-67.

Two first-year players led Illinois in scoring in 1988. Northern Illinois transfer Kenny Battle finally got to unveil his high-flying game for the Fighting Illini and averaged 15.6 ppg and 5.5 rpg. Anderson led the team in scoring at 15.9 ppg after sitting out the '87 season. Along with Gill, Bardo, junior forward Lowell Hamilton, and Smith, this team would lay the foundation for the spectacular '89 team. Included in the 23-10, 12-6, third-place finish was Henson's 500th victory.

Cincinnati was the site of the opening round of the 1988 NCAA Tournament, and Illinois disposed of another relative-unknown, Texas-San Antonio, 81-72. A rematch with Villanova, to whom Illinois lost in Hawaii earlier in the year, ended with disappointment again, 66-63.

The 1989 team may very well have been the most talented team ever assembled at Illinois. It was comprised of all of the important pieces from '88, as well as junior-college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

The team shattered most of its all-time records, including most points in a season (3,110), most steals in a season (341), and most wins in a season (31), in addition to setting an all-time mark for points in a game in a 127-100 victory at LSU. The Fighting Illini won their first 16 games and were ranked No. 2 in the nation going into a nationally televised game against Georgia Tech, whom Illinois had already beaten, 80-75, at The Rainbow Classic in December. The Yellow Jackets led, 47-31, after scoring the first basket of the second half, but Illinois managed to surge back to force overtime, eventually needing two extra sessions to win the game.

Along with the No. 1 ranking the next day, Illinois found out that the club's catalyst, Gill, had broken a bone in his foot and would miss the next 12 games. Hurt by the loss of Gill, the team lost the No. 1 ranking and three of its next four games, but rallied to finish second in the Big Ten with a 14-4 conference record.

With Gill back in the lineup, Illinois was awarded the No. 1 seed in the Midwest region in the NCAA tournament and rolled to victories over McNeese State and Ball State at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis. A power-packed regional in Minneapolis, consisting of Illinois, Missouri, Louisville, and Syracuse, stood in the way of the Fighting Illini's first trip to the Final Four since 1952. Louisville fell victim to Illinois first, losing, 83-69, to set up a duel with Syracuse. The Fighting Illini held off the Orangemen to advance to Seattle where Illinois faced Michigan, a team it had already beaten twice that year. Despite Battle's 29-point, 11-rebound effort, Michigan defeated Illinois, 83-81.

In April of '89, high school All-America Deon Thomas signed a national letter of intent with Illinois. In the ensuing 17 months, Illinois was dragged through a grueling NCAA investigation which eventually found no major wrong doings in the Fighting Illini program, but resulted in a three-year probation limiting scholarships and recruiting severely.

On the court, Fighting Illini went 21-8 overall and 11-7 in the Big Ten to tie for fourth place. Gill became the first player since Norman in '87 to average 20 ppg and was named first-team All-America by UPI. He was also a finalist for the John Wooden Award and was the fifth player chosen in the NBA draft that summer, going to the Charlotte Hornets.

Illinois seemed to be peaking going into the NCAA tournament, winning its last two games, a home dousing of Iowa, and a hard-fought win at Indiana, in which Gill became the first Illinois player to lead the Big Ten in scoring since Andy Phillip had done so in 1943. The Fighting Illini were seeded fifth in the Midwest region and headed to Austin, Texas, to face Dayton. In another big postseason upset, the Flyers stayed with Illinois the entire way and won, 88-86.

Going into the 1991 season no one expected much of Illinois. After losing Gill, Bardo, and Liberty, who declared himself eligible for the NBA draft a year early, Illinois was picked as low as ninth in the Big Ten by some publications.

Junior forward Andy Kaufmann burst upon the scene scoring 660 points, the second largest single-season total in Illinois history. A three-game sweep of favored opponents LSU, Missouri, and Memphis State set the stage for the Fighting Illini's surprise tie for third in the Big Ten and a 21-10 overall finish. Thomas began his career, after sitting out 1990, scoring the most points ever by an Illinois freshman.

The 1989 team may very well have been the most talented team ever assembled at Illinois. It was comprised of all of the important pieces from '88, as well as junior-college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

In 1991-92, the Fighting Illini took the court without a senior letterman for the first time in more than 50 years and saw their record dip below .500 for the first time since 1977-78 and only the second time in the Lou Henson era. Andy Kaufmann, the leading scorer from the previous year, had to sit out the entire year with academic problems, which only added to the Illini's woes.

The Illini's string of consecutive upper-division Big Ten finishes was snapped at nine as was their string of 20-plus victory seasons. Illinois' streak of plus-.500 Big Ten records also came to an end, at 11.

The return of Andy Kaufmann marked yet another turn-around for Illinois. After sitting out a season, Kaufmann helped lead the 1992-93 team to a 19-13 record. The team also notched its first NCAA-tournament victory since the 1989 "Flying Illini" visited the Final Four.

Kendall Gill earned first-team All-America honors in 1990 after leading the Big Ten in scoring as a senior.

Big Ten Medal of Honor

In 1914, the Big Ten Conference endowed a Medal of Honor, to be awarded annually at each institution to the student demonstrating proficiency in scholarship and academics. Beginning in 1982, a woman athlete from each institution has also been awarded the Conference Medal of Honor.

In the 76-year history of the award, 14 Fighting Illini basketball players have earned the award, including Edward A. Williford, the University of Illinois' first recipient of the award. There has been one father-son UI Medal of Honor duo, Lee Sentman (track) in 1931 and his son Lee Sentman III (fencing) in 1958. Gymnast Howard Beck (1974 and 1975) is the only two-time recipient of the award.

The following is the list of Illinois basketball players who have won the Big Ten Medal of Honor:

Illinois Wooden Award Nominees

The John R. Wooden Award, first awarded in 1976, is presented annually to an outstanding basketball player. The award, named after the famous UCLA coach, is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Twelve candidates are selected by the club's National Advisory Board, according to the award's criteria, which includes a 2.0 cumulative grade point average. The winner is selected by votes from 1,000 sportscasters and writers from each of the 50 states.

- 1987 Ken Norman
1990 Kendall Gill

Kenny Battle Award

The Kenny Battle Award honors the former Fighting Illini forward who was known for his tremendous amount of effort exerted in games, as well as practices. The winner is chosen by the players and the coaches.

- 1989 Kendall Gill
1990 P. J. Bowman
1991 Andy Kpedi
1992 Rennie Clemons

MEDIA INFORMATION

The University of Illinois Sports Information Office is pleased to present this preseason publication on the 1993-94 Fighting Illini men's basketball team. We hope that it will answer most of your questions. This guide will be supplemented with weekly materials throughout the entire 1993-94 season. Please take a moment to review the following media-related information. As always, if I or my staff can be of further service, please call the UI Sports Information Office at 217/333-1391.

Sports Information Director

University of Illinois

ASSEMBLY HALL & PRESS BOX

Entrance to Assembly Hall & Press Box — Properly credentialed media may enter the Assembly Hall through the "Press and Participants" door at the northeast lower entrance. Persons picking up credentials at the Assembly Hall will be required to furnish positive identification to the attendant. Media should proceed to room 123 where overcoats and personal items can be stored while the game is in progress. Media may also secure game programs, media guides and pregame information sheets. Please contact a member of the UI Sports Information staff if access to room 123 is needed during the game.

COURTSIDE PHOTOGRAPHY

All photographers should report to room 123 of the Assembly Hall upon their arrival to receive a photo armband, to be worn in addition to the credential. All photographers must work from within the designated areas around the perimeter of the playing court. The University of Illinois follows NCAA and Big Ten guidelines regarding event photography. In the event of heavy demand for photo credentials for a particular game, shooting locations will be assigned.

Strobes — Photographers wishing to use strobe equipment at Illinois home games must make their requests known to the Illinois Sports Information staff at least one week in advance of the game for which they are needed. There is a nominal charge for installation and/or use of such equipment. A maximum of two strobe units may be used for any individual game.

CREDENTIALS

Press Box All members of the media covering the game in a working capacity must seek appropriate credentials in advance from Mike Pearson, UI Sports Information Director. We would appreciate receiving these requests at least two weeks before the date of the game. Requests for working space in the press box, courtside photo passes and parking passes must be made on your affiliation's letterhead stationary. In the event of heavy demand for credentials for a particular game, requests will be prioritized according to published circulation numbers. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and children will not be permitted in the press box. Media agencies that violate this policy will not be issued credentials for future games.

Road-Game Credentials Media credential requests for Fighting Illini road games should be addressed to the Sports Information Director of the host institution. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed.

HOTEL ROOMS

The Sports Information Office has a limited number of rooms reserved in the Champaign-Urbana area. Please contact SID secretary Janice Revell at least one week in advance, and she will try to accommodate you.

PARKING

A limited number of complimentary parking passes for the northeast quadrant will be issued to media for 1993-94 Fighting Illini basketball games at the Assembly Hall. The issuance of passes will be done on a priority basis, with University of Illinois beat reporters holding the highest priority. Requests will then be prioritized according to published circulation figures. A replacement pass will not be issued if the original pass is lost. Media personnel are strongly encouraged to arrive at least 45 minutes prior to tipoff, and to enter the northeast lot from Fourth Street. Media will not be admitted into the lots free of charge without a parking pass. Every attempt will be made to provide accredited media with a complimentary parking pass, but the number of passes is limited.

PREGAME AND POSTGAME SERVICES

Play-by-play, halftime and complete final statistics, quote sheets, and pregame and postgame notes are all regular services on game day. Postgame information will be distributed to media at their position in the press box.

Postgame — Coach Lou Henson and selected UI players will be available approximately 10-15 minutes after the conclusion of the game, and will be brought to the Press Room (Room 123). The visiting coach and players are available, subject to their team's policy. Those interested in audio taping grouped interviews should connect their recorders to the distribution amplifier provided by Sports Information. Output from the device is microphone level, terminated in 1/8" two-conductor plugs and jacks, or three-pin standard microphone male connectors.

TELEPHONES

Telephone lines in the press box must be ordered at least one week in advance of the game(s) for which they are needed. The orders should be addressed to Tony Mangano of Illinois Bell (312/727-5194) during regular business hours. No telephone lines or instruments are available through the UI Sports Information Office. Four charge-a-call phones are located in the center section of Row 1 in the press box. In addition, a pay telephone is located on the lower concourse of the Assembly Hall, near the East entrance.

Media Procedure for Interviews with University of Illinois Coaches, Athletes and Administrators

To facilitate the schedules of Division of Intercollegiate Athletics' (DIA) coaches and administrators and to expedite media requests, the University of Illinois Sports Information Office encourages media personnel to arrange interview requests through the Sports Information staff. Whenever circumstances prevent media personnel the time or opportunity to follow this procedure, DIA coaches and administrators are encouraged to accommodate media requests. Coaches and administrators have the flexibility to establish and maintain relationships with media that accommodate their respective schedules. This interview procedure is designed to enhance the availability of DIA staff members to answer questions from the media at a time which best facilitates each individual's schedule. Telephone calls to the homes of DIA staff members from the media may be made upon consent of the individual coach or staff member.

Interview requests from the media for University of Illinois student-athletes should be arranged through the Sports Information Office. Media personnel are asked not to call the student-athlete at his residence.

In most situations, the most convenient opportunity for media interviews is following the team practice sessions. If this is not a convenient time for the media, return telephone calls from the athletes to the media will be arranged. The student-athletes' academic endeavors are of the utmost importance, and they will not be asked to miss classes for purposes of a media interview. In most situations, student-athletes are not available on the day of scheduled intercollegiate competition until after the event is completed.

For more information, call the Sports Information Office at (217) 333-1391.

BIG TEN'S "FAX-ON-DEMAND" SERVICE

Beginning with the 1993-94 school year, the Big Ten Conference has instituted the "Fax-on-Demand" service. This unique service allows media members 24-hour access to the latest Fighting Illini basketball media releases, updated statistics, and box scores.

Illini media releases will be available on the following dates and times during the season:

Monday, Nov. 29, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Dec. 6, by 11 a.m. CT
Tuesday, Dec. 14, by 11 a.m. CT
Thursday, Dec. 23, by 5 p.m. CT
Tuesday, Jan. 4, by 5 p.m. CT
Monday, Jan. 10, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Jan. 17, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Jan. 24, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Jan. 31, by 5 p.m. CT
Monday, Feb. 7, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Feb. 14, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Feb. 21, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Feb. 28, by 11 a.m. CT
Monday, Mar. 7, by 11 a.m. CT

Illini box scores will be available approximately 45 minutes following the conclusion of each game.

Updated Illini statistics will be available by 11 a.m. CT the morning after each game.

As is the case with the other 10 Big Ten Conference members, the University of Illinois will not be faxing its basketball releases to media personnel during the 1993-94 season. Media should use the "Fax-on-Demand" service. For more information, call either the UI Sports Information Office (217/333-1391) or the Big Ten Conference Communications Department (708/696-1010).

BROADCAST SERVICES

A special feature of the UI Sports Information office is the Broadcast Services division, coordinated by assistant SID Dave Johnson.

New in 1993-94 is a 10-minute weekly satellite feed, available every Monday (beginning Nov. 29) during the basketball season at 7:30 p.m. CT, via the Galaxy IV satellite, KU Band, Transponder 17-upper. There will not be satellite feeds on either Dec. 20 or 27. The "trouble number" at WCIA-TV's master control is 217/373-3675.

Three-quarter-inch video dubs of each of the last four seasons of Illini basketball games are available. A very limited selection of archive video tape prior to the 1989-90 season is also available. At least one day advance notice of your video request will be appreciated. Call either Dave Johnson or Sara Garman at 217/333-1391 for more information.

RADIO PROGRAMING

The "Illini Today" show airs Monday through Friday on each Illini Sports Network affiliate, and provides daily updates on UI athletics. "Classroom Champions" is a feature that airs at halftime of each basketball game and highlights the academic achievements of UI students.

LOU HENSON TV SHOW

This weekly 30-minute television program, hosted by Jim Turpin, station manager of WDWS Radio in Champaign, features game highlights and interviews with coaches, players and others involved in the Illinois basketball program. Viewers should consult their local listings for the days and times of the telecasts.

MEDIA LUNCHEONS & TELECONFERENCES

All media personnel who regularly cover Illinois basketball are invited to these bi-weekly sessions, held at the Assembly Hall. Coach Lou Henson is available for interviews, as are opposing coaches (by telephone hook-up). The luncheons get underway at 11:30 a.m. CT and conclude at 1 p.m. Henson will be available via teleconference each week during the season (11:45 a.m. CT). Call UI Sports Information for details regarding the teleconference.

FIGHTING ILLINI BASKETBALL NETWORK

The Fighting Illini Basketball Network, under the direction of Will Tieman and TBC Sports in Champaign, is comprised of 54 stations around the state of Illinois.

Jim Turpin serves as the play-by-play voice of Illini basketball, a role he's had for most of the past 35 years.

A 1961 graduate of the University of Illinois, Turpin is vice president and general manager of WDWS and WHMS Radio in Champaign. He also hosts "Lou Henson Live," the network's weekly state-wide radio call-in show with the coach of the Illini, and "The Lou Henson Show," a weekly television show. Turpin also serves as co-host of the popular Saturday Sportsline on WDWS/WHMS Radio.

He's a past winner of the Illinois Broadcasters Association's Silver Dome Award, given to down-state Illinois' best play-by-play broadcaster.

Loren Tate provides color analysis on Fighting Illini basketball radio broadcasts. Tate is the executive sports editor of the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette, having covered Illini football and basketball for that newspaper since 1966.

Prior to assuming his position with The News-Gazette, Tate served as sports editor of the Hammond Times for 11 years.

A 1953 University of Illinois graduate, Tate's career also includes extensive experience in the electronic media. He was sports director for WICD-TV from 1969-79. Currently, he co-hosts the Saturday Sportsline talk show with Turpin on WDWS/WHMS Radio.

Illinois Sports Information Staff

MIKE PEARSON

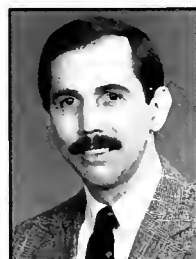

Mike Pearson began his fifth year as sports information director at the University of Illinois in 1993.

A 1975 graduate of Michigan State University, he earned a bachelor's degree in journalism while working as a student assistant in the MSU sports information office. Upon graduation, he joined Tab Bennett's sports publicity staff at Illinois as an assistant from 1975-79. Pearson then became athletic promotions director at Western Michigan University, serving in that capacity during the 1979-80 season. He rejoined his alma mater in 1980 as an assistant SID, continuing in that position until 1987, when he was promoted to MSU's assistant director of public relations for broadcast/marketing/photos.

Pearson, whose family includes wife Laura, sons Anthony and Thomas, and daughter Paige, hails from St. John's, Mich.

DICK BARNES

Dick Barnes is in his eighth year as a sports information assistant at Illinois. He came to UI from Parkland College in Champaign, where he served as the school's first SID from 1981-86.

A 1975 Illinois graduate in radio/television, Barnes worked with several radio stations in East Central Illinois before entering the sports information field.

Barnes, along with publications coordinator Julie Dalpiaz and graphic designer Robyn Loughran, received CoSIDA honors for the 1991-92 and 1992-93 Illinois basketball media guides, which were rated best in District V both years.

A native of the Cleveland, Ohio, area, Barnes lives in Urbana with his wife, Lynne, and his daughter, Jennifer.

KENT BROWN

Serving as an assistant sports information director is Kent Brown, now in his eighth year at Illinois and fifth as assistant director.

Brown, a former student assistant and graduate assistant in the UI sports information office, earned a B.S. in journalism from Illinois in 1987 and a M.S. in sports management from Illinois in 1989. He edited the 1988 football program, which was rated sixth in the nation and second in the district, and the 1988-89 basketball program, which was rated second in the nation and first in the district by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Brown and his wife, Robin, reside in Urbana.

DAVE JOHNSON

Dave Johnson is in his sixth year as an assistant sports information director, after joining the Illinois staff in 1988.

A native of Champaign, he earned his B.A. in speech communications from Illinois in 1986. He added an M.S. in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in Mobile, Ala., in 1987, earning recognition as the top graduate in his class.

Johnson was sports director at WILL-AM/FM radio from 1983-86 and served an internship in the public relations office of the NBA's Detroit Pistons in 1984. Johnson has received eight CoSIDA citations for publications excellence.

A resident of Champaign, Johnson and his wife, Laurie, have three children, Matthew, Jennifer, and Ashley.

JULIE DALPIAZ

Serving as coordinator of publications for the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since September of 1990 is Julie Dalpiaz.

Prior to accepting her current position, Dalpiaz was sports information director at John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio, from 1986-1990.

She began her career in sports publicity as a student at the University of Dayton.

Following her graduation from Dayton in 1984, Dalpiaz was a sportswriter for The News-Herald in Willoughby, Ohio. She earned her master's degree in sport administration from Kent State University in 1990.

Twenty-three of Dalpiaz' publications have won awards in CoSIDA competition including the 1992-93 Illinois men's basketball media guide, judged best in District V, and the 1991-92 men's basketball program series, judged third best in the nation.

Dalpiaz resides in Urbana.
